PLUVIUS WON'T STOP SOCCER ENGAGEMENTS

Old Jupitor J. Pluvius and his watering cart with which he has been soaking the island of Oahu for the past two weeks is not going to stop the Honolulu Soccer association, which is bent on staging its regular game between the Healanis and Palamas at 3 o'clock this afternoon at Moiliili field.

"Sure we'll play," beamed William Bell, president of the league, over the telephone this morning in answer to the question as to whether the league would stage its games this week-end.

Tomorrow the doubleheader has been reversed. Owing to the fact that the Schofield team cannot get into town on time, the game scheduled between the Schofield and National Guard teams for 1 o'clock has been moved forward to 3 o'clock. The Rangers and Outriggers will play their game, originally scheduled for second place, at 1 o'clock in the afternoon.
