OCC CELEBRATES THE 4TH OF JULY at Waikiki Beach

By Marilyn Kali

As paddlers noisily entered the Hula Grill in the Outrigger Hotel for breakfast prior to the Walter J. Macfarlane Regatta, it was reminiscent of sitting in the Bar and Dining Room at the old Outrigger Canoe Club on Waikiki Beach.

The Grill, located on the second floor of the hotel, is only a few yards from where the OCC of yore was located. The second floor view brought back memories for oldtimers of watching Macfarlane Regattas from this vantage point in their youth. It was also where the judges sat when the race course was parallel to the beach in the regatta's early years.

The view of Waikiki Beach was spectacular with the surfers, beach boys, tourists and four beautiful koa canoes lining the beach as they had for decades. The oldest canoe, the Hana Keoki, began its life on Waikiki Beach more than 100 years before and was the Club's first racing canoe (see story on page 7).

When Club President Tom McTigue brought everyone together for a pep rally, and Walter Guild talked about the history of the Senior Men's and Women's and Team trophies, you could feel the desire of every paddler to see Outrigger's name on the trophies at the end of the day.

It was the 4th of July and Outrigger owned the beach just as it had from its founding in 1908 until its move to its current Diamond Head location in 1964. For just a minute, we stood on the second floor lanai, surveyed the crowd, and 300 plus strong let out a huge OUTRIGGER scream that had everyone on the beach looking up to see where the thunderous yell had come from.

To make sure everyone knew it was our day, McTigue led paddlers down the beach, stopping at each club's tent to welcome them to the regatta. We yelled their name and wished them well.

Macfarlane Regatta coordinator Siana Hunt arranged a beautiful opening ceremony which started with a pule by Aunty Leinaala Kalama Heine, an oli by Manu Boyd, the singing of Hawaii Pono by Robert Cazimero and the Star Spangled Banner by Les Cebalos.

During the singing of the Star Spangled Banner, three white doves hovered in front of the OHCRA tent and when Cebalos got to the line "bombs bursting in air" the doves split into a missing man formation and flew off which gave many observers chicken skin. Thoughts ran to Walter J. Macfarlane, Duke Kahanamoku and Dad Center who were so much a part of the Club and the regatta.

To get the competition going, each canoe club was invited to enter a male and female in a swim from the beach to the quarter-mile flag and back. Swimmers were reminded during pre-race instructions that pigs and pineapples were often awarded to winners in the 1930s and 1940s.

Mike Kane of OCC and Lianne Cameron-Vrielink of Hui Nalu who won the swim were relieved to find that the prizes were big, ripe pineapples and not pigs.

And then the races began. Two to three foot surf broke consistently in lanes one to three but often could be found in lanes four through seven.

Outrigger's first win came in event seven, the Boys 14. Gold medals were added in the Men's Novice A and B, Senior Men (see story on page 5) and Women's 55 and 60.

Novice A paddler Billy Lawson steered four of the six winning crews to victory.

During the regatta, emcees Anthony Hunt, Stew Kawakami and Rocky Higgins interviewed paddlers about their experiences and presented perpetual trophies to winners.

Steersmen with the highest number of wins since the Macfarlane Regatta started in 1943 (not including 2008 wins) were awarded koa paddles with their wins carved into the handle of the paddle. Recipients included Jim Foti of Lanikai Canoe Club with 50 wins; Fred Hemmings Jr., formerly with Outrigger and Hui Nalu and now with Kailua Canoe Club, 47; Walter Guild, OCC, 41; John Foti, Lanikai, 36; Marc Haine, OCC, 35, and the late Kala Kukea, Hui Nalu, 33.

At the end of the day, clubs were invited to enter two fun events, a triangle race and a relay race. Amazingly after 39 regular events, paddlers lined up to participate in the events, not wanting the day to end.

One of the three perpetual trophies that members saw at the pep rally, the Matson Trophy for the Senior Men's Race, will have the names of OCC paddlers engraved on it for 2008. The team trophy and the Senior Women's Trophy went to Lanikai Canoe Club.

Lanikai scored the most points in the history of the Macfarlane Regatta with 126 points (breaking Outrigger's record of 111 in 1995) to win the AAA Division. OCC was second with 81 points, followed by Kailua with 65, Hui Nalu with 40 and Healani 26. (See all results on page 10).

After the awards were presented and champagne sipped, canoes and equipment were returned to the Club. As showers were taken, locker rooms buzzed with stories of waves caught and lost, and just wait until next year.

More than 1,000 members and their guests enjoyed the Club BBQ, entertainment, dancing to the music of the reggae band Ooklah the Moc and the fireworks.

Thanks to the Centennial and Canoe Racing Committees and the OCC staff who made the 4th of July a day to remember in Outrigger's long 100 year history.

Senior Men Savor Champagne From the Matson Cup

By Marilyn Kali

Seventeen years is a long time to wait for a sip of champagne but that's how long it took between wins for the Outrigger Senior Men at the Macfarlane Regatta.

But boy did the champagne taste good out of the silver Matson Trophy at the awards ceremony at Duke's on the 4th of July.

Just ask Kapono Brown, Mike Kane, Craig Gamble, Scott Gamble, Simeon Ke-Paloma and Jimmy Austin.

Scott Gamble, the oldest of the six-man crew, was on the Boys 14 crew the last time the OCC won the prestigious Senior Men's race in 1991. The victory will not likely be forgotten as he also celebrated his 32nd birthday on the 4th of July.

This year's senior crew was made up of paddlers from different OCC crews. Simeon paddled earlier in the day on the Boys 18, Scott and Craig on the Freshmen Men, and Kapono, Mike and Jimmy with the Sophomore Men.

It was definitely the right combination for July 4, 2008.

"We've listened to Walter (Guild) talk about drinking champagne out of the Matson Cup practically our whole lives," Austin said. "It's something every male paddler hopes to do. To say we were stoked to win is putting it mildly."

Outrigger dominated the Senior Men's Race for many years winning the Matson Cup in the first Macfarlane in 1943 with Duke Kahanamoku steering. They went on to win 24 more times, the most of any club. Waikiki Surf Club and Lanikai Canoe Clubs each won it 12 times and Hui Nalu 11 times.

But that doesn't tell the whole story. Eleven of Lanikai's wins have been in the last 15 years. During that time OCC finished second six times just hundredths of a second behind the winner.

Luck is just as important as skill in the Macfarlane, which is the only wave race for Oahu Hawaiian Canoe Racing Association canoe clubs. Lane selection and surf also play a role, and catching a wave can be the difference between first or second, drinking champagne or wishing you were drinking champagne.

Since the Senior Men's race is the premier race of the regatta, all of the steersmen are skilled and seasoned watermen and will catch a wave if they can. Of course when all seven canoes are on the same wave, as has happened in past Macfarlanes, the results are unpredictable.

However, this year, the 1.5 mile Senior Men's race belonged to Outrigger from start to finish. The crew powered out through the surf to the half mile flag and was first to the turn. Austin caught a wave and Outrigger surged ahead to the second turn to complete the first mile. The last half mile was a sprint to the quarter-mile flag, and then OCC caught another wave to surf to the finish line, two seconds ahead of Kailua and 13 seconds ahead of third place Lanikai.

With three of the 1991 winning Senior Men's crew (Chris Kincaid, Walter Guild and Todd Bradley) and the rest of the Club shouting OUTRIGGER from the beach, the OCC men jumped with joy as the Kekio crossed the finish line first.

Watching the OCC Senior men drinking champagne and smiling for photos was a fitting conclusion to the Macfarlane Regatta during the Club's Centennial Year.

OCC's Senior Men celebrate after crossing the finish line first. Mike Kane, Kapono Brown, Craig Gamble, Scott Gamble, Simeon Ke-Paloma and Jimmy Austin.

Drinking champagne out of the Matson Trophy was a thrill for Jimmy Austin, Craig Gamble, Kapono Brown, Scott Gamble and Mike Kane. Ke-Paloma missed the ceremony.

KOA CANOES Return to Waikiki

By Marilyn Kali

What a sight it was. Four highly polished koa canoes, gliding through the gentle surf of Mamala Bay. Making land at the site of the original Outrigger Canoe Club on world famous Waikiki Beach.

It brought back memories of 1908 when the Outrigger Canoe Club was founded and the only canoes on the beach were made of solid wood.

However the date was July 4, 2008 and the time was 7 a.m. Two hours later the canoes were on display on Waikiki Beach and the surf was full of members of the Oahu Hawaiian Canoe Racing Association's 17 canoe clubs competing in the 66th Annual Walter J. Macfarlane Regatta.

The proud Hana Keoki was a glorious sight. She was the Club's first koa canoe and was built by Kealakahi in Kona around 1900 and owned originally by Dr. Alford Wall. The name means "working George" and refers to George Carter who was Territorial Governor at the time.

The first recorded regatta for the Hana Keoki was September 16, 1906, two years before the founding of the OCC. The canoe was one of three entered in the regatta at Honolulu Harbor for the Territorial Championship. The crew of haoles in the Hana Keoki were later to become the founders of the OCC.

After the Outrigger purchased the Leilani and Kakina in the 1930s, the Hana Keoki was used primarily as a training canoe. With its calabash shape, the canoe could win under certain circumstances but had a hard time competing with the lighter and sleeker Leilani and Kakina.

Carol Remillard, who joined the OCC in 1942, has mixed memories of paddling the Hana Keoki in the first Macfarlane Regatta in 1943.

"We had 10 OCC girls who wanted to participate in the race," she said. "Bob Fischer, who was our coach, picked the best five and steered them in the Leilani. If we 'leftovers' wanted to paddle we had to use the Hana Keoki. Duke Kahanamoku took pity on us and told us he'd steer. Of course we were thrilled, since he usually paddled only the Leilani and the boys."

Race time approached and the girls and Duke took to the canoe. At that time, the race course was parallel to the beach. The three crews got to the starting line. The gun went off, and the OCC and Hui Nalu girls got off to a fast start.

"The Hana Keoki was such a heavy canoe, that no matter how hard we paddled, we didn't go anywhere. I sat two, and our stroker was Wanda Grant. I remember Wanda yelled changes and we'd change, but still the canoe just sat there dead in the water," Carol added.

"Everyone on shore was laughing because we couldn't move the canoe. We were humiliated. Every 4th of July afterward, Bill Barnhart and my brother would remind me of the race."

OCC sold the Hana Keoki to Makaha Canoe Club in 1972. They remodeled it and today it is a sleek racing canoe that can compete with all of the others.

"I went down to the OCC beach to watch them rigging the koa canoes for the paddle to Waikiki and was thrilled to see the Hana Keoki. When I told Makaha Canoe Club my story, they invited me to ride down to Waikiki in the canoe with them. However, I helped paddle it. It sure felt different than it did 66 years ago."

Outrigger is grateful to Makaha Canoe Club for bringing the canoe to the beach on the 4th for all to admire. The Hana Keoki is the oldest racing canoe in Hawaii today, more than 100 years old.

Also on display at Waikiki were the three koa canoes that Outrigger paddlers use today, the Leilani and Kakina which were acquired in the 1930s, and the Kaoloa which was built in 1986.

Koa canoes have not been raced in the Macfarlane Regatta since 1981 due to potential damage from the surf to the valuable and prized canoes.

OCC's Centennial Celebration provided the opportunity to share this important part of our history with the paddling community by bringing the koas back to Waikiki Beach and the original home of the OCC.

Carol Remillard remembers the Hana Keoki.

The Kaoloa, Kakina and Leilani arrive at Waikiki Beach on the 4th of July.
