Outrigger III women paddled hard in the Na Wahine O Ke Kai.

By Genie Kincaid

Coaches Tom McTigue and Liz Perry rallied 30 women to field 3 open crews in the 20th Annual Na Wahine O Ke Kai race from Molokai to Oahu on September 26. Crews were ably steered by Kisi Haine, Robin Nonaka, and Na'u Kamalii, finishing 5th, 22nd and 47th respectively out of 58 crews.

Although the defending champions from Australia, the Panamuna Riggeros, fielded a crew, the personnel were not the same women who won in 1998. By electing to stay home to compete in their national trials for the Sydney Olympics, the Molokai race was wide open for local crews to do well. So well in fact, four of the five top finishers were from the Islands.

Wailua Canoe & Kayak of Kauai finished 1st in 5:55:21, followed by Hui Nalu-1 in 6:00:34, Waimanalo in 6:01:55, and Off-Shore in 6:10:04.

The common thought among the paddlers was that even if Australia showed up at full strength, the local crews still would have done well—never has the level of competition been so strong and so deep among so many canoe clubs.

Part of what makes the Molokai race so exciting is the gamble crews take in selecting their course to the finish. This year our crews decided on a route just slightly south along the run line. However, the day's conditions favored the northern route which proved to be the difference. Nevertheless, Outrigger's crews

Enjoying refreshments after the race were Jen Bossert, Brooke Berrington, Genie Kincaid, Katy Bourne, back; Conne Sutherland and Carolyn Hooten, front.

Outrigger I finished 22nd overall in the Alapaina in 6:41:43 Kaili Chun, Karen Hansen, Katy Bourne, Pam Clifford, Genie Kincaid, Brook Berrington, Liz Perry, Susan Heitzman, Trisha Nagatani. Not pictured: Robin Nonaka, Ann Marie Mizuno.

Outrigger III crew finished fifth overall in the Iwalani in 6:14:19 Diana Allen, Sara Ackerman, Traci Selling, Hadley Gaffney, Jen McTigue, Mary Smolenski, Lori Seto, Paula Crabb and Kisi Haine. Not pictured: Sasha MacNaughton.

Outrigger II finished 47th overall in the Hokaloa in 7:12:56 Vien Schwinn, Pam Davis, Jama Arakaki, Na'u Kamalii, Mary Nurse, Caron Broderdorf, Kim Allin, Ann Cundall, Aniko Kurczinak, Steph Reynolds.

raced hard, gained some invaluable experience, and proved the women's canoe racing program is intact and vital.

All through the regatta and distance season, the women paddlers, coaches and support personnel worked hand in hand with the men's racing program to be one united team, and an outstanding representation of the excellence of Outrigger Canoe Club. That spirit of teamwork made this a very successful and memorable summer.

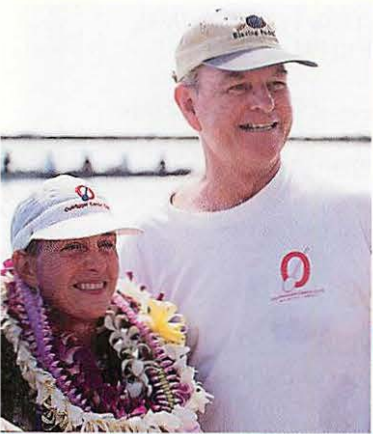

On behalf of the coaches and the racers, a sincere mahalo nui loa to: the Canoe Racing Committee for all the time-consuming logistical work that goes into organizing a successful program; to Courtney Seto, Walter Guild and Kala Judd for donating so much of their time rigging our equipment to perfection and preparing every paddler for a safe crossing; to Jim Beaton and Jimmy Kincaid, the very best, most positive course clerks a crew can have from its escort crew; and last but not at all least, to our fellow Club members for making it possible to have a canoe racing program at all. Thanks for being there for us at the finish line.

As the Terrace Turns...

Patrick, Doris and Tracy Jones enjoyed cocktails aboard the Pakhomov on a visit to St. Petersburg and Moscow. They stopped in Paris on their way home.

Tom Haynie celebrated his 84th birthday at the Club Luau in August with wife Sherye.

USC boosters Ford King, Mary Ellen King and Mary Kay Arbuthnot enjoyed a pre-game dinner on the Koa Lanai on September 2.

The Club was inundated with USC fans with reciprocal memberships from several California clubs the first of September for the USC-Rainbow game. While the final score was not for Hawaii, it really wasn't surprising, given the David & Goliath size of the schools. However, it was good business for OCC.

Also here in smaller quantity were reciprocal members from The Olympic Club, Australian Clubs, and others to do the annual Maui Channel and Waikiki Roughwater Swims.

The Maui Channel Swim (Lanai to Lahaina, 10 miles) is always held on the Saturday before Labor Day and the Waikiki Roughwater Swim on Labor Day (2.25 miles).

The Maui Channel Swim is a relay, and OCC once entered a team in this event. This year Diane Stowell and Ulrich Klinke swam for Waikiki Swim Club, finishing 4th for mixed.

Nonresident Kauai member Ian Emberson swam, and he is also the long time chair of this event.

Unfortunately, this swim was during the "jelly fish window" and there were some stings. Some swimmers reported a 12 foot tiger shark. After all, this is open ocean folks, and that is their territory. So, five teams withdrew from the Maui Channel event in order to keep their swimmers safe.

Ernie Leskovitz, Diane Stowell, Arnold and June Lum, Dave Stackhouse and Ulrich Klinke swam in the Roughwater. Please put your results in For the Record so we can congratulate your effort.

Since the Hana Relay display was in the Lobby window, some of our visitors were overheard saying "Gee, we should stay over next year and do this after the swims, just make a vacation out of it." Good on ya, mates!

By the way, for those of you who do not know what "the jelly fish window" means, take a look at the calendar in the Tunnel. One of the local lifeguards figured out, after several years of record keeping, that the box jellyfish will arrive at our Southern beaches 10 days after the full moon.

The calendar shows the date of the full moon, and the subsequent three day period during which the little stingers are likely to show up. They don't always bother swimmers, but if they are going to appear, it is in those three days. Event planners of swims and biathlons are advised, whenever possible, to schedule their event around rather than during this window. Of course, it isn't possible for a fixed event like the Labor Day swims, but when there is a choice, you can now predict the "jelly fish window".

Kamehameha School grad Brandy Mailer, now a resident in California, attends George Fox (OR) and is a defensive specialist on the women's volleyball team. Last season George Fox reached the NAIA national championships, and they're hoping Brandy will get them there again. Parents Don and Dee Jay Mailer, now also California residents, will be keeping close watch.

Lami Kihoi hosted a bridal shower for her cousin. Twenty five guests gathered for Sunday Brunch to enjoy the celebration.

Modest Betty Meyer didn't think it was much news that she shared a "friendship dinner" with a former local resident who now resides on the mainland. Ah, Betty, 20 people to all show up for dinner, and call them all friends, that is wonderful news.

Darrel Kloninger likes to think he's a good boss to his media and advertising employees, so he held a surprise party for Janet Hibbard, a 22 year employee. Her family and friends and other professional associates joined the group for the Monday night family buffet. What a nice surprise.

People are always thinking of innovative ways to share their Aloha. Kay Lacy died some months ago, and widower Paul Lacy decided to thank the friends that came to his aid, rallied around and showed their support for him. They had a quiet lunch in Koa Lanai by the ocean and shared their Aloha.

And talk about innovation, how about The Exotic Lunch Bunch? This is a group from Arcadia who get together once a month for an adventure lunch. At each lunch they decide where they're going next month, and post a note at the Arcadia Bulletin Board. They car pool caravan to their next exotic lunch. All this from Mary Bell, who hosted 12 of these "exotics" in August in the Koa Lanai.

Nani Polinka held a lunch for 30 to thank all of the worker bees from the Oahu Country Club Ladies Golf Association. They had a wonderful time, enjoying the SUNSHINE at our OCC.

Hawaii is in for some well trained orthopedic surgeons in the future. Dr. Allen Richardson frequently hosts a semi annual dinner for residents (as in medical). He is the program director for the orthopedic residents, and they need to have a treat after the hard work and long hours they put in. Twelve of them came for dinner recently.

Bob Schneider had a fun fun birthday party for his mother Jeanne Schneider and her lifetime friend

Sheila Ehrlich, both birthday girls. It was a family get together, and these friends from Punahou school days had a great time at dinner.

On August 19, Wendy and Bruce Shewalter celebrated the christening of their new son Joshua, born August 3, Wendy's confirmation and Bruce's parents, Mel and Bill Shewalter's 40th wedding anniversary and vow renewals.

The ceremony of the three sacraments was performed at Sacred Hearts Church. Family and friends flew in from Pennsylvania to join in the celebration.

You can sure tell the difference when we don't have the Koa Lanai. Usually As the Terrace Turns is filled with party news, celebrations, and all kinds of visitors at the Club stories, but with the Koa Lanai out of commission due to the Kitchen Renovation, we are a little skimpy with our November reporting. However, this is also the month the Koa Lanai is due to open, so next month we will be back in business.

Remember, you are your own best reporter—since OCC doesn't have any. If you see something, hear something, do something, tell us. Write it down, leave it at the Front Desk and we'll be happy to report what you've been up to. When you are your own reporter we are less likely to misspell your name or omit something from your story. With the holiday season here, we know you're up to something so tell the Club.

Contributions to this column are always welcome. Leave items at the Front Desk, fax to 808 833-1591 or e-mail to occmag@aol.com. Be sure to include your name and phone number in case additional information is needed.

Club Seeks Veterans for Military Honor Roll

By Paul Dolan

Clubs around the world honor their member veterans in various ways. The Outrigger Canoe Club had an Honor Roll from World War II by way of a 22-inch koa surfboard listing 21 individuals killed in action. A copy of the data base listing is published to commemorate those listed on this Veterans Day.

Anyone having information which may replace the "?" in "Service" or "Decorations" in the listing is invited to submit the information as directed on the questionnaire. A Military Honor Roll questionnaire is published for the purposes of creating a database of information for future use in the Club's centennial publication. Please complete the information requested and return as directed. If you know of additional individuals, such as relatives and friends who qualify as you do, please make a copy of the questionnaire and forward to the individual for completion and submission.

The questionnaire will become a permanent record of the Club and will be bound for reference purposes in the Outrigger Canoe Club Historical Committee archives.

And they were taught the laws of life...that their treatment of others would return at last upon themselves. Those who cheat will be cheated. Those who slander will be slandered. For every lie you tell...you will be lied to. Brutality will meet with brutality. We get what we give and to the same degree. And not always from the same people with whom we've dealt. But somewhere...sometime...someone will treat you in like manner. The good that we do to others will return also. For your kindness to strangers you will receive hospitality in far places yourself. Understand the troubles of others who come to you with their souls bared...and when you cry yourself, you will be sympathetically understood. We get what we give. Like always attracts like. This is the law and it is inevitable. We cannot escape the results of our actions. We get what we give.

OCCers Enjoy Catalina Despite Wind, Chilly Water

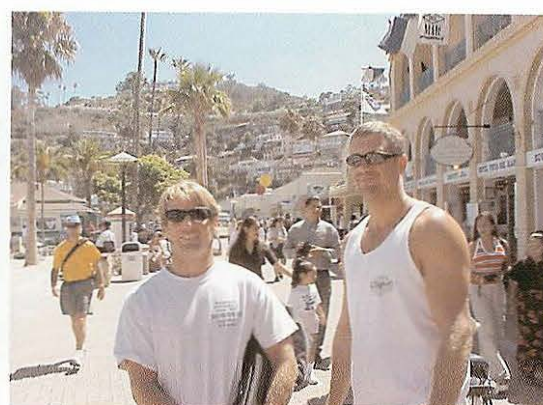

By David Homer
Head Coach

Catalina, here we come! The women of the Outrigger Canoe Club arrived two days early and were ready for the race out to Catalina from Long Beach September 11, 1999. Tom McTigue and the women prepared for the next day's race as usual and men's coach Kala Judd helped out with the rigging of the canoe. As it turned out, it was a good thing for Kala to be with the women and go with the women on race day to scout the water for the upcoming men's race.

Then they were off. The water was unseasonably cold for that time of year which made changes really tough on the body. Kisi Haine, Jen McTigue, Mary Smolenski, Diana Allen, Paula Crabb, Hadley Gaffney, Traci Selling, Lori Seto and Sara Ackerman really had to go through the worst of it all as the water was colder near Long Beach and the women had to start in that water.

Marc Haine and David Homer waiting for practice.

Billy Balding and Mark Rigg

As if it was not cold enough, a wind kicked up about half way through the race and turned the race into a bit of an upwind struggle into the chop creating a constant battle to stay warm. While all of this was going on, the Outrigger women were trying to catch up to the Newport Aquatic Center (NAC) team and were trying to hold off the Kai Elua team which was giving chase from the rear.

As the race came down to an end, our women were not able to catch up to the NAC team, and Outrigger finished in sixth place.

Then it was party time for the women. It was a really funny seeing the women relaxing and enjoying Catalina as all the men started into race mode. We were having a subdued crew dinner as some of our own women dropped in to spice up the restaurant.

Also on the scene was Outrigger member Rodman Muller who was going to help escort the men on race day. The men couldn't help but remain serious as we had a score to settle after finishing in second place in the Catalina Crossing in 1998. It wasn't going to be easy, but we were going to be ready.

The crew of Ikaika Kincaid, Billy Balding, Walter Guild, Andrew Glatzel, Courtney Seto, Marc Haine, Mark Rigg, Matt Rigg and Bill Pratt got off to a steady start and established a small lead. Perhaps it was not such a small lead after all as it continued to grow as time went on until Outrigger was out of reach from the rest of the field.

Outrigger was able to avenge the previous year's loss by winning the race by a healthy four minutes and 35 seconds over defending champion Lanakila. The race was uneventful except that the water was cold, especially as we approached Long Beach. Thankfully, the wind was not blowing as it was the day before during the women's race.

Club Captain's Report

By Tiare Finney

OCC Masters men just keep clicking along finishing second at the Queen Liliuokalani Race in Kona. They followed it up with a hard fought win in the Skipper Race. Keep up the good work.

Don't forget to sign up for the Castle Swim to be held Sunday, November 28.

OCC's golf group will be playing at Waialeale on the 19th. They always have a great time.

A special thanks to all my committee chairs for a wonderful year of fun in sports. Start looking for your replacements now for 2000.

Good job OCC women for a great Molokai finish. OCC fielded three teams this year and all did well.

Best wishes to you all and Happy Thanksgiving.

26th Annual Castle Swim on November 28

By Chrissy Lambert Rhodes

Just a reminder that our annual Castle Swim is coming up on Sunday, November 28. We'll be registering swimmers on the Hau Terrace at 8 a.m. and transport you to the start of the race on the beach fronting the Outrigger Hotel. If you would like to invite a family member or friend to escort you, that person should plan on arriving at the starting point by 8:30 a.m. Escorts are also welcome to join us for the complimentary brunch. The swim is approximately one and one half miles long, back to the Club Beach steps. A sign up sheet and course maps are available at the Front Desk. We look forward to seeing you all there.

Golfers Challenge Pacific Club on November 19

By Phil Sevier

August and September found the OCC Golfers challenging the windward side and what a challenge it was. On August 19th we went out with high hopes on the world's most challenging golf course. The Koolau Golf Course lived up to its reputation, but it was a glorious day in a wonderful setting.

The winners were:

Low Gross—Don Cutting with a 96.

Low Net Kane—1st place Bob Allin, 2nd place tie Jim Byrer and Richard Ferguson.

Winners of the yellow ball competition were Blake Johnson, Erik Herschold, Richard Ferguson & Lloyd Jones; 2nd place—Buddy DeBruyn, Sonny Lee Corey, Bill Tetmeyer, Frank Smith.

Closest to the Pin: Don Cutting & Phil Sevier.

On September 16th we traveled to Kaneohe Marine Base to challenge the Kaneohe Klipper Golf Course. The results were much better and it was nice to see a number of new members join our group of happy go lucky outstanding golfers.

The winners were:

Low Gross—Guest Phil Chin

with a 70.

Low Net Kane—1st place Robby Estes, 2nd place Bob Allin.

Low Gross Wahine—1st place Pat Bryan, 2nd place Gail Dolan.

There is no tournament in October. Due to a conflict we had to postpone the Mid Pac outing. Mark your calendars and sign up now for the November 19th outing as it will be a challenge with the Pacific Club at Waialeale Golf Club. Call Bill Haxton 734-3113 or Phil Sevier 262-0568 for details.

Do we have your fax number or email address? If not please call Richard Ferguson 396-4776 or Phil Sevier 262-0568 so that we can keep you up to date on the latest happenings and last minute changes.

Arrangements are being made for a Big Island outing on November 13 and 14. We'll stay at the Kamuela Inn and play golf at the Big Island Country Club and Waimea Country Club. We'll have dinner on November 13 at Parker Ranch Grill.

In November we will also be playing at Waialeale with the Pacific Club in a friendly cross-town challenge. Their club is all male, so we will meet their challenge and simultaneously run a wahine and guest tournament. This should be lots of fun and hopefully become an annual event. This tournament will be Friday, November 19th, Waialeale GC 12 noon.

In December we play Waialeale and immediately following this outing we will have a casual Christmas party/annual meeting back at the Outrigger. The cross-town challenge with the Pacific Club in a two man blind team format on Monday, December 13, Waialeale CC at 10:30 a.m. We must have a Waialeale member in each four-some. So all you OCC/Waialeale members please sign up to captain a team. We will give first preference to OCC members.

The Christmas party is open to all OCC Golfers who have played with us at least once during the year. The cost is partially subsidized by the Club, so the number of participants will determine our cost. Details will be posted on the bulletin board and in the golf folder at the Front Desk. Early sign ups are recommended.

Call Phil Sevier at 262-0568 for more information and reservations.

OCC Runners Enter Hana Relays, Run to the Sun

By Don Eovino

The focus of the running program culminates each year with the Hana Relays. Of all the running events that occur, the Hana Relays stands as a spectacular experience. The combinations of a Neighbor Island event racing over the most beautiful scenery in the world, mixed with participating on a team of six enthused runners of diverse personalities pushing their bodies to the edges of speed, results in an opportunity to have one's spirits soar. The race is not an endurance event, nor is it a sprint event. It is a race of 52 miles from Kahului to Hana divided by six runners over 18 laps.

Each runner races three legs. The terrain is usually dramatic and challenging, covering 650 curves, and up and down elevation drops from sea level to mountain top over 1,350 feet several times.

Leg 13 is the notorious 3.5 mile segment that is given to the person you least like on the team. Just kidding. It is two miles straight uphill followed by a 1.3 mile rolling downhill portion that changes into a handoff at beautiful Puaakaa State Park with an easily accessible mountain fed spring water pond and Jacuzzi-like pounding waterfall where one can quickly refresh his/her labored muscles for a few minutes before the team van urgently races on to the next hand-off.

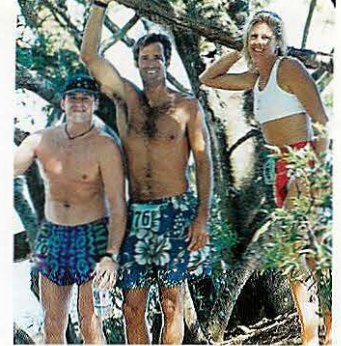

The Running Committee has developed a revolving perpetual trophy of a cut-off torso with name plates of each runner who does the leg each year. In 1991, Twain Newhart and Don Eovino challenged each other which resulted in a rivalry that goes on each year. Twain has completed Leg 13 eight times in a row, this year beating Don by 20 seconds. It has been Twain's signature event.

Two teams competed this year and with some creative adjustments it ended up with each team having a matched couple racing together.

Uli Frowein raced with his wife Terry Needels on a mixed team that included Chris Dawson, Joe Teipel and Don Eovino.

A faster team comprised of Stefan Reinke and his wife Lisa Reinke, raced with Tommy Damon, Katy Bourne and Matt Kresser. They took fourth place out of 38 teams in their division.

Matt Kresser, Tommy Damon and Katy Bourne wait for a handoff during the Hana Relays.

OCC's team in the Run to the Sun were Don Eovino, Bob Dewitz and Twain Newhart.

The team met Friday for instructions and race packets at Sam Choy's for a filling meal before a wake-up call at 5 a.m. Saturday. Both teams finished at approximately noon at Hana Ranch. They were greeted at the finish line by masseurs who would rub out their used muscles. Shelter from the sun came by way of a large tent provided by Grant and Beth Senner who live in Hana.

A grand party continued through-out the evening. We stayed at a home on a private lagoon facing Hana Beach. Dinner was prepared by Chef Don Eovino assisted by the support crew. A tired group of OCC runners quickly dropped off to sleep under a most picturesque starlight night.

Run to the Sun

Maui called again, one week after the Hana Relays, for the Run to the Sun. This is a 36.2 mile climb to the top of Haleakala which is 10,000 feet. The event has been going on for some time as an endurance event but added the relay portion last year. The relay allows one to compete in the event without having to race the entire course uphill.

However, as it was soon discovered, a relay team of three runners going 12 miles each isn't exactly a piece of cake either. The relay is broken into six legs of approximately six miles each. The task is equivalent of racing up to the top of Mt. Tantalus, resting two hours, and racing back up to the top again.

Because of the unpredictable weather conditions, the race starts at 4:30 a.m. This required a 2 a.m. wake-up call in order to attend a 3:45 a.m. race meeting.

Endurance runner Bob Dewitz had competed the Run to the Sun last year and had been training to do it again. However, a late call during the week from Don Eovino looking for one more runner to fill a relay team caused Bob to shift his priorities. Twain Newhart, running strongly at Hana the previous week, climbed on board and Don Eovino, also recently completing the Tantalus trek and Hana Relay back to back, figured his legs were prepared to attempt the summit.

The first leg was 7.3 miles from the Maui Mall to the base of Haleakala. This leg ran through the cane roads where burning fires lit up the stunning starlit night. Acrid smoke and total darkness to the extent you couldn't even see your feet in front of you, let alone the race course, made for a tentative first leg.

The toughest legs were given to Twain Newhart, the 3rd and 6th leg, since he seemed the strongest. Bob Dewitz had equally strong legs since his training level was up. The day turned out to be spectacularly beautiful with few clouds and a sunny sky. Don Eovino had the thrill of leg number four starting above the tree line at the 4,500-foot elevation.

OCC's team came in second in a time of 6:34 in its men's open division which made our day seem worthwhile.

ReKITCHENnovationnews

This is the LAST news on the Kitchen renovation, and aren't we glad! No more plastic "silverware."

And just in time for your Holiday Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's events. Come back to the Club and bring your friends for our usual spectacular Christmas decorations, always good food, and the holiday treats being prepared by Chef and his crew.

Because at press time for the magazine we don't know exactly the day we will be able to open the Koa Lanai and the adjacent remodeled bathrooms, you will need to check with the Front Desk or the Executive Office.

And when you come to your Club, we know you will be pleased with the changes and appearance of the Club.

Call us, come see us, come have fun.

Oldtimers/Kamaaina Get Together

Employee of the Month

For the second time, Cris Guzman, bartender, is our Employee of the Month. At OCC for 22 years, this was his first bartending job. He went to bartending school, and then came here to learn on the job from our now retired bartender guru, Anzai.

Those who have survived drinking Anzai's Banzai will remember this drink which is served only at Christmas, and is a truly memorable concoction. Cris is now the holder of the secret recipe to the drink which rivals the mai tai in its truly diabolical effects on your nervous system. Lucky it only happens once a year.

Cris and his wife of 28 years live in Kaimuki, have raised three children, all of whom graduated from college. They now have three grandchildren.

He has "only good things" to say about the Club, citing the OCC Family, the open atmosphere of the Bar and our no smoking policy as positives of his job.
