Again we'll have to bring up the unpleasant though so very necessary subject of dues payment, and in particular those who have overlooked payment. The delinquent list is by necessity posted in the lobby. Please check it and endeavor to keep your account up to date. The situation being what it is prevents us from allowing delinquents to use the club facilities. The club, in its growing stages needs this capital to work with. Your small amount may not seem important, but collectively it becomes essential.

Our thanks to the Oumansky Magic Ring Theatre for their remarkable performance on the sun deck recently. As true performers they operated in limited space to put over one of the finest comedies seen in Honolulu for some time. Hats off to Alexander and Peggy Oumansky and their wonderful cast.

We've been promising the return of music and entertainment to the Hau Terrace during cocktail hour on Friday and Sunday, but for various reasons have been forced to hold off on rescheduling a combo. But we foresee a break in the clouds that will allow us to bring it back in the near future.

CLUB OF THE MONTH . . .

(The FORECAST /his month heads the New York Athletic Club. Here from NYAC General Manager James Parker is a brief sketch of the club and the fantastic facilities available to its members:)

The New York Athletic Club was founded in 1868, and last year it celebrated its 90th anniversary. It is the largest athletic club of its kind in the world with a present membership of 9,500 members. Its main edifice is located at 10 Central Park South overlooking the beautiful and picturesque Central Park. The main Club house is

Mr. Parker a 24-story building, and within its walls, I believe that every piece of athletic equipment that is made may be found.

We have our own Print Shop where over 100,000 menus are printed yearly and all of the notifications to the membership. We have our own laundry in which over four million pieces of soiled linen are washed and ironed per year. Our ice plant produces five tons of ice per day.

Listed below are the facilities which are available to the members and their guests:

- Bowling Alleys
- Men's Tap Room
- Trophy Room
- Wrestling Room
- Fencing Room

Boxing Room

Locker Floor, comprising over 1,500 lockers

Gymnasium, running one block long, and within the gym,

A sixteenth of a mile corked banked running track

Rowing Room in which our crews train

Golf School

Weight lifting Room

Seven Regulation Squash Courts

Six Regulation Handball Courts

The NYAC at 160 Central Park South.

And the building itself, on the 24th floor, is topped by a beautiful glass enclosed solarium which the members enjoy during the year for sunbathing purposes. We have 192 sleeping rooms and 36 suites. The majority with showers and some with both showers and tubs. On the premises we have a swimming pool 75' long, 6 lanes wide, with two steam rooms, maintaining a temperature of 120° and 145° and two dry hot rooms with a temperature of 140° and 160°. The infra-red and ultra-violet room has 22 lights and 22 beds, and in the Massage Room, we have seven masseurs on duty.

Our restaurants are located thusly. On the second floor is the Tap Room; the Men's Grill on the 10th floor is exclusively for the men and their male guests; the main dining room overlooks the Park and is on the 11th floor. We serve approximately 350,000 meals per year and are one of the few restaurants left in New York dealing exclusively in French service. We bake all of our own breads, rolls, pies and pastries and make our own ice cream. We feature the Club's 12" Mince Pies weighing approximately five pounds at Christmas. These pies are shipped to all corners of the world. This last Thanksgiving and Christmas season, we baked, including our famous Pumpkin, Apple and Mince, over 17,000 pies, of which 12,000 Mince Pies were shipped.

We feel as though we render every possible service we can to our members and guests. In the Lobby of the Club is located the Club's Secretarial Services with two outstanding secretaries always in attendance. Our Barbershop has seven chairs. We maintain continuous Valet Service as well as a Chiropodist in attendance. Our Gift Shop, which is located in the Lobby, features a special brochure to the membership for the purchase of candies, perfumes, etc. To give you an idea what our Gift Shop does in volume, last year we did $90,000 gross business. I might add that our restaurant does a gross of $1,200,000 and our Beverage sales are approximately $600,000.

The wearers of the Winged Foot participate in all the sporting events throughout the country, and, recently, as is our annual custom, we had our "All-Sports" Dinner in the Club's Gymnasium at which time the membership of the Club paid their respect to the athletes who had won individual and national championships. We had eight athletes on the dais, including winners in such sports as Trap Shooting, Swimming, Rowing, Track & Field, and Billiards.

(Incidentally, the NYAC captured the 1958 Indoor Track and Field Team title and placed second in the National Outdoor Championships with runners like Olympic 880 champion Tom Courtney.)

In addition to the main Club House, the New York Athletic Club maintains a Summer Home at Travers Island which is located 17 miles from New York City. We have approximately 40 acres, with seven tennis courts, a quarter mile track, rowing shells in the yacht basin and trap shooting facilities. In our main house at Travers, we can seat 1000 at a banquet. We have recently built a new swimming pool, Olympic size, 165' long where many of the outstanding swimming events are held. Weekly movies, various type parties, etc., round out a very interesting program. Travers Island opens May 1 and closes October 1. It is a great source of entertainment and comfort to the membership of the Club."

SYLVIA RUUSKA, CHRIS VON SALTZA VISIT OCC . . .

Two teenagers on whose feminine shoulders rest the U.S.'s hopes for the women's swimming championship at the 1960 Olympics rested at the Outrigger after an overwhelmingly successful campaign down under against the Australian greats.

They are Sylvia Ruuska and Chris Von Saltza, both high school students in California.

Sixteen-year-old Sylvia set four world's records in Australia: topping existing marks in the 400 meter and 440 yard individual medley events and the 200 meter and 220 yard butterfly division.

In addition, Sylvia claims seven American records.

Fifteen-year-old Chris is the holder of three American records.

Here in Hawaii Nei folks like to know with whom they are doing business. Other things being equal, they would prefer to do business with their friends—including fellow Club members of the O.C.C.

So you know just who offers the products or services you need, the "FORECAST" publishes this directory.

"...HAD A WC

The Merson Skimmers entertain their daughter, Mrs. Howard Cavender of Manila, P.I.; and Mrs. Skinner's sister, Mrs. Thomas Hickey of New York City. With the Skimmers were granddaughter Ginnie Cavender and son Stephen.

DERFUL TIME"

The party of Mrs. Rhoda Bourne, who visited the Club One a recent bingo night. Mrs. Bourne has been an avid bingo enthusiast partially responsible for the games' great popularity at the club.

Surf Sun n Sand

Received a note from Outrigger member Henry Wendt who "exchanged the 75 degree weather of Hawaii for the 20 degree temperature of Montreal" . . . and with more than a few regrets. They send love and a picture of Hank and Baby "Clip" with wishes they were sipping one of Anzai's Mai Tai's instead of battling snow drifts.

Among our recent club visitors was Raymond L. Jarrard and his family. Jarrard was recently selected most outstanding non-commissioned officer in the Pacific Air Force Command. As part of the giant assemblage of prizes he won for the honor, Jarrard won a trip to Hawaii and an afternoon at the Outrigger Canoe Club, which he termed the "outstanding part of our trip." The Jarrards were entertained by H. Tucker Gratz at a luncheon followed by a catamaran ride. Incidentally, Jarrard, stationed at Misawa Air Force Base in Japan, is now a master sergeant.

Per usual, the Club was host to a number of personalities making headlines in the world of sports, and entertainment. To name a few: champion swimmers Chris Von Saltza and Sylvia Ruuska, singer Andy Williams, TV-Radio star Arthur Godfrey, and rumor has it, movie actor Cary Grant.

In the Outrigger Spotlight

A cartoon illustration of a man with a mustache, wearing a striped shirt and shorts, sitting in a traditional outrigger canoe. He is holding a paddle and looking towards the right. The canoe is on stylized wavy lines representing water.

Statehood came to Hawaii with a swiftness that belied the 40-odd years of toil that paved the way for the 50th Star becoming a reality.

In light of the tremendous operation of educating the people of the United States and urging congressional action that often seemed hopeless, it is difficult to cite one man as being particularly responsible.

Lorrin P. Thurston

Yet one stands out in championing statehood. Lorrin Potter Thurston, chairman of the now defunct Hawaiian Statehood Commission.

For a good portion of the "40 years war" for Statehood, Mr. Thurston has stood in the front ranks of 50th State backers during its most bleak moments.

Countless times he spanned the 5,000 miles between Honolulu and the nation's capital to plead the case for Hawaiian Statehood.

He directed the efforts at home as publisher of the Honolulu Advertiser.

Yet he claims little credit. Hawaiian Statehood, he says "... is a direct result of the intense campaign waged by dozens of small groups which told Hawaii's story to the Mainland."

"No territory seeking admission as a State has ever more completely fulfilled the requirements of Statehood, or has been in as excellent financial position to pay the costs and meet the obligations involved."

Still, heavy odds faced the commission chairman as he carried the battle to many fields on the Mainland. He recruited funds, gained valuable friends for Hawaii, and most important, spearheaded the drive to defeat an attitude that existed on the Mainland that the Islands were not fit to be a State because of its melting pot racial blend.

To this he answered: "We didn't quit on December 7, 1941 and we are not going to quit now!"

Then a second misapprehension: "Hawaii is under the thumb of communist dominated unions."

With typical far-sightedness, Thurston pointed out that Hawaiian Statehood would rather work as an anti-communist weapon for the U.S.

The tide began to turn.

And, finally, it came. On March 12, 1959, Thurston stood at the side of Delegate Jack Burns, Senator Henry Jackson and other Statehood boosters that had remained true when the bill passed Congress. It was 10:04 a.m. Hawaiian Time, a minute out of his life that he will never forget. He was suddenly out of a job, but one that no man could have been happier in losing. For in gaining Statehood, the Hawaiian Statehood Commission was no longer.

He had been commission chairman for one year and two months. Several months prior to his appointment, he had been named acting chairman to replace a chairman who had resigned his post.

Thurston moved into the position with a full understanding of Hawaii and her people. He had been the past chairman of the Hawaii Visitors Bureau and head of many civic organizations. His farsightedness had paced development on the outside Islands.

With equal vigor he has served as a director of the Outrigger Canoe Club.

His many years of changing the face of Hawaii for a better tomorrow has been inspiring.

Thurston once wrote:

"Hawaii is grown up . . . become educated . . . sophisticated. She has put up her hair, traded the grass skirt for shining silks . . . added diamonds to her list of favorite decorations (but she still kicks off her shoes at parties and likes to swim in the moonlight—in spite of her sophistication)."

OCC WINS HAWAIIAN SENIOR TITLE

The Outrigger Canoe Club's senior six volleyball squad continued on its winning ways by carrying off the coveted Hawaiian Senior Volleyball League trophy with a thrilling 14-12 win over Hickam Air Force Base on the eve of Hawaiian Statehood.

The following week the OCC Volleyballers carted off top honors in the anti-climactic University of Hawaii Invitational tournament.

Going into the finals of the Hawaiian senior division tied with Hickam, the OCC squad boasted a 5-1 record. They had previously dropped their first game in two and one-half years to the Acme Mattress six.

The desperation with which the final match was played against Hickam was underscored by the fact that six injuries were noted between the two squads.

The most serious injury was suffered by Ron Sorrell who fractured his left ankle.

It was nip and tuck all the way, before a capacity crowd at the Kala-kaua gymnasium.

But experience and the fact that the OCC six has worked together for six straight years proved the deciding factor.

Starters are—Spikers: Mark Auerbach, Billy Cross, Tommy Haine and Bobby Daniels; setters: Ron Sorrell and Bill Baird.

Playing without the services of Sorrell and only partial services of Baird, Auerbach and Cross, the Outrigger won seven in a row against competition in the University Invitational tourney.

They easily trimmed the Kuhio Surfers in the finals to take their second title in eight days and remain undisputed volleyball champions of the 50th State.

Three OCC defenders block a slam attempt by a Hickam spiker in the finals of the Hawaiian Senior Volley Tourney. The Outrigger won in a time limit match, 14-12.
