Navy won this race handily, beating Hilo into first place by about five boat lengths. Myrtle took third and Healani dragged behind in fourth place.

In the second race the Hilo Freshmen took first, Myrtle was second and Healani third. The time was 9 minutes, 34 2-5 seconds.

Myrtle and Healani got off to a good start but No. 4 oar in the Hilo barge broke and the race had to be started over.

The second start was also good, Hilo leading as the barges went past the judges' stand.

At the turn Hilo was in the lead. Myrtle turned second and Healani last. Hilo was leading Myrtle again at the judges' barge by about a boat length. Healani was two boat lengths behind Myrtle.

Myrtle Kids Win

Myrtle took first honors in the regatta when her Kid crew won the opening event of the day over a one mile course, the time being 6 minutes 23 1-5 seconds.

The Hilo crew was second and Healani third. No new record was established. The event started at 10 a. m., 45 minutes behind schedule.

The race was full of thrills, particularly at the finish. At the halfway mark the Myrtle crew turned first, sweeping around so fast that the cockswain was compelled to slow down for a few seconds in order to prevent a possible collision with the Healani barge.

At the finish, however, Myrtle, which had regained its speed, rowed neck and neck with the Hilo barge and swept over the sline half a boat length ahead of the Crescent City lads.

The crews were:

Myrtle—Davis, stroke; Forest, 5; Maynard Piltz, 4; Cartwright, 3; Kauhane, 2; Williams 1.

Hilo—Bell, stroke; William Aiona, 5; S. Bell, 4; R. Barringer, 3; R. Napeahi, 2; P. Tallett, 1.

Healani—Francis Ah Yet, stroke; George Correa 5; Henry Hapai 4; Melvin Paoa 3; J. H 12; G. Kahalewai 1.

In the senior outrigger canoe event, the Outrigger Canoe club was first, Queen's Surfers, second, and Hui Nalu, third.

The time was 4 minutes 4 1-5 seconds.

Fairly heavy showers had fallen earlier in the morning but by 8:30 a. m., 45 minutes before the first race was called, the storm clouds disappeared and the sun came out, forecasting warm and clear weather.

The rain stopped and pools of water which had flooded Pier 2 where the bleachers and judges' stands were located, dried up.

An easterly breeze swept the course, light at first, but becoming somewhat stronger as the oarsmen climbed into their shells for the initial race.

Honolulu harbor was strangely bare of flags and decorations which have characterized past regattas. A few ships, however, displayed strings of signal flags. Neither were the crowds which gathered at the pier ends along the harbor and at the Pier 2 bleachers, as large as in some former years.

The Royal Hawaiian band played at Pier 2. The tug Mahoe, gaily decorated and with a band aboard chugged about the harbor with crippled children from the Shrine hospital as passengers.

Judge A. G. M. Robertson, "father" of the regatta, and honorary chairman of today's race program, was particularly jubilant with regard to the weather outlook, declaring his "kahuna" had informed him that it would not rain.

"The regattas of today," Judge Robertson sighed, "haven't the glamor they had 10 years ago or 40 years ago, either."
