TWELVE RACES ON PROGRAM OF JUNE 11 SPORTS

Waikiki Will Be Scene of Canoe and Surf Events On Kamehameha Day

Twelve big races in the water off Waikiki beach and several other events have been planned for the Kamehameha day program of water sports to be held June 11 under the auspices of the Royal Hawaiian Athletic association.

Members of the three beach clubs, Hui Nalu, the Outrigger Canoe club and the Queen's surfers, will compete in most of the races. There will, however, be events in which malihinis and wahines will be the competitors.

Beginning at 10 a. m. the canoe sailing races will start, these being the only events planned for the morning. The course will be from a flag just outside of Cornucopia surf to a flag opposite the Elks' club, down to a flag at Popular surf, up to Cunha surf and back to the starting point.

At 2:30 p. m. the senior six-paddle canoe race between the three beach clubs will be held over a course from opposite the steps of the Royal Hawaiian hotel to Waikiki Tavern and back.

At the same time a race will be held between 16 runabout outboard motorboats. The course will be from a pontoon at Waikiki to the left of the flag at Cornucopia, to the left of the flag at Popular surf, around right at the spar buoy at the Honolulu harbor entrance, around right of the Diamond Head buoy, left around the Castle, or Elks' club flag, right around Cunha flag, left around Cornucopia flag and finishing to the right of the pontoon at the starting point.

A six-paddle canoe race for malihini men from the tavern to the Royal Hawaiian will be followed by a surfboard race from the Moana to the Royal Hawaiian. Boards must be of redwood and not longer than 12 feet.

Uma wrestling, open to all, will then be held on a platform on the beach.

After this event will be a six-paddle canoe race for wahines from the Moana to the Royal Hawaiian.

Other events will be a surfboard race to "first break" surf and return; a six-paddle canoe race for boys under 16; a four-paddle canoe race; a girls' surfboard race from opposite the Outrigger clock to the Royal Hawaiian; and a towing race over the same course, in which boys on boards will be paddled to a point where girls on boards will be waiting to be towed back to the starting point.

A two-paddle canoe race will then be held, followed by the big canoe race from the beach to first break and back.

At 9 p. m. a dance is to be held at the Moana hotel with special entertainment provided between dances. Tickets will be $1 a person, and may be obtained from members of the beach clubs or at the hotel on the night of the dance.
