The pig was still roasting in the imu when streams of members and their guests arrived at the Club for the 91st annual OCC Lu'au. By the time the tender, juicy pua'a was exhumed from its oven of stones, banana stalks and gunny sacks, a huge crowd had gathered to watch the ceremony.

As soon as the imu was emptied, the sand was shoveled back into the puka and maintenance personnel quickly assembled additional tables in the area to accommodate the record number of people, over 600, who attended the Club's most popular social event of the year.

Flowers and greenery were everywhere. Huge arrangements of tropical ginger and fern were placed throughout the Club and plumeria lei hung from the rafters of the Hau Terrace. The tables were decorated with fresh pineapples, orchid lei and paper mache fish, along with lau'ai fern and assorted sea shells.

Auntie Kaleinani Brown and family members demonstrated the making of lei po'o and other lei fashioned from a magnificent assortment of tiny flowers, leaves and ferns. Pai'ea, a musical trio, strolled around the Hau Terrace and Koa Lanai setting the mood for the evening's festivities.

Three buffet tables eliminated long lines, and the ono selection of kau kau was mouth-watering. In addition to the kalua pig, guests enjoyed chicken long rice, lomi salmon, poke, opihi, rice, sweet potatoes and even a special "lu'au steak".

After an opening pule by Heather Murray, and a beautiful rendition of the doxology in Hawaiian in which the audience joined, the entertainment swung into full gear and continued throughout the evening.

The array of stellar entertainers included Kanilau and Na Hoku award winners Halau Na Mamo O Ka'ala, Teresa Bright and 1999 Na Hoku Hanohano champions, Pure Heart, with us for the second consecutive year.

Club president Jimmy McMahon paid special tribute to Henry Ayau, who not only planned and supervised the entire event, but pitched in with the rest of the crew to do the hard work as well. Henry also served as emcee for the evening, along with Miss Hawaii 1999, Candes Meijide Gentry.

Also honored were 50 year members who were in attendance:

Tisha Love, Maxine Rochlen, Alice Enos and David Rochlen.

R. Admiral (ret) and Mrs. Alvey Wright have always graciously combined their OCC membership with military hospitality and many members of the military have enjoyed our Club because of them. In July they gave an Aloha party for the Pacific Fleet Commander Admiral and Mrs. Archie Clemins. There were 30 guests, including local newsman Bud Smyser, and our own OCC past president Capt. (ret) and Mrs. Chuck Swanson. . .

June and Julie Wright enjoyed dining at Windows of the World in New York City recently.

Mary Ellen King hosted 20 retired Punahou faculty for lunch combined with talk and stories. They all enjoy seeing each other so much they do this every year.

John Crocker who has really big parties, entertained Jaffra Cosmetics International for not one, but two events. A lunch for 125 one day and another for 45 the next day. He didn't say if some people were eating twice, but he said the top management salespersons had a good time. . .

The Society of Military Widows meets twice a month, once for lunch and once for business. Kathy Cooper entertained a group of 40 in our Koa Lanai for one of their regular lunches, and they had an Ikebana demonstration in our beautiful setting.

Club President Jim and Kelly McMahon had an enjoyable evening dining at the Club with long time friends Art and Carol Katz. They were observing Carol's birthday. . .

Mabel Hagen hosted a brunch for 35 Ladies of the Beauceant and their husbands on August 22 at the Club.

All you basketball fans will be happy to hear that George Killebrew has been promoted to vice president of corporate sponsorships for the Dallas Mavericks NBA team. . .

On July 24, 80 boats carrying 461 women participated in the state's largest women's fishing tournament, the 4th annual Huggo's Na Pua O Ke Kai Wahine Fishing tournament. A very special catch in this year's tourney was an IFGA Junior Division World Record 154 pound yellow fin tuna, boated in 30 minutes by 12-year-old angler, Claire Parker. This was her first time fishing in the tournament with her grandmother Shirley von Platen, her mother, Lisa Parker, and her father, Capt. Randy Parker on the Kila Kila. Congratulations Claire.

Enjoying a great sunset were Mai Scharelle, Miss Hawaii Candes Gentry and Miss Shangri-La Jody Yip.

Spending an afternoon surfing in the Duke canoe were the Ayau family Logan, Makana, front; Henry, David and Leiala.

A Night of Nostalgia

By Barbara Del Piano

There were squeals and hugs and hearty laughter when more than 150 "old timers" got together for cocktails and dinner at the Club on August 30. The brainchild of Bill Barnhart, the evening was a reunion of present and former Club members, includ-

The kani ka pila began with a hula by Bonnie Eyre, whose husband Dean "Appy" Eyre accompanied her on the guitar. Randy Oness, once a big name in Hawaiian music, rendered a few Hawaiian "oldies". Blondie Boyd Erickson, former OCC paddler, flew in from Kona for the event. Blondie, who never travels without her "uke" played and sang while Ivanelle Mountcastle Choy danced the hula and Paul Dolan strummed the "wash tub base".

Pam Anderson and brother Bob Anderson were coaxed to take the mike and do a rendition of their father's (Alex Anderson) composition of the first Outrigger Club song.

One especially heart-rending moment during the evening came when everyone joined to sing the Hui Nalu song, made famous by the original beach boys. Although the words were printed on the back of the program, surprisingly, some people still remembered the words. "Let's do it again" was the parting comment when the evening finally ing many who hadn't seen each other since the '40s or '50s.

As old friendships were renewed and old memories shared, the years seemed to melt away and those halcyon days, when even a world war couldn't dampen the happy times, seemed like only yesterday. Old time nicknames, long forgotten, popped up and each familiar face from the past brought back yet another spark of nostalgia.

Some brought old photographs to share, and even the original recipe of Naga's mahimahi, the number one favorite at the "old club", was circulated, causing not a few mouths to water.

After a pule by Rita Fuller Kauhane, Paul Dolan took over as master of ceremonies. He and others continued the "talk story", dredging up yet more tales from by gone days. Bill Barnhart was honored as not only the instigator of the party, but as the oldest Club member and the one who has been a member longest of those present.

wound down. Don't be surprised to find the "Old-timers Get Together" become an annual affair. Others who flew in from the Neighbor Islands for the event were Roselle Robinson Armitage, Sissy Fuller Fink, and Shirley Moss Scott from Maui. Donnie Lord came in from The Big Island.

The Green Flash Is Back at OCC

By Gerry DeBenedetti*

This natural treat has inspired poets, novelists, explorers and sailors, and we at OCC are lucky enough to see it fairly often. When people tell you it's a myth, it rarely happens, or they've never seen it, here is some information to help you tell the truth.

The green flash can be photographed; we have such a picture in the Bar. Therefore, it has nothing to do with the persistence of the complementary color in the retina after one stares at the setting sun.

The green flash can be seen more than once in the same viewing; if you are in a canoe or on a boat on a wave, you can see it on the rise, and then when the boat falls with the wave action, you can see it again.

The green flash can occur at sunrise but it is more difficult to witness because you cannot follow the sun in advance.

The green flash, although usually green, can be blue-green, bluish, or even violet. You probably wouldn't recognize another color as the green flash phenomenon, just another gorgeous sunset in Paradise!

You can see it away from the ocean, from anyplace actually, all you need is a clear view of the upper rim of the sun's disc nearly touching the horizon. If this horizon is not the ocean, but something elevated--like a mountain--the sun will be too bright to look at for eye safety.

You need dispersion, absorption and scattering of the components of sunlight. When most of the orange and yellow light is absorbed by the atmosphere, and the light of the longer wave length has already set below the horizon, there is nothing left but a narrow green rim.

What happens is analogous to a rainbow, but in the green flash other colors are eliminated by certain gases and natural dust in the air.

Since the shift to green truly is a flash, if you blink, or look away for an instant, you will miss it. Also, if you stare (as we usually do on the Hau Terrace) at the setting sun, it will be more difficult to see. Looking toward the setting sun too soon causes the eyes to become less sensitive to green color.

Check the paper for the exact time of sunset (from where you are--remember for every 15 miles of distance there is a variation of a minute for sunset time).

Look up occasionally, watching the sun progressing toward the horizon. Do not stare. Stretch out your arm and raise a thumb to help block the glare. You want to only look at the "set time".

There is a book called The Green Flash and Other Low Sun Phenomena by Daniel O'Connell, who studied the flash and other aspects of astronomy and astrophysics. His book was printed in 1958 and is considered a definitive work for scientists and lay people.

As for historical references, ancient Egyptians referred to the green color occurring with the sunrise. Celtic folklore calls the flash a living light that has healing emanations. Jules Verne brought written attention to it in 1882. The Great Gatsby (F. Scott Fitzgerald) observed the "green light" at the end of a dock.

And the best quote of all is from Joseph Conrad who recalls in the sea "the wealth of green infinite and varied...you and the sea...the good strong sea, the salt, the bitter sea, that could whisper to you and roar at you and knock your breath out of you...weary eyes looking still, looking always, for something that is already gone, passed unseen in a sigh, in a flash."

OCC Golfers Go to Big Island

Mark your calendars for an OCC Golfers trip to the Big Island, November 6 and 7. Arrive in the early morning on Saturday the 6th and play the Big Island County Club. Overnight in Kamuela at the Kamuela Inn with no host dinner at the Parker Ranch Steak House. On Sunday morning we'll play at Waimea Golf Course before returning home. Contact Phil Sevier at 262-0568 for more information.

Outrigger to be Haunted on October 30

By Gerry DeBenedetti

All witches, goblins, and ghouls would do well to avoid the OCC Ladies Locker Room on Saturday, October 30th, at dusk. Tiare Finney and her demons, fiends and friends will be creating a Halloween Haunted House open from 6-8 p.m., the witching hours (and don't be late or you'll only get in on the clean up).

The Locker Room will close early that afternoon to allow the fiends and friends to prepare, so get your workout in early and don't expect a shower, you'll only find spider webs and great big gobs of gooshy grimy gopher guts.

This Haunted House is only available to OCC members in "odd" numbered years, so you won't want to wait until 2001 to be thrilled, chilled, and really scared.

This is not for the feint of heart. No unaccompanied children please. Come on Saturday October 30 from 6-8 to find the Ladies Locker Room transformed into a spine tingling, thoroughly haunted house.

ReKITCHENnovationnews

We are winding down our kitchen renovation. We will continue with our modified menus for the Hau Terrace during October, and part of November.

Any November dinner parties or special events should be reserved with the Dining Room.

You will be able to enjoy the Koa Lanai for our Holiday Season. Come to the Club for a wonderful setting and wonderful food.

Read the Kitchen Renovation News in November for the latest information. Please inquire at the Executive Office or watch for news and updates in the Lobby Bulletin Board about our Koa Lanai opening date.

Castle Swim November 28

By Gerry DeBenedetti

As soon as you finish reading this article, the Swim Committee recommends that you hit the beach and start practicing your ocean distance swimming.

Every year long time swimmers and newer members who don't "know", complain that they WOULD have swum the Castle swim if they'd started training earlier or they COULD have swum the Castle swim if only they'd gotten enough notice. HERE IS IT—your notice to start training, you have 58 days to shape up.

This is the 26th anniversary of the revived and reversed Castle Swim.

Sign up at the Front Desk to join us for the swim and brunch to follow, at no charge to swimmers and escorts. Maybe you'd like to escort a fellow member, also sign up and show up that day.

The date is Sunday, November 28th. Registration is at 8 a.m. at the Hau Terrace. Transportation will be provided by Club vehicles to the beach start.

New Members, for your information:

Eligibility—you must have your own membership number to enter, associate spouses without their own number are not eligible.

Course—1 1/4 mile from Old Club site in Waikiki to OCC entrance wall at the beach.

Sign up—Front Desk OCC, indicate if you are a swimmer, escort, driver.

Brunch—provided without charge for you and your escort.

Awards—male and female, junior, and every five years for adults.

The swim committee promises a fun time, weather, tide, current permitting and we will be glad to see a big turnout. Sign up now at the Front Desk. Look for more details on the tunnel bulletin board.

Keiki Christmas Party

This year, the annual Keiki Christmas Party is scheduled for Saturday, December 11. The luncheon buffet will begin at 11 a.m. Stevo the Clown and Rudolph the Reindeer will be on hand to entertain the keiki and create fabulous balloon sculptures.

At 12 noon, Stevo the Clown's special show will begin and run until 12:30 p.m. after which Santa will arrive by canoe to hand out goodies to all the children.

This event sells out early, so make your reservations at the Front Desk or call 921-1444. Be sure to include the number of guests and children. There is no charge for children under 12 and two adults. There is a $5 charge for each additional person.

This event is for OCC members only and closed to Guest and Reciprocal club members.

HCRA Championship

Hawaiian Canoe Racing Association officials decided that there would be no winner of the 1999 state championship regatta. The event ended in the dark on August 7 with officials unable to determine the winner of the last two events.

Hawaiian Canoe Club of Maui was leading Lanikai Canoe Club 291-285 in the AAA Division with 33 of the 35 events completed. Outrigger was in third place with 240 points.

"It was a really hard decision," said Mike Tongg, HCRA president. "Nobody is happy. It was a lose-lose situation but there was no protocol to decide otherwise."

Although the HCRA board was divided in its vote, members did agree a policy should be put in place to ensure the situation doesn't happen again. It will be brought up at HCRA's annual meeting in December. Other issues will be holding youth races on one day and adult races on another, earlier starting times and having better control over race sites.

Big Turnout for OCC/Hans Hedemann Surf Camp

By Terri Needels

Two sessions of week long surf camps were held in the waters off of the Outrigger in July and August. Juniors ranging from 6 to 16 were taught the basics of surfing, water safety and ocean knowledge as well as various surf riding techniques. This was the first time we have sponsored a surfing camp, which was run by professional surfers from the Hans Hedemann Surfing School.

The instructors first took groups of participants to the beach for land-based instruction and then coached from the lineups of the Silver Stairs and Tonggs surf spots.

Everyone caught lots of waves and became much more proficient at surfing by the end of the week.

Mahalo to the professional instructors and to OCC member Hans. Due to the large turnout and interest in this camp, we will plan on offering it again next summer.

Dad Center Race

This year's Dad Center race was changed from a nine member crew to a 10 member crew format for the first time. Since all other long distance races leading up to Molokai raced with 10 member crews, the Canoe Racing Committee decided to make the change. Racing conditions over the 24 mile course were optimal as the windward side from Lanikai to Makapuu Point was relatively calm, and the run from Makapuu Point to Outrigger full of surf to ride.

With many paddlers returning to the women's program after a year's hiatus, coaches Tom McTigue and Liz Perry utilized this race to evaluate potential.

Hui Nalu won the race by taking advantage of 1998 winner Waimanalo Canoe Club as it bailed during one of its weaker rotations. Puuwai of Kauai was third and Lokahi was fourth.

Mahalo to the men's crews for rigging the canoes for the women. Outrigger may not win every race but its equipment is unequivocally the best. The women paddlers also sincerely appreciated the expertise of Kala Judd, Courtney Seto and Walter Guild who offered to escort each the crews.

OCC 2 was particularly fortunate to have Walter authoritatively restore order out of chaos when the crew huli'd off of Blowhole.

Queen Liliuokalani Races

One hundred and six women's crews entered the annual Queen Liliuokalani Races over the Labor Day weekend, including five open women's crews from the Outrigger. This 18-mile race from Kona Bay to Honau-nau is now an iron race, meaning no crew changes. Only those crews entered as Masters or in malia canoes are permitted crew changes, and must start 15 minutes after the open crews.

The race started on time (quite a feat in canoe racing in Hawaii these days) on a glorious Kona morning.

OCC 1 steered by Kisi Haine captured 1st place in the Koa Division and an impressive 6th place overall finish. It was quite a sight to see the Kaoloa glide through the beautiful blue-green water at Honaunau, and the crowd that gathered at the finish roared both its approval and appreciation. The race was won by Waimanalo Canoe Club 1, followed by Off-shore, Hui Nalu 1, Tahiti, and Waimanalo 2.

Kona is a world class event that has everything for every paddler—elite competition, wide open participation (for anyone over age 16), gorgeous venue, powerful ohana, and just the best party.

For the women's program, this race was important in terms of developing future talent as two novice crews were able to participate.

Mahalo nui to our hardworking Canoe Racing Committee for helping to make that happen. Coaches Tom McTigue and Liz Perry were also gratified by the level of conditioning all the crews demonstrated.

Women's Results

Club Captain's Report

By Tiare Finney

Well we made it! Through summer that is! By now, you should all be settling in for the school routine and bracing yourself for the upcoming holiday season. OCC as usual will be busy.

The Men's Molokai will be on October 10 and who can forget OCC style Halloween on the 30th in our Women's Haunted House Locker Room.

For the sports minded "clothes horse", our Logo Shop will have its sale the entire month of October. Don't miss out.

Golfers will be playing Mid Pac on the 21st of the month and as usual, the Waikiki Roughwater Swim drew many OCC members.

The Daddy Haine VB Tournament was a wonderful day for all, shared by all Daddy's family and friends of OCC.

Member Sam Kamuela Man Fuller is pictured on the Forecast cover in his role as King of Aloha Week (Ali'i-au-moku). Inside is a picture of Duke Kahanamoku at age 20 in diving stance. The article describes how the Hawaiian crawl stroke combined with a 6-beat kick broke existing records wide open.

Member Vladimir Ossipoff opened bids received from contractors for Club improvements to add a cocktail lounge and move the soda fountain.

The annual Shipwreck Party was a time when the worse you looked the more likely you were to win a prize. You could wear a limu lei. Music was by Ken Alford and his Dixiecats; $2.50 per person.

On October 19, the Molokai-Oahu race went off in calm seas and cloudless skies with very little wind. A hot, dull day. The water sat there, neither a help nor a hindrance, making it monotonous and miserable for paddlers. There was no help from the steady sea, just hard man-killing work. No wind for an extra little push. Finishing in front of the Hawaiian Village, OCC came in second behind Waikiki Surf Club.

Oktoberfest was sold out, a "swing affair with some wild dancing on the Hau Terrace."

Member Dr. Harry Huffaker made good on his second attempt at crossing the Alenuihaha Channel between Hawaii and Maui. The following day, another solo channel crossing was made by Tommy Holmes who paddled by himself across the Molokai Channel in an 18-foot outrigger canoe. Time was nine hours in light seas. No escort accompanied him.

Edward J. Mullers returned to the staff as Dining Room Manager. Mullers was with the Club in earlier years departing in 1971. Before returning to OCC, Mullers operated his own restaurant in Lahaina for two years.

OCC members signed up for a Tahiti trip, round-trip fare: $293.

OCC won two of the three long distance paddles, winning the Dad Center Memorial Canoe Race for Women, and the Duke Kahanamoku race. The Dad Center race is named for the long-time OCC member and local international sports figure. Dad is credited with being the father of Hawaiian outrigger canoe racing in the early 1900s and did much to develop sports programs at OCC.

Parking lot construction was postponed indefinitely and storage areas converted into stalls. Bar drinks were raised 10 cents and beer 5 cents.

Australia was host to the newest international outrigger canoe race, located off the Queensland coast along the Great Barrier Reef. By virtue of winning last year's Molokai to Oahu canoe race, OCC was invited by the Hamilton Club. Host Keith Williams, owner and developer of Hamilton Island was one of the primary forces in starting up outrigger canoe racing in Australia.

The 25-mile race course ran around Dent, Hamilton and Pentecost islands in rough seas.

In the series on the Winged "O", John McMahon is featured; the awardee in 1976. One of the Club's best known and most loved members, he was one of the original innovators and organizers of the first major surfing contest anywhere in the world, including the Makaha Surfing classic. The Peruvian International Surfing Championships saw John carrying the banner of the OCC. There, he was guest, judge and darling of the senoritas. It would be safe to say that without John McMahon's concern for young people at the OCC, our surfing program would not have been what it became.

The 2nd annual Outrigger Invitational Water Polo Tournament was held in front of the Club on July 29, and reported in October.

OCC's 81st annual Luau saluted Alex Anderson, writer of many songs including Lovely Hula Hands.

The overall winner of the 5th annual Cline Mann Paddleboard Race was Pete Johnson with a time of 32 minutes, 20 seconds in the 5,000-meter race.

Outrigger men traveled to Catalina for the annual Catalina to Newport canoe race. OCC was about 1 1/2 hours from the finish line when the boat flipped. The crew righted the boat in some five minutes and still managed to finish a close second.

The Board of Directors increased initiation fees for Regular, Nonresident and Intermediate memberships, effective October 1.

Employee of the Month

Employee of the Month is Relief Supervisor and Hau Terrace Waitperson, Jay Parker, surfer.

Jay came to Hawaii from Florida because he wanted to surf, and he says he surfs everywhere. When he's not doing that he rides his bike and plays golf. He loves Hawaii, the scenery, the weather and the SURF.

He also loves OCC. He finds the benefits are good, his fellow employees are good to work with and he is, in short, happy.

He has been on the Hau

Terrace three years, and recommends the sauteed shrimp in red Thai curry, although you'll have to wait until the kitchen renovation is over to try his recommendation.

Liz describes him as pleasant, well groomed, humble, and definitely a "people person". This is the second time he has received this award. The first was last July when he was newly employed, so Jay has made a definite impression on management and the members.

Jay describes himself as single but not available, and lives very near OCC in Waikiki, close to the surf!
