WINNING WOMEN'S SIX PADDLE CREW

This crew of Bobbie Purvis, Mary Friel, Gaior Lloyd, Bonnie Purvis, Jill Barker, Momo Wysard is the first women's crew made up entirely of women including steersman to have paddled in a race. These girls won and to the captain steersman Wysard went a special prize. Good work!

WALTER MACFARLANE CANOE RACE RESULTS

The results of the races held on July fourth were disappointing to the Outrigger Canoe Club, as, not only did we lose the contest but also the coveted Perpetual Trophy.

All members of the Club are most happy, however, that Coach John D. Kaupiko's Hui Nalu Senior Six were the winners. John D. has striven for years to win, showing the highest type of sportsmanship, and after the race he was showered with congratulations by his many OCC friends. We again add our "Aloha" to John D.

The contests were marred by many fouls, all unintentional but in most cases they were against the OCC. It is unfortunate that rules were either not clearly understood or almost impossible to follow on account of the high surf. Below is a detailed report as given by the Advertiser of July 5th.

WAIKIKI SURF CLUB CAPTURES CANOE MEET

Coach John D. Kaupiko's Paddlers Break Long Domination of Outrigger Club in Blue Ribbon Event; Big Crowd Watches

The Waikiki Surf Club came through with an upset team victory in the annual Walter James Macfarlane memorial canoe races off Waikiki yesterday.

Coached by Wally Froiseth, the strong-backed WSC paddlers captured five of the eight official events and had a total of 30 points for their day's oil. Hui Nalu finished second with 20, while Outrigger Canoe Club, the host organization, wound up with 19.

The crowd that jammed the beach received one of its biggest thrills when Coach John D. Kaupiko's Hui Nalu won the blue ribbon senior men's six event, breaking OCC's six-year hold on the Macfarlane trophy. The winning boat was composed of Herman Apo, Samson Kekai, H. A. Ahuna, George Young, Richard Makua and Robert Kekai. They finished about 300 feet in front of the OCC entry.
