THE PRESIDENT COMMENTS

An increasing number of senior members have been complaining about the juniors taking over the Club and "getting in their hair." This has gone to the extent that several of the senior members are strongly advocating a closing out of all junior memberships. These members apparently fail to realize the place this Club holds as a community project. One of the prime purposes of the Club is the athletic development of the youth of the community. It is true that the Club is probably a far cry from the original organization created for the sole purpose of canoeing, surf-riding and other related activities. However, we oldtimers who developed with the Club, know through our own experience that our Club fills a needed gap for a large segment of the youth of this Island which could not in any other way be filled. Therefore, it is essential that the junior and senior membership work together so that both classes of membership may obtain the most benefits possible from the use of the Club. Without question, a number of the juniors fail to realize the privileges being extended to them at the financial expense of the senior membership and their relative responsibilities in connection therewith.

As a step forward in working out this problem, the Club manager has been asked to organize Disciplinary Committees composed of junior girls and junior boys in order that they may work out

Outrigger Canoe Club Grets Lurline in Hawaiian Style

The outstanding and most beautiful feature of the reception to the Lurline which arrived in Honolulu on Wednesday, April 21, was the Regatta made possible by the Outrigger Canoe Club.

Putting out from Pier 2, led by Charles Amalu's canoe, the Princess, the fourteen outrigger canoes furnished by the Club and captained by Club Steersmen met the Lurline, scattering flowers on the water and escorting her to Pier 11. The crews in the canoes appropriately were furnished by students of Kamehameha School and were dressed in malos and other Hawaiian garb.

At Pier 11 the King and Queen and their Kahuna Chanter then took part in a true Hawaiian style welcome with chants of greeting. The fourteen outrigger canoes including the double canoe which carried the king and queen were loaded with flowers. In addition, the sailing canoe steered by Tommy Arnott and manned by Outrigger Canoe Club members, decorated with flowers and filled with fruits of Hawaii, met the Lurline off Diamond Head. This simulated the olden days when the Hawaiians sailed out to meet incoming ships loaded with the fruits of the land for trade. Other Club canoes also met the ship off Diamond Head. The entire pageant was colorful and thrilling to the arriving visitors and to the spectators who lined the shores, piers and every available point of vantage.

For conceiving and carrying out of this Hawaiian pageant, credit should be given to "Yabo" Taylor, assisted by Bob Fischer, Charles Amalu, Sally Hale, Harold Yap, "Toots" Minvielle and the Canoe Committee. All of the members put in many hours of hard work in readying the canoes and in planning. Charles Amalu is responsible for the pageant part, furnishing the king and queen, kahuna and transportation.

Big Game Tournament

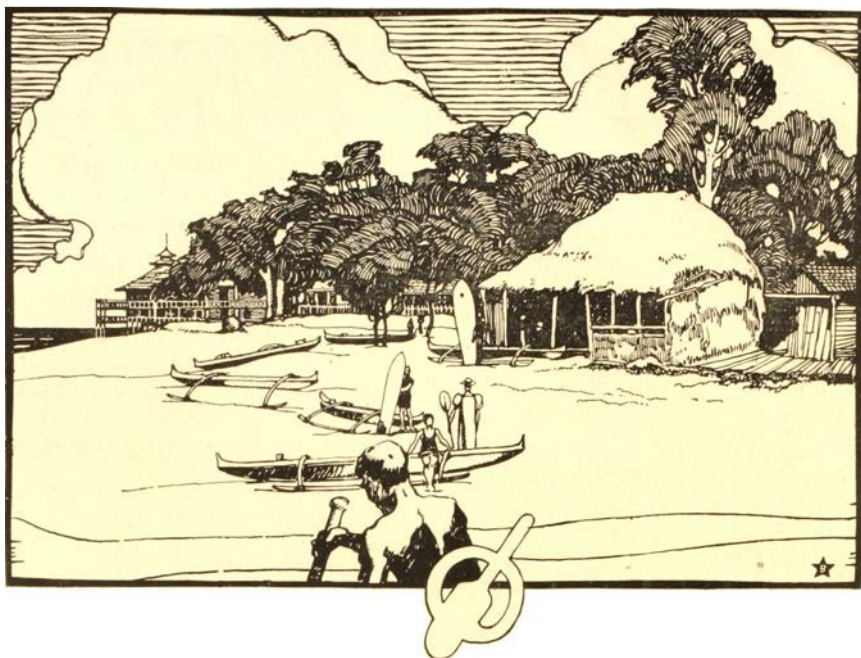

The volleyball committee is planning an intra-club, six-man, big game tournament to begin early in June.

Forecast Makes Bow

In August, 1941, the Forecast was first published in the modest form of a postal card. For several months it was so issued. Edited by Ernest W. Stenberg, it was later printed in the form of a folder enclosed in statements and in the last several months it has been mailed out directly to members.

With this issue the Forecast makes a bow in its new form, consisting of 8 pages, 6 x 9, and with a few illustrations. The new form is made possible by the cooperation of the advertisers. They are supporting our Club—we ask members to support them.

Committee chairmen and members are asked to get in touch with the Editor Telephone 57911, with any information on activities, plans or programs of their committees. Writing the copy and getting the news each month for such a publication is quite a task and any cooperation given will be appreciated by the Editor.

OUTRIGGER CANOE CLUB FORTIETH ANNIVERSARY

Just forty years ago a group of young men in Honolulu planned and created a club at Waikiki Beach which later became known as the Outrigger Canoe Club. One of our very good friends, Mr. Charles Frazer, donated to the club documents, copies of which are printed below. They are very interesting and we know many of our members will appreciate the information given on the beginnings of the Club:

Honolulu, April 7, 1908

Dear Sir:

Will you put before your members the project of the Outrigger Canoe and Surfboard Club at Waikiki.

We wish to have a place where surfboarding may be revived and those who live away from the waterfront may keep their surfboards.

The Club will own a certain number of canoes, while members will also have the privilege of keeping theirs under the broad lanai, of the club house.

It is probable that land for a Hau tree lanai house will be secured at Waikiki on nominal rental. Many of the most prominent gentlemen in the city have already applied for membership in the Club. It has been suggested that those who join with privileges of entertaining or giving visitors cards to strangers pay annual dues of $10.00 while young boys and actual surfers without privileges of extending courtesies of Club to friends and visitors, pay $5.00 per annum. The main object of the Club being to give an added and permanent attraction to Hawaii and make Waikiki always the Home of the Surfer, with perhaps an annual Surfboard and Outrigger Canoe Carnival which will do much to spread abroad the attractions of Hawaii, the only islands in the world where men and boys ride upright upon the crests of the waves.

Trusting you will place the matter before your club members and also send us any names of those who wish to unite with us, we are,

Sincerely yours,

The Outrigger Canoe Club 1908 to 1948

by David (Dad) Center

It was the intention of the founder of the Outrigger Canoe Club, A. H. Ford, that the peoples of the mauka lands would have a place to come and enjoy the beach at Waikiki and to keep alive the art of canoeing, surfboard riding, swimming and any other water sports.

(It started as an amateur club with many of the prominent citizens and business houses donating money and gifts in its early life.)

During the life of this Club there have been many championship teams. It has sponsored men and women swimming teams that are the finest in the world and many of its members went to all parts of the world. The Club has encouraged water polo teams, both men and women divers, basketball, soccer, American football, track, volleyball, Hawaiian canoe sailing and body surfing.

Starting out from grass shacks, this Club took part in many of Hawaii's parades, carnivals, water pageants and city functions. Notables from all over the world have been entertained on its grounds. Originally from the youth of the community, it evolved into a family club, passing along to an outstanding athletic club and one of the best social clubs of today.

From present indications it will again become one of the outstanding athletic clubs in this community.

their own disciplinary problems. It is hoped that the juniors will respond favorably to this action whereby they will be regulated within their own membership rather than by adults.

It is the hope of the Board of Directors that the establishment of a quota and the limitation of new junior membership only to children of members will be of limited duration and that in the not too far distant future this type of membership can again be reopened. One reason for the congestion in the locker rooms of the juniors is the number of guests brought in by junior members. It is re-emphasized that members are allowed only two "locker room" guests per month.

CLUB CELEBRATES

An appropriate celebration of the fortieth anniversary of the Club was held May 1 in the form of a dinner dance and May Day festival at the Club.

Members wishing to qualify as sailor in this canoe should apply to the Canoe Committee, Harold Yap, chairman. Any member wishing to sail should apply to any of the above qualified steersmen.

Elephant Resigns, Gage Appointed

At the last meeting of the Board of Directors the resignation of Charles "Ted" Elephant was received and accepted by the directors. Pressure of business which precluded his attendance at the meetings was given as his reason for resignation. Mr. Thomas Gage, Assistant Manager of the Young Hotel, was appointed as Director to fill the unexpired term of Mr. Elephant. In the recent election Mr. Gage had received the next largest number of votes as candidate for Director.

Final Results Senior Doubles

The recent two-man Senior V. B. tournament was a thrilling one throughout.

The results were as follow:

Winners: Arnott and Serge Kahana-moku

Runners-up: Ackerman and Cooke

Third place: Chiswick and Dolan

(Please note the strained looks on the faces of the winners shown on the front cover.)

Beach Services

In the past, members of the Outrigger Canoe Club have paid far too little attention to the benefits available to them through the Outrigger Beach Services. If you are not a competent surfer or canoe steersman you are certain to get your money's worth as well as a safe and sane thrill for yourself and your guests by making use of the excellent facilities available to you on the beach.

Junior Membership Limited

It is with regret that the Board of Directors announces that they must limit the acceptance of applicants for junior membership only to the children of members who are in good standing. The quota of junior members has been set at 250 as the Club cannot handle properly any more. The ruling, however, does not effect those applicants who are now being processed through the Membership Committee. (See Page 2.)

Juniors to Organize

Ted Magill, our genial Manager, and Neil Ifversen have been authorized to organize a committee of juniors which will be made up of one committee of junior girls and one of junior boys. The purpose of the committee will be to supervise the actions of junior members on and about the Club grounds and to propose and carry out effective entertainment and activities in which the juniors will participate.

Unfortunately there have been a number of complaints by seniors against junior members and though the complaints are against but a very few, it was thought necessary that the juniors should be supervised on a honor system of their own.

Do You Own Any Equipment?

If you are the owner of any equipment such as sails, outriggers, boards and other gear stored under the canoe shed—BE SURE to identify it and notify the Canoe Committee before June 15. Any gear not so identified or claimed will be disposed of and the Club will assume no responsibility for it.
