

Junior Surfer of the Year

Brendan Bradley, right, was awarded the John McMahon Junior Surfer of the Year award at the Surfing Committee's annual ceremony and Surf Movie night on June 21. Brendon's unique skills in surfing, paddleboarding and ocean sports in general made him unique from all of the other Junior members up for consideration. He is the third member of his family to win the award. His father Todd and brother Christian (left in photo) were previous winners. The surf movie was the final installment of Trilogy III. Everyone enjoyed the door prizes donated by Keoni Watson, Pua Rochlen and Glen Moncata. The committee is looking forward to another great family friendly event next year. Photo by Kris Bradley.
