Left to right: Joe Stickney, Cliff Melim, Jinky Crozier and Sam Poepoe.

This sturdy group of fleet footed Mercuries represented the Club when it participated in track, field and other sports events. The Club had a football team and it was always a factor in all sports. You will note the Club insignia also sprouted a pair of wings.

The Club ended the fiscal year showing a small profit, even though there were several months in which a loss was sustained. The Club is assured of continued success if our members will use its Dining Room, Bar, Soda Fountain and Beach Services whenever possible. There is no better place to luncheon or to dine or to entertain and the Club is available for small or large parties.

BUILDING PLANS COMPLETED

After several months of planning and making changes, our architect, Val Ossipoff, has completed the plans for the improvements to the main building, the addition of a cocktail lounge and the removal of the soda fountain to a separate building.

These plans have been studied by the Building Supervisory Committee many times and finally submitted to the Board of Directors. After considerable discussion and a few minor changes the Board unanimously approved them and requested Mr. Ossipoff to finish specifications and ask for proposals from responsible contractors.

It appears that bids will be received about September fifteenth after which contracts will be let and it is hoped that construction may proceed at once. It is planned that all improvements be finished about December first in order that we may have the advantage of their use for the holiday season.

It was the opinion of all directors that no work be done during the summer months so that our members and guests might not be deprived of Club facilities or annoyed by building operations. The plans for procedure are such that we believe that the Club facilities will be available all through the changes so that diners may continue to eat and enjoy their drinks while work is going on. If there is any inconvenience we ask that members be patient as these improvements will long be enjoyed by all.

CLUB WILL ENTER LABOR DAY MEET

The Windward side Lion's Club are holding canoe and surfing races at Kailua Park on Labor Day, Monday, September 5. They have asked the Club to enter the canoe and other races and we have agreed to send a canoe over and enter crews in various races. If you are over on the Windward side go down, see the races and give our crews your cheering support.

APPLICANTS TO MEMBERSHIP

Each month we note applications for membership. If you have any reasons that such applicants should not be admitted, it is your duty to contact the Membership Committee on or before the tenth of the month. Call Dr. Blom or write the club stating your objections. Any such information will be kept strictly confidential.

KNOW YOUR DIRECTORS

—Portrait by William Lacy

William Charles Capp is our latest Director, appointed by our President and confirmed by the Directors to fill the unexpired term of Neal Ifversen.

Capp has so many nicknames that it is confusing. He is "Bill," also "Chuck" and commonest of all "Cap." Regardless of any he is one of our most popular young members and active in all sports.

"Cap" was born in the City of Angels on October 26, 1907, arriving in Honolulu in May 1935, where he is enjoying the weather that Los Angeles advertises it has. He joined our Club as a Service member immediately on arrival and has served as a member of the House Committee in 1947-48. He has been active in Club sports, mainly in volleyball and surfing.

He graduated from University of Southern California in June 1932 and entered Randolph Field in February 1933 as a flying Cadet, graduating at Kelly Field a year later as a Military Pilot. His record then is a long one covering March Field, California; Hamilton Field, Luke Field through 1938 when he entered the Civil Aeronautics Administration where he was an inspector covering Washington, D. C.; Atlanta, Georgia; Columbia,

S. C.; Los Angeles and Honolulu. He entered the military service on outbreak of World War II with senior pilot rating, navigator as Lt. Colonel, Air Force Reserve. His service included: California, New Guinea, Okinawa, Manila and Hickam Field. He separated from the service March 26, 1946, and went back to the CAA where he still holds forth.

"Bill" is a member of Honolulu Lodge No. 409, Free and Accepted Masons, Scottish Rite, Honolulu Consistory, Aloha Temple, A.A.O.N. of the Mystic Shrine, and the Quiet Birdmen of America. He also belongs to Kamaaina Hui.

In college he participated in basketball, swimming, water polo, handball and was quite a boxer. His hobbies are wood-working and radio. With all the above one can see that Bill is a good, well-rounded out citizen and an asset to any organization.

The most important parties in Bill's life are his vivacious wife, "Chic," a real Southern gal from Noth Ca'oliny, and his "all boy" son, "Bill" Jr., known as "Burr-head." He is a real chip off the old block and both are regular beach devotees. To Bill we wish a long service on the Board and we welcome him for all the Directors.

PICTURES WANTED

Yes, we want pictures. We want old ones and we want new ones. If you have any old pictures of beach and club activities that would interest our members we would appreciate their loan for use in the Forecast. Please identify the persons pictured and also from whom the picture was loaned in order that we may give you appropriate credit.

You camera fans who take pictures of today's doings, surely you must have pictures of events and happenings around the Club. We like candid shots showing members swimming, surfing, canoeing, playing volleyball, dancing, loafing or what have you. Ted Magill says he will give a prize each month to the person presenting the best pic that we can use. Take the prints, any size, into Ted Magill and help us brighten this little journal. Mahalo nui for your help.

NOTES ON THE CUFF

Who is the most travelled member of our Club, K. C. Leebrick or Bill Mullahey? We nominate "Casey." He's off again on a ramble around the South Seas, Kwajalein, Rota and way points. He has eaten more fish and poi and drunk more kawa than any other member. He is on a mission for our Uncle Sam looking over the educational facilities of our many island wards. He spends almost as much time in the air as our BIG BILL.

Ted and Mrs. Magill have just finished vacationing on the island of Kauai where they enjoyed a much needed rest, swimming, golfing and being entertained by Tommy Gage at Kauai Inn. They met several of our members there and visited lovely Hanalei Valley. We guess that Ted was recuperating from that red opu he got yachting.

Junior Night, August 8th, brought out a large attendance. Volleyball, sailing, surfing and swimming each attracted many juniors while the movies and slides shown by Dan Wallace and Bill Mullahey caught the attention of Juniors and Seniors alike. The Juniors express their thanks to Dan, Bill, Sally Hale and John Hollinger for their help. Paul Dolan, who represented the Juniors in organizing the affair, did a fine job, too.

We read in the Los Angeles Examiner that Chick Daniels and Sally Hale recommended Noxema for sunburn. After acquiring a king's size burn on Pappy Allen's Fairweather we tried it out and found it to be highly efficacious.

The Knights of the Round Table have missed genial Vin Danford, V-P in charge of small loans, who has been vacationing. Another Knight, Keoni Elele has been elected a Director of the Kamaaina Hui succeeding Bill Capp who advanced to the Big Board.

Our boys and girls took several places in the surfing and paddling races held Sunday, August 14, under the auspices of the Waikiki Surf Club. Paul Dolan took one first and one second, Tommy Schroeder one second and two thirds, and Pat Honl two seconds. Congratulations, kids!

KEOKI BUSTARD STILL ABROAD

Comes again a postal card from our good member, George Bustard, who has been rambling around the world since he left Hawaii. Keoki says, "This is where we are spending a couple of weeks during the summer. Water much colder than at Waikiki. Yesterday turned out to be a cold day, 55 degrees (b'rrr) temperature. Nobody went in swimming." The card is dated July 29th at Norfolk coast, England. The picture shows a nice beach with small individual continental style bathing cabins.

"We are happy that you are having such a good time, Keoki, and will be glad to see you back. In the meantime, we go swimmin' every day at Waikiki and there are no 55° days here. Aloha nui loa."

OUTRIGGER CANOE CLUB SURFBOARD WATER POLO TEAM

VOLLEYBALL SPOTLITE

Still in the spotlight, volleyball remains one of our most important beach activities. Played on sand courts out of doors, it is interesting, good exercise and healthful, competition is always keen whether it is a pickup game or Tournament competition. We have played both here and on the Pacific Coast and years ago competed in State Championship Tournaments. We can truthfully say that the better players of our Club stack up with the best we have seen on the mainland.

JUNIOR DOUBLES CROWN CHAMPS

The Junior Doubles Champs are repeaters from last year, Miller and Brightman having again ended winners. This proves that they were "not just lucky" as some said last year.

Runnersup were Wyman and Witham and Muirhead and Simpich took third place. The competition was keen and good sportsmanship was carried on all through the Tournament.

The committee has more and bigger Tournaments scheduled.

TIRED BUSINESSMEN'S LEAGUE STILL AT IT

The Tuesday night athletes playing off the Businessmen's Four Man Tournament are still going strong and having a grand time. There have been many hard fought close battles, and we mean battles fought on the court and over the tables later. It is almost pau and will be over by the time you read this. Not only are there Tournament games but many challenge matches resulting.

It looks like the champs will be: L.(small) Ackerman's All Stars with Philpotts, Blom, Nash, Center, Bates and Taylor with Jimmy Beardmore's foursome as second with Ackerman, Corbaley, Eckstrand, Crites and Fischer.

Captains Gil Carr and Lloyd Chiswick's teams are tied for third at this writing.

MEN OVER 40 PLAY DOUBLES

A new twist is presented in a new tournament about to begin. It will be a men over 40 tournament in doubles. Individually the men may be of any age—but the combined age of the team must be 80 years or over. The tentative date is September 13 to start and the play thereafter each Tuesday evening. Sign up now and watch the Bulletin Board for schedule of play.

In passing we note that our Wahines who developed a good brand of Volleyball in the recent Mr. and Mrs. tournament are having some fine games too. They not only play good VB but are very easy on the eyes.

BOOK OF THE MONTH IN HAWAII

CARLETON GREEN

If you are looking these days for a book that will take you out of yourself, a book that you can read between whiles at home or at the Club, you might try from the current batch of novels Elephant Walk by Robert Standish (Macmillan), The Brave Bulls by Tom Lea (Little, Brown), or Kinfolk by Pearl Buck (John Day).

Elephant Walk is a story of Ceylon, where Mr. Standish, in his course of a varied life lived in various places, was once a teaplanter. It has a neatly contrived plot reminiscent of some of the earlier novels and short stories of Somerset Maugham, involving as it does the conflicting codes of the white man and the native in a far-flung outpost of empire. It has a handful of skillfully drawn, if somewhat typical, characters. It has a lush setting, rich in descriptive detail. And it has a narrative suspense deriving largely from the sense of impending doom that hovers over the great teak mansion which the white man has built across the elephant trail. If the elephants occasionally get in your way—and Mr. Standish's—put it down to the nature of the beasts. Elephant Walk is a good yarn.

The Brave Bulls is a story of Mexico, which Mr. Lea has known from across the Texas border, at least, since his childhood in El Paso. More particularly, it is a story of a Mexican bullfighter, so far as it is a story at all. It has none of the element of plot, like Elephant Walk. It depends for its interest on the presentation of character and the creation of atmosphere. You will become absorbed, perhaps, in the emotional struggle of Luis Bello; you will be fascinated, certainly, by the physical conflict in the ring. And if, like the publishers, you want to find an underlying universal value—if you want to identify yourself with Luis Bello and your fight with his—you probably can. In any case, The Brave Bulls is a vivid and colorful description of an unusual slice of life.

Kinfolk is a story of China, with which Mrs. Buck has been familiar in one way or another for a good many years—a story of Communist China today. It is a bigger novel than either Elephant Walk or The Brave Bulls—bigger in its scope and bigger in its implications. Concerned with a Chinese family in New York and China whose loyalties are culturally and politically divided, it is essentially a novel of character, although a thread of narrative runs through it. You will find, I think, Mrs. Liang and Uncle Tao the best-conceived of the many characters, not all of whom Mrs. Buck has succeeded in bringing to life; and you will find the scenes in China more freely and more fully drawn than those in New York. Kinfolk is not a great novel, but it contributes to the understanding of a great people and the confused world in which they—and we—live.

With Elephant Walk, The Brave Bulls, or Kinfolk, you can, in spite of Mr. Bridges, get out of yourself and strike-ridden Hawaii for a few hours of good reading.

A MEDLEY OF ASSORTED NOTES

By PAT MULHOLLAND

We've always considered Vaughn Monroe's singing of "Riders in the Sky" the best of the crop of interpreters but whether it's Monroe or the song itself his version led sales in all popular records in 24 leading stores throughout the nation, 27 reporting. "South Pacific" was the most popular album in 22 stores, "Kiss Me Kate" in five.

It has always been my humble belief that nobody could sing the songs in "South Pacific" like the original actors and singers in the show itself; Ezio Pinza, Mary Martin, et al. In my opinion "Some Enchanted Evening" isn't so enchanting unless Ezio Pinza croons it. Last night, in browsing through the critical opinions on various recordings in the Library of Hawaii, I came across an article by Irving Kolodin, Editor of the Saturday Review of Recordings, in which he talks about South Pacific and states publicly what I've been sure of privately: that "Some Enchanted Evening" sung by anyone other than Pinza sounds flat, like stale champagne. It felt good to have my opinion concurred in by so eminent an authority.

Here is a note on rarity: Erna Sack, the "European Nightingale" who can hit C above high C, has recently had several of her albums released in America. While praising her ability to go so high some critics claim she overdoes it sometime and indulges in vocal gymnastics for its own sake. One unkind critic (and what critic was ever kind?) deplored what he called her canary-like ebullience. Still she's interesting and I found her records enjoyable.

A note from the Atomic Age: Last month I spoke of cleaning your new records with wet chamois. This month I have a new method to report. For $15 you can get a radioactive paint brush that will sweep the static and dirt off your records in nothing flat. Just take your little brush, go over your plastics and the grooves will become nice and clean, like a lover's intentions (in the good old days, that is).

RECIPROCAL CLUB ARRANGEMENTS

To the number of Clubs with which the OCC has reciprocal arrangements please add the following:

KAUAI YACHT CLUB
HILO YACHT CLUB
JONATHAN CLUB OF L. A., California
CLUB DEL MAR, Santa Monica, California

Before leaving on your trip see our manager, Ted Magill, who now has some beautifully engraved cards for you to carry when you travel, identifying you as a member of the OCC and requesting for you the courtesy of the Club you wish to use. A complete list of Clubs reciprocating will be published later.

LETTER TO MANAGER

—by Carleton Green. It seems that Carleton heard that in the new plans for building improvements it was suggested that music by Muzak be installed. Green just doesn't like it. Read what he says. We would like comments by others.

Aug. 18

Dear Ted:

I am seldom moved to write letters of protest, but the posted minutes of the last meeting of the Board of Directors have driven me to one. I consider the Outrigger one of the last outposts of civilization where I can enjoy at dinner the peace and quiet of my thoughts or the conversation of my friends. If you install Muzak, I resign.

Sincerely yours,
CARLETON GREEN
