Come Celebrate the Duke's 100th Birthday

By Marilyn Kali

Hawaii will celebrate the 100th birthday of longtime OCC member Duke Paoa Kahanamoku with a variety of activities this month.

The Outrigger Duke Kahanamoku Foundation will sponsor the Duke Kahanamoku Centennial Boat Day Ball on August 24 at the Hilton Hawaiian Village Coral Ballroom.

A benefit for the ODKF, the ball will feature a nostalgic voyage to the 30s, complete with a dockside sendoff, the Captain's Dinner and dancing in the Grand Salon.

Also on August 24, a dedication will be held for the new Duke Kahanamoku Statue at Kuhio Beach Park in Waikiki.

Duke was born on August 24, 1890 and raised in Waikiki as a child of the sea. Years of ocean swimming, surfing, body-surfing and canoeing honed Duke into a superb waterman.

At the age of 20, Duke burst into national prominence when he unofficially broke the world's record in the 50 and 100 yard freestyle. One year later, in 1912, he smashed the 100 meter freestyle record in the Stockholm Olympic Games and won his first gold medal.

Duke returned home amid national acclaim and with countless requests to demonstrate his new stroke. The stroke looked like the Australian crawl, but it differed in one important respect: instead of using a "flutter kick" to keep his legs near the surface of the water, Duke used his feet in a powerful up and down kick which drove him ahead much like the stern paddle wheel of an old river steamer.

Duke began competing in national and international meets demonstrating his new swimming technique and the art of surfing. He also taught water safety methods and inaugurated the use of the surfboard for lifesaving.

He introduced surfing in Europe, Australia and the Eastern Seaboard of the United States. Duke is also recognized as the first person to surf both coasts of North America, and today, is known as the "Father of Modern Surfing."

The 1916 Olympics were called off because of conditions in war-torn Europe, so Duke, at 26, was denied what many thought might be his last chance to win new laurels as a competitive swimmer.

But in 1920, Duke and some other Hawaiian athletes joined the American Olympic Team to compete in the Antwerp Olympics where Duke retained his title as the world's fastest swimmer by winning gold medals in the 100-meter freestyle and 800-meter relay.

Duke joined the Outrigger Canoe Club in 1917 but did not enter the Olympics to represent the Club because the Club had no funds at the time to help defray his travel expenses.

In 1922, Duke signed a five-year contract to star in several upcoming movies, but he found Hollywood not to his liking. In 1928, illness prevented Duke from competing in the Amsterdam Olympics, but four years later, at the age of 42, he was a member of the U.S. Water Polo Team in the Los Angeles Olympics.

In an amazing replay of his former glory, Duke swam the 100 meter freestyle in a trial meet in 59.8 seconds bettering his 1912 and 1920 Olympic performances.

This feat capped Duke's sensational Olympic career and he retired enjoying one of the longest athletic pursuits in Olympic history.

Back in Honolulu, Duke was more than ready to return to the life that he loved, swimming and surfing and at the same time, helping aspiring youngsters around the OCC to improve their skills in surfing, swimming and canoe paddling.

Duke's long love affair with the sea never ended. He remained a long-board surfer through the age of 50. At 60, he was Waikiki's best canoe steersman and guided OCC to seven straight state championships. He was elected Sheriff of the City and County of Honolulu in 1935 and later became Ambassador-at-Large, an office he held until his death on January 22, 1968 at the age of 78.

Some of the activities planned during the Duke Kahanamoku Centennial are:

August 14—"Remembering the Duke", Bishop Museum, 7 p.m.

August 19—Duke Kahanamoku Long Distance Outrigger Canoe Race. Start Kailua Beach Park, 8 a.m. Finish Duke Kahanamoku Beach fronting the Hilton Hawaiian Village Hotel.

August 24—Duke Kahanamoku Statue Dedication, Kuhio Beach Park.

August 24—Boat Day Ball, a benefit for the Outrigger Duke Kahanamoku Foundation, Hilton Hawaiian Village Hotel, 7 p.m.

August 30—Video Special on Duke Kahanamoku, KHET Hawaii Public Television.

August 27-31—Display of Duke Art, University of Hawaii Art Gallery.

August 31—"Duke Kahanamoku Through Hawaiian Eyes"—UH Campus Center, 5:30 p.m.

AS THE TERRACE TURNS

By Mary Machado

Guido Salmaggi sure had a big day on the 4th of July. He started the day by singing the "Star Spangled Banner" for Perry and Price, then opened the Macfarlane Regatta with his wonderful rendition of the same song, and then moved on to Kailua to sing it for the third time at the Kailua Parade. In addition, if you picked up the colorful MidWeek edition, you saw the feature story about Guido "Singing America's Praises."

Reserve Early for OCC Luau

By Mike Buck

The 82nd annual OCC Luau will be held on Saturday, August 25 starting at 6 p.m. The Luau is always a sellout so make your reservations early.

This year the Entertainment Committee has pulled out all the stops to bring you a special night to remember featuring three distinctively different musical groups.

Performing during the cocktail hour will be the up and coming trio, Kualoa, putting one and all in the mood for Chef Teruya's taste-tempting Luau buffet.

This year's menu includes mouth-watering selections like kalua pig, chicken long rice, teriyaki steak, mini laulau, mahimahi, lomi salmon, poke aku, sweet potato, opihi, poi and pineapple spears.

For dessert there's haupia, coconut cake, guava cake and chilled assorted fresh fruit. Kumu Hula Kaulana Kasparovich and his Lehua Dance Company will present a local style hula show. Kaulana and his ladies have garnered awards in the Miss Keiki Hula and group categories at premier hula competitions all over the state.

Kasparovich has established a long-standing reputation of excellence in his dancers, bring your cameras and get set for a real hula treat.

The word "nalu" in Hawaiian means surf or wave, and waves are constant motion. After the hula show, it's time for Nalu. This group was nominated for a Na Hoku Hanohano award in both the Most Promising Artist and Group of the Year categories, so great music and good fun are guaranteed. Maybe you'll even want to dance off some of the great luau kau kau.

Remember, seating is limited so don't be disappointed, make your reservations soon.

From your fresh lei greeting, to the haunting sounds of Aloha Oe, you won't want to miss Luau 90.

Motorcyclists Enter Mauna Kea 200

By Matt Kresser

Once again, the OCC motorcycle team ventured to the seemingly prehistoric slopes of the Big Island for the 15th Annual Mauna Kea 200 Enduro, May 26-27.

This is a race which pits man and motorcycle against the clock and the treacherous terrain of the ever changing Big Island.

Starting at sea level in Hilo and winding its way circuitously up to the top of Mauna Kea and back down again, the riders are faced with a wide diversity of environments.

The lower regions of the course include dense rain forests with saturated jeep and mule trails providing quick-sand like mud holes and gaping water crossings. Herein lie log jumps, rut traverses, limb duckings and the infamous Koi Pond.

After the steamy depths of the jungle, speeds increase over a section called Planter's Road. This fast section roller coasters over moss glazed rocks and shale.

Once past this section, the riders face consecutive lava crossings over fresh, jagged flows. One fall and you could be out of it.

On through the foggy elevations, the course climbs up to the crater where vegetation thins out until there is nothing but barren, wind swept and snow topped cinder cones speckled with the fallout of moonstones and over volcanic spews.

At this point, the air is cold and biting and breathing is difficult. Ironically, this is the most coveted part of the race. The majesty of The Mountain is so incredible that the race becomes insignificant. Win, lose or draw, the trip across the crater makes it all worthwhile.

The crew for this year's event had Walter Guild, Brant Ackerman, Brenton Block and Matt Kresser making the assault, while Al Serafin, Mark Kennedy, John Beaumont and Aaron Ackerman provided the backup and support.

Tiare Finney, alias "Mama Moto", a legend amongst local riders because of her pit-side prowess, surprised the troops with a finish line appearance as well.

Day one ended with Matt Kresser and Walter Guild each at 12 points and firmly in the top 10. Brant was forced to pull out because of an injury and Brenton, though completing the ride, was out of the running because of time consuming mechanical difficulties.

The speeds on day two picked up and so did the casualties. The infamous Koi Pond trail took its toll on many riders including Walter who suffered a double-drowning and was forced to play catch up for the remainder of the race. His point total was 44, good enough for fourth in his division.

Matt finished with 24 points and a ninth overall standing. The competition this year was stronger than ever with 125 entrants. Riders from all over the world were entered, making it a truly international event. Word has it that ESPN will cover the event next year, and you can bet that OCC will be there, ready to go.

AROUND THE CLUB

By Ray Ludwig, General Manager

At the June 28 board meeting, there were some policies adopted which you should be aware of. They are as follows:

Locker Decals

The placement of decals or stickers will no longer be allowed on the exterior of lockers in all the Club's locker rooms. You may place them on the interior if you so desire.

No Cigarette Sales

Cigarettes will no longer be sold in the Club effective with the depletion of our inventory.

I would also remind you that there are areas of the Club where smoking is not permitted. They are the Lobby, the Locker Rooms, Board Room, Business and Executive Offices.

Smoking on the Club premises by persons under the age of 18 is prohibited. Cigar smoking is prohibited in the Dining Room and the Bar.

Fitness Center

The Board also revised a policy pertaining to music in the Club's Fitness Center. The previous policy prohibited music of any kind. The amended policy permits music with procedures to control music selection and volume.

The Board also approved funding for the Fitness Center's music system in the amount of $300.

The Board also approved the Fitness Center's survey form. The form will be available in the Fitness Center so that the committee can better understand the needs of our members who use the facility.

Telecommunications System

After nearly two years of study, review, recommendations and evaluations, I am pleased to announce that we have finally come to a decision with respect to the Club's telecommunication system.

Our current system, a GTE 120, was installed back in 1978. I am told it is only one of two such systems currently in use in the state.

The Club owns the main attendant console and the control panel. The 33 instruments located throughout the Club are rented from Hawaiian Tel on a month-to-month basis. In addition we have a month to month maintenance agreement for our main console and our PBX.

We have serious concerns about the continued dependability of our present system. Given the frequency and duration of our down time and the difficulty of obtaining replacement parts, it was imperative that we take the steps necessary to provide a new system.

The Board reviewed proposals from GTE Hawaiian Tel, Tel-A-Com Hawaii and AT&T and elected to receive the proposal from AT&T.

The number one priority in the selection process with myself and the Board was providing a system which would best serve the members and of course provide the Club with the best value for its dollar. We believe AT&T's system will accomplish this.

We expect the new system to be installed and fully operational by this September. I am sure you'll be pleased as the new system provides many features that were not previously available on our present system.

New Koko Tile

Also approved at the June Board meeting, was funding for and selection of, tile flooring for Koko Terrace. We expect installation to take place some time in August.

The tile selection recommended by our Building and Grounds Committee, with concurrence of the Architectural Review Committee, is in keeping with the review of all the Club's hard surfaces and recommendations.

New Club Computer

And lastly, the Board approved funding for our new computer system. Our current Club computer was purchased in 1981 and has an estimated useful life of five years.

Our new computer system will increase reliability, be faster and have greater capabilities. Both the hardware (equipment) and software (programs that run on the equipment) will be replaced.

We decided to include in the new system point of sale capabilities. A point of sale system captures information as it is entered by the server. A good point of sale system will provide many advances over our current system.

The hardware selected was an IBM System 36. The software is by Watson Steach and Company. The decision on our point of sale system will be made at a later date.

We are planning to install the back office system as soon as possible and once we are certain that it's running smoothly, incorporate the point of service system. If all goes as expected the point of sale system should be in place by December or January.

All of the capital improvement projects are within the approved capital improvement budget for the current fiscal year.

4th of July

This year's July 4 party was, I believe, one of the best ever. I have received many favorable comments on the policies and controls implemented over the past few years.

As a result, we are seeing many more members participating in the after-regatta festivities here at the Club. I want to thank you for your cooperation.

I also want to thank our hard working staff. July 4 is a long day with a lot of activities and we simply could not do it without the support of the entire staff. I want to thank them all for a job well done.

Boys Win National AAU Championships

By Patrick Daily

In the first-ever national 12-year-old AAU Volleyball Tournament, held in Chicago, Outrigger Canoe Club came away with all the gold.

Twenty teams with nearly 200 boys representing New Jersey, St. Louis, Chicago, Great Lakes region, Kansas City and Honolulu played in as many as 18 games in three brackets.

The nine members of the OCC team that traveled and played were Nai'a Blankenfeld, Kaione Crabb, Kevin Crabb, Dylan Fern, Craig Gamble, Chris Johnstone, Jeff Lee, Koa Ostrem and Clayton Stanley.

The head coach was Tony Crabb and the assistant coaches were Bruce Blankenfeld, Denny Fern and Hoagie Gamble.

In winning the tournament, OCC won all five games in the first round-robin bracket, split two games in the semis, and won all 11 games in the single-elimination finals where our team was top-seeded.

Out of seven members on the tournament's All-America team, two are from OCC: Nai'a and Dylan.

Finally, to top off their champion efforts, the tournament's Most Valuable Player was our own Kaione Crabb.

Ogilvie, Cross Win Golf Tourney

By Frank E. Walton

Bill Ogilvie and Alice Cross were the low gross winners of the Club's June 5 Golf Tournament at Leilehua Golf Course. Bill shot a 76 and Alice a 95.

Eleven year old Jr. 'Rigger Parker McLachlin shot a respectable 102, only 11 strokes behind dad Chris and snagged one of the Closest to the Pin trophies. We'll be hearing more from this young man.

The 32 playing slots were filled and 13 were on the waiting list within three days after the signup sheet was placed in the folder at the Club Front Desk. With others waiting to sign, one who had failed to sign his OCC chit was replaced.

Unfortunately, one who had signed failed to show without having notified the Golf Chairman, thus keeping one of the standbys from playing.

Chips From The 19th Hole

By Frank E. Walton

Golf is perhaps the last remaining sport in which vestiges of sportsmanship and etiquette remain. We do not see players screaming at the umpires and referees as they do in tennis and basketball. Nor do we see players get into fist fights as they do in baseball, basketball, football and ice hockey.

When was the last time you saw a player in any other sport than golf calling a penalty on himself for a rule infraction no one but he himself was aware of.

The rules and etiquette of golf have come down from the Royal and Ancient in Scotland from more than 100 years ago.

They are, of course, based on basic common courtesy. We don't dally on the course and hold up the players behind us. We make it a point to keep up with those ahead. Much as it pains us, if we take 10 or 15 strokes on a hole, that's the number we put on the score card.

The slow play by one foursome at the Club's Leilehua tournament caused extreme embarrassment to Club Golf Chairman Jim Hammons. He has written a letter of apology to the General Manager of the U.S. Army Support Command. It is hoped that the slow play will not cause the Club to be barred from further play at the Army course.

Hammons has also written a letter of admonition to the four players involved in the slow play.

It is hoped that all Club players will make it a point to observe this basic rule of the golf course.

Next Tourney, August 29

The next Outrigger Golf Tournament will be at the Kalakaua Golf Course at Schofield Barracks on Wednesday, August 29 with eight tee times (12:29-1:18 p.m.). The signup sheet was placed in the Golf folder at the Front Desk on July 29 (the usual 30 days prior to the event).

Note that all players will be required to check in at the covered lanai of the Snack Bar/Pro Shop at 12 noon.

All golfers are urged to read the Notice to Competitors and Section I and Rule 6 of the Rules of Golf. If you do not have a copy of the Rules of Golf, you can get a copy from most golf pro shops for about $1.

Kudos to Hammons

Golf Chairman Jim Hammons has the Outrigger golf activity better organized and more efficiently operating than it has ever been. Although he is receiving strong support from his committee members, Jim is the prime mover and is deserving of the deepest appreciation from all Outrigger golfers.

OCC Spotlight: Snack Shop

By Nalani Blaisdell

If it weren't for the smiling faces, the view from the inner side of the Snack Shop could be grim: a sea of members' faces (some drenched) all requesting food.

But we at OCC are lucky enough to have workers who keep serving and smiling. It's all a matter of attitude.

Twenty-eight year old Lisa Yoshimura has been Snack Shop supervisor now for nearly two years. A graduate of Roosevelt High School, Lisa says she enjoys her job and looks for the humor in each day (i.e. indecipherable scrawls that "look like Chinese" and incongruous orders for "grilled" shakes, for instance).

Enden McNierney laughs aloud at the recollection. She says members often apologize for their writing and admit they have trouble reading their own signatures. Lisa and Enden come to the OCC with similar backgrounds: both were food service management students at Kapiolani Community College.

Enden, however, was born in Java. She is the mother of two.

Twenty-two year old Malala Pei is the Snack Shop's cheeriest worker. Born in America Samoa, he is a Farrington High School graduate who tends to make his co-workers laugh with frequent jokes and songs.

Amy Sunahara is the Snack Shop's senior worker. Born and raised on Parker Ranch in Kamuela, Amy comes to the OCC after nearly three decades at the Moana Hotel. She has two sons and five grandchildren.

The Snack Shop has three student workers: Erin Wright, Lei Mahi and Stacy Farias (the daughter of entertainer Karen Keawe-hawaii). All say they enjoy being at the Outrigger, working with one another and making our days a little brighter.

So the next time you're at the Snack Shop counter, consider the view from the other side (and the heat—about 10 degrees higher).

After all, it's summer time, and where would we be without the Shop!

OCC's Best Chefs

By Kathy Merrill

This is Shawn Moynahan's favorite addition to any mega party, especially after winning a paddling regatta! It's a great robust Italian pupu.

Bruschetta

4 to 5 tomatoes (about 1 3/4 pounds)
2 tablespoons minced garlic
1 small onion minced (about 1/2 cup)
1 cup fresh basil leaves
1 teaspoon fresh lemon juice
Salt and coarsely ground black pepper, to taste
1/3 cup plus 1/4 cup extralight olive oil (Bertolli's)
4 cloves garlic, slivered
8 soft french bread rolls

1. Cut tomatoes into 1/4 inch dice and place in a bowl. Toss with minced garlic and onion.
2. Chop basil coarsely and add to tomatoes, along with lemon juice, salt and pepper and 1/3 cup olive oil. Set aside.
3. Heat 1/4 cup olive oil in a small skillet. Saute slivered garlic until golden, 2 to 3 minutes. Discard garlic and reserve oil.
4. Cut each french roll in half and toast under the broiler until golden. Arrange toasted halves on a serving platter. Brush garlic-flavored oil over each slice, spoon tomato mixture over the bread and serve immediately.

Serves 8 as an appetizer.
