Outrigger Club Membership Falls

The financial report of the Outrigger Canoe club, read at its business meeting and election last Saturday, showed that the organization's liabilities were $6500 in excess of its assets. The meeting also brought out the fact that the club's membership had decreased nearly 200 in the past year.

Judge A. M. Cristy, a director, initiated an amendment which was passed making it possible for the club to assess each member $6 during a single year. The power of assessment was not to be exercised unless absolutely necessary.

Directors elected Saturday for three years were roy R. Banks (re-elected), T. G. Singlehurst (re-elected), Randolph Crossley and Cecil Benny. Directors who continue in office are George D. Center, Gay Harris, R. Q. Smith, E. W. Peterson, G. H. W. Barnhart, W. B. McLean, L. P. Thurston and W. F. Frear.
