Outrigger Women crown undefeated Season with Liliuokalani win

by Tim Guard

Outrigger's women's distance crew verified their claim to be the best in the State by winning the prestigious Queen Liliuokalani Canoe Race, held in Kona on Saturday, September 3. The following day, though, was a day of disappointment for the Outrigger men's "A" crew as they dropped a hotly-contested companion race to the inspired and determined Hui Nalu Canoe Club.

Saturday's 11-mile grind from Keahou Bay to the City of Refuge was all Outrigger. Strong and smooth-stroking, the six starting paddlers, racing in "Kakina," jumped out to an immediate lead, never to be challenged, even in the early going when the competition was trying fiercely to keep up with OCC's speeding ladies. When Outrigger made its first change some 20 minutes out from the starting line, "Kakina's" separation from the rest of the fleet became even more pronounced. And as the race wore on, OCC's precision and finesse further worked their toll on the opposition.

By the time Outrigger's nine rounded the final jut of land and headed towards the finish line at Honaunau, 28 other canoes were wallowing in our women's wake. Finishing in second place, five minutes behind OCC, was host club Kai Opua, and Kailua's entry captured the show position. For the record, Outrigger's finishing time of 1:36.10 was nearly two minutes slower than the record time they clocked in 1976. But conditions were a bit rougher this year and veteran Kona coast watchers say an adverse current took away any chance of posting a new record.

Coach Tom Conner was effusive in his praise of Outrigger's women. "The strength of this crew," said Conner, "rests with their incredible spirit and their attention to fine details. Their changes in and out of the canoe, for example, are flawless, giving the crew an advantage of two or three boat lengths over the opposition every time we rotate paddlers. They're far from being the largest or, for that matter, the strongest women's crew, either, but each paddler is versatile and adapts quickly to changing conditions during the race. They are one of the best crews I've ever coached."

Paddling on Outrigger's championship crew were Karen Jones, Tracy Phillips, Kisi Haine, Jill Andersen, Anne Nicol, Evie Black, Sharon Bintliff, Connie Maguire, and Michele St. John.

Senior Men take a hard-fought second in Kona race

by Tim Guard

Outrigger's senior men, augmented by Colin Perry, Aaron Young, and John Finney, had high hopes of winning the Liliuokalani three years in a row by taking Sunday's 17-mile race from Honaunau to the Kailua-

Kona pier. And indications were, during the first five miles of the race, that the OCC owned exclusive rights to first place. The starting crew paddlers jumped off at a phenomenally fast pace, quickly opening five boatlengths of clear water between "Kakina" and its closest pursuers out of the record field of 39 entries. As the OCC approached Kealahou Point, only Imua, from Southern California, and Hui Nalu were in a position to challenge for the lead.

At this point, Hui Nalu, working an advantageous inshore course and making the most of a slower, driving stroke, began eating away at Outrigger's lead and, after a short head-to-head duel, moved out to a two boat length advantage. Despite the frequent juggling of crew combinations, steersman Mike Lemes' course adjustments, and a few choice words calculated to work a "head trip" on Hui Nalu's paddlers, OCC steadily lost ground, eventually finishing three minutes astern of Hui Nalu. Hui Nalu's winning time of 2:20.59 was some 13 minutes off the record for the distance, set last year by Outrigger.

In his race postmortem, paddler/coach Tom Conner had a hard time masking his disappointment. He pointed out to his paddlers that last year's Molokai race proved that the Tahitians were vastly superior to most, if not all, Hawaiian crews and for the Outrigger to overcome that advantage, it would have to be winning consistently in local competition, by substantial margins and in fast times. He added that the interruption of Outrigger's winning ways takes on special significance when viewed in this context. With this year's Molokai-to-Oahu canoe race just six weeks away, much remains to be done in order to mount a winning effort.

But Connor's confidence is hardly shattered. "You may be sure that we'll be working doubly hard during our practices," he said. "Our objectives, leading up to our date with the Tahitians on October 16th, are to see that every paddler is at the peak of physical conditioning, to refine our paddling techniques and eliminate all of the small, annoying mistakes we made in the Kona race, and to prepare ourselves mentally for what promises to be the toughest canoe race the Outrigger has ever entered."

The Molokai-to-Oahu scorecard reads: Hawaii/OCC, one win; Tahiti, one victory. Outrigger would dearly love to win the rubber match.

Paddling in "Kakina," OCC's koa entry in the Queen Liliuokalani Race, were: Perry, Young, Einney, Conner, Mark Buck, Marshall Rosa, Brant Ackerman, Mike Lemes, and Tim Guard.

The crew of OCC's glass entry, which finished in 13th place overall, included Hugh Foster, Roger Cundall, Mike Clifford, Jay West, Hugh Murray, Jay Pynchon, Alan Rosehill, Willie Hawthorne, and Jim Peterson.

Molokai - Oahu Race — promises challenges, and keen competition

by Jeff Kissel, Chairman Canoe Racing Committee

On October 16, the canoe racing season will close with the most prestigious race of the year — the Molokai to Oahu Canoe Race. When the first rays of sunlight shine on Hale O Lono harbor, a fleet of forty canoes from all parts of the Pacific will start to race for Magic Island.

Competition will be keener this year than ever before. In addition to the exceptionally strong crews from Tahiti we've seen a marked improvement in our own as well as other Hawaiian crews. Depending on wind and sea conditions the '77 race could be the most exciting ever.

A great deal of controversy surrounds this year's event. Aloha Week Inc. is the race sponsor, and the rules that govern it are written and administered by a special Aloha Week Committee. It was with difficulty that the paddlers convinced the committee to start the race from Hale O Lono instead of Kaunakakai, thereby returning to the original concept of a channel race.

Controversy has raged over hull design. What is a Hawaiian outrigger canoe? Until this year no attempt had been made to draw up any more than a weight specification. Partly because of the stunning performance of the Tahitians in their own hull last year, several individuals and clubs, ourselves included, designed or constructed canoes which, while definitely not Tahitian, were significantly faster than present Hawaiian hulls. Basically these fiber glass boats are prototypes for future koa canoes, as fiber glass is both less expensive and easier to modify than

koa. At present there is an active search for a suitable koa log for a new canoe for the Outrigger.

Change is always unsettling to some and the change in hull design is no exception. Our club has always upheld tradition, and at the same time, made major contributions to the improvement of all of our fields of athletic endeavor. The construction of the new canoe, Manu'Ula is no exception. It represents new and better equipment in the best tradition of athletic endeavor. As one of the principal custodians of the finest traditions of canoe racing, it is our duty to pursue every avenue for the fullest development of the sport.

The Hawaiian Canoe Racing Association is reacting to the effort to modify canoe design by drawing specifications which will tend to minimize the changes permitted to the present hull design and preserve the substantial investment which the clubs have made in koa canoes. This is understandable. It was for economic reasons that the Outrigger chose to make its new first hull of glass.

This is a time of transition just as the period after World War II was a time of transition. Then a weight standard was established, and the six-man racing canoe took on its present appearance. These times are difficult, but with a reasoned approach to the problems and a dedicated group of individuals, new ideas are given an opportunity to bloom. We emerge stronger and more able to cope with the problems of the future.

It appears that the Aloha Week Molokai/Oahu Race Committee has decided against permitting advanced canoe designs in this year's race. Even without the new hulls, the event will be a tremendous challenge for the participants. The Outrigger paddlers would appreciate your support, not only for their efforts on the race course on October 16 but also in their constant endeavor to bring new and more challenging dimensions to this sport.

'77 Roughwater Swim was rough

by Gerry Senner

Eight OCC members joined a field of 321 entrants in the September 5 8th Annual Waikiki Roughwater Swim from Sans Souci Beach to the Hilton Hawaiian Village, 2.375 miles away.

Good swimmers were slightly off their mark. This year's winning time of 51:48, by a Santa Monica, California 17-year-old, was five minutes off his winning time last year. Weaker swimmers found their times much slower than in '76, when there were very good sea conditions.

OCC won at least two trophies. (Final results and official times are not yet available but will be posted on the Bulletin Board.) Eve Anderson (1:34:26) was second in the women 35-44 group and Bonnie Eyre (1:39:49) was second in women 45 - 54.

Bonnie was a late starter and fast finisher who began working out only after she saw the swim clinic chart in the women's locker room. She took part in all four of the August Swim Clinics.

The eight OCC contenders were: Ian Emberson, Gerry Senner, Cassie Senner — the only Junior Member — Jake Updegrave, Bonnie Eyre, Bruce Ames, Eve Anderson, and Jon Haig.

Escort canoes provided by the Club, a sponsor of the race, were steered by Kahea Chock and Peter Balding and crewed by Colin Chock, Don Nicol, Pam Larson and Jessie Nicol. Mahalo to the escorts. The women's surfing hui also stationed its members at each marker flag.

Castle Swim November 27

The Castle Swim is an annual OCC event held the Sunday after Thanksgiving. Open to OCC members, spouses and children, the course is from the old Club site at the Outrigger Hotel to the present Club, a distance of approximately 1½ miles. Twenty-three swimmers entered in 1976 and a large turnout is expected this year. Transportation to the start; paddleboard and canoe escorts, and a beer brunch at the finish are provided.

To and For All Club Members

Initiation Fee Raised

The initiation fee for Regular and Non-Resident members has been raised to $2000. The new fee is applicable to all candidates whose sponsors were not interviewed by September 1st. The new initiation fee applies to those 35 and older. Applicants 30 to 35 will pay $1500 as before.

Outrigger Circulation

Individuals who are not receiving The OUTRIGGER and believe they are entitled to it, please contact Fran Pearson in the Business Office. We are trying to limit distribution to one copy per mailing address, but we believe there may be individuals, such as separated spouses, entitled to copies who are not getting them.

Presentations at OCC Functions

If any Club member has any kind of presentation to make at any OCC function, please clear it with the Entertainment Committee first.

From the Building and Grounds Committee

Currently on the agenda of the B&G Committee are preliminary plans to lengthen or widen the Snack Bar and consideration of installation of restrictors in the shower heads in the locker rooms. The Club uses over 1,000,000 gallons of water a month. 666,666 of these are for showers. PLEASE HELP US TO CONSERVE WATER. Your suggestions for improvements at the Club are welcome. Please address them to Robert Moore, Chairman, B&G Committee.

Pete Tica

Pete Tica Named Employee of the Month

Pedro "Pete" Tica has been named Outrigger Employee of the Month.

This honor comes to him on the tenth anniversary of his employment at the Club.

During the past decade he has earned a reputation as one of the most capable, hard-working members of the staff, one who constantly shows initiative and who has a highly developed sense of responsibility.

Pete's chief duty as head of dining room utility is the cleaning and maintenance of all the carpeting in the DR and cocktail lounge. He is the only member of the staff with the experience to run the Club's deep steam extraction equipment.

Congratulations to Pete, a worthy recipient of this honor.

Harry Robello takes Outrigger Fall Golf

by Frank Walton

With a sparkling two over par 73 featured by three birdies, Harry Robello outclassed the field in the Outrigger Fall Golf Tournament at Olomana on Tuesday September 6.

Tied at 80 for second place were Dick Rowe, winner of the Spring Tournament, and Henry Stotsenberg.

Anita Fleischaker shot a steady 101 to annex the Ladies title, with Ann Chapman second at 104. Ladies low net went to Roma Rowe with 106-37-69.

Mens' Class A Low Net was won by Dick Rowe with 80-15-65.

Longest drive honors went to Henry Stotsenberg and Delta Helbig, while Bill Capp was Closest to the Pin.

Thirty-four players participated in the outing which was held under cloudless blue skies.

Tennis Love-Ins

by John Michalski

The OCC Tennis Team lost its City League opener 2:3 to the Kilauea Racquet Club. Our winners included Dennis Berg, Sparky Petre and Jane Affleck. On September 18, OCC plays the Warped Racquets; on September 25, ATTI; on October 2, the Racqueteers; on October 19, Frayed Gut; on October 16, the Waikiki Rockets; and on October 23, TJFF (Tennis Just for Fun).

To further enhance OCC tennis we will publish in the next issue our OCC tennis rankings on a ladder and encourage those who want to ascend the rankings ladder to challenge those above them to a best of 2 out of 3 sets played without the "Add-point."

The OCC Club Championships will probably be held in November or early December. Watch the Tennis Bulletin Board for details.

Sydnee Arth is working on a package tennis deal at Wailea for interested members, and Barbara Norfleet is planning the fall tennis fashion show.

Hot foursome (l/r): Pat Olds, 3rd, Class B low net; Red Berglund; Bill Capp, 3rd place, low gross and closest to pin, and Bob Peterson.

Swim Clinics Recap

by Gerry Senner

August Swim Clinics were held on the 8th, 13th, 20th and 27th with 22 participants, including Dick and Sue Rapson, Gerry and Cassie Senner, Bonnie Eyre, Jake Updegrove, Mary Pat Larsen, Penny and Mark Bradley, Kim Brooks, and Jim Caldwell. Four of these people entered the Roughwater Swim on September 5. The clinics proved beneficial for open ocean training and courage building.

Special thanks as always go to our canoe and boat escorts. Without their help swimmers could not go out. Those who volunteered or were last minute draftees are appreciated: Neil and Tommy Ifversen, Wayne Faulkner, Walter Guild, Ruth Updegrove, Desmond and Darwin Brooks, Jerry Ober, and Ron Sorrell.

OCC's FIRST ALL CLASS SAILING REGATTA

BIG SUCCESS DESPITE MINOR GAFFS

by Bob Costa

A diving raft and a big fishing boat (with ten or so lines trailing) parked themselves amidships on the race course for the Club's first "all class," 80-boat regatta last mid-month. And despite repeated cautioning from race committee officials refused to budge.

What the divers may have thought of the clusters of ten different hull-shapes skimming murkily overhead is unknown. The fishermen, however, lost a beautiful lure, snagged when OCC's Dale Hope (winner in his class) crossed one of the fishing lines in his Hobie 14.

These were two of a clutch of minor flaps and misfires which could have marred — but rather contributed to the flavor of excitement, spontaneity, indeed success of — the big event. As the Star-Bulletin's Jack Wyatt proclaimed in his column, "OCC scored high in all departments," a judgement drawn from the upbeat mood and comment of visiting skippers from nearly all Oahu yacht clubs — OCC's guests.

But: There were Rose and John Langenheim (race chairman) all alone (for the first race at least) on the top deck of the committee boat coping with the massteria of recording the starts and finishes of 80 boats in ten different classes, each with five-digit sail numbers, on three different race courses; and some skippers were confused (initially) by the "S" on the chalk board announcing the race courses — did it stand for Starboard (turn directions on the markers) or for Start Mark? (it was the latter); ashore at mid-break the free beer was not easy to find and the scrip for food purchases by visitors failed to show on time, forcing the beleaguered Snack Bar to cope with cash; at day's end there were a passel of protests (mostly cheerful) to compound the frenzied scoring paperwork; and finally there were the non-sailing, non-participating Hau Terrace lounge lizards who vultured the elegant food from the pupu table (for skippers and crews) as though the scarfing was their duty, if not their privilege.

No matter. Wind and sea conditions were splendid for brisk racing. Most competitors performed with skill and grace. Trophies were presented in style. Winners glowed.

For recordkeepers: Regatta entries included 18 Lasers; 15 Cal 20s; 13 Hobie 16s; nine Hobie 14s; seven Prindles; five Rhodes 19s; four Tornados; three Scorpions; three Nacras; and two Sol Cats. Six catamaran classes; four monohulled craft. Race date was Sunday, Sept. 11, 1977, off Waikiki.

And the winners were:

Hobie 14 — Dale Hope, OCC; Hobie 16 — Stu Schroeder; Cal 20 — John Shaw, Waikiki YC; Tornado — Okie Payes, WYC; Scorpion — George McPheeters, OCC; Rhodes 19 — Charles Mays, Pacific YC; Nacra — Herb Andresen, HHCA; Prindle — Jim Pate, Kaneohe YC; Sol Cat — Mike Griggs, Sol Cat Ass'n; and Laser — Bill Campbell, Pearl Harbor YC and holder of national championship trophies.

Club Commodore Dave Hoffman and race chairman Langenheim still are throwing bouquets aboard the Nauti Gal for owner-skipper Judge (Ret.) H. H. "Rudy" Buchanan, WYC, and his crew in recognition of their invaluable and competent committee boat service. Club beach captain Wayne Faulkner, as always, was there too to set some of the marks, monitor at least one race finish line and provide superefficient chase-boat service in the Club whaler.

Ahoy, mates. The 2nd annual intra-club four-class regatta begins Sunday, Oct. 9. See ya' there.

SAILING REGATTA SET

The Second Annual OCC intra-Club Sailing Regatta — for Scorpions, Lasers, Hobie 14s and 16s — is scheduled Oct. 9 through Nov. 13. Race dates: Oct. 9 & 23; Nov. 6 & 13. Two races in the morning, one in the afternoon. Trophies

Members are urged to sign up now at the front desk.

RIGGERS

by Frances Pearson

Congratulations to Robert Miller and Margaret Miller, married August 27 after a 10-year friendship-courtship. Wedding was at Bob Stewart's overlooking Honolulu and the Pacific. Who popped the question? Perhaps writer Bob Miller will "talk story" and tell you. . . Sauna lovers, take note. The newly affiliated Aspen Athletic Club features "coed steambath and coed sauna" along with other far less exciting perks. According to the Club's brochure there's television viewing in the weight room and whirlpool but apparently not in the coed facilities. A judicious omission. . . IVA "Coach of the Year" is Dodge Parker, whose Orange County Volleyball Team won the National Championships in El Paso. This is Parker's third straight year as member of the championship team. . . Stephany Sofos has become the youngest graduate in the state of the Realtors Institute of Hawaii. She's now known as a "GRI." Last year her brother Steve became the youngest male broker in Alohaland. . . Special kudos to Cassie Senner whose first Waikiki Roughwater competition was heroic. Her official time was 1:37:46 but she disqualified herself and swam out of class to help her mother, Gerry, who was temporarily blinded by salt water. With encouragement — "Come on, Mom, you can do it" — Cassie swam at Mom's pace while Gerry followed her voice all the way to and across the finish line. . . Congratulations to newly married Janice Cook and Rick Ostfeld who tied the knot July 31st in Santa Cruz, California at the UC-SC campus. Janice is the daughter of Bunnie and George Cook. . . Club Captain John Beaumont won his class — the over 40 — and placed ninth overall in the Kauai Hare n' Hound motorcycle race. . . Mahalo to Thomas Somermeier, Jr., Beverly Hills non-resident member, who sent in identifications for the group photo of OCC and Hui Nalu members of some years back recently published in The OUTRIGGER.

CRUISE 16 SERIES OFFERS FREE SATURDAY SAILS FOR MEMBERS

by Bob Costa

The new "Cruise 16 Series," a project of the Club's Sailing Committee, offers members a chance to cruise offshore Waikiki aboard the Club's bright red-sailed, white-hulled Hobie 16 Saturday afternoons — noon to 5 p.m. Cruises depart the beachfront on the hour.

Skipped by a qualified Club crew, the Hobie 16 accommodates two passengers per cruise — all age groups welcome. Cruises are free to members, their families and guests. Guests must be accompanied by a member on the sail. Members should sign up at the beach desk.

Purpose of the Cruise 16 Series is to afford non-sailing Club members an opportunity to experience the thrill of a sail off Diamond Head and to enjoy some of the Club's equipment — specifically, the new Hobie 16 which the Club acquired last winter in exchange for its contribution to the successful November '76 Hobie 16 World Championship Regatta off Waikiki.

Saturday free cruise schedule of course is contingent on the weather.

OCC Maui Channel Team Adrift

by Gerry Senner

At 9:45 A.M., September 3, Rick Davis, Captain of the Kanaloa, reported the transmission out 58 minutes after the start of the Maui Channel Swim, with OCC swimmers one hour off Lanai and approximately one-third of the way through the 9-mile race to Lahaina. At that point OCC was in second place, pressing hard for first.

The Captain, Swimming Chairperson and Team Captain Jimmy Dean made the sad decision to withdraw. Fred Heywood, our second swimmer had been in the water for over 30 minutes, so Captain Dean called to a nearby rival escort boat to get Heywood back to the distressed ship at 10:00 A.M. Frantic efforts at repair and equally frantic efforts to continue by sail were of no avail. The wind died and left the Kanaloa becalmed. Occasional bursts of wind carried her a short distance back toward Lahaina until at 2:00 P.M. a rescue vessel, the Hydronaut, came to tow the sunburned and thwarted team and crew into Lahaina Harbor.

OCC team members were Archie Hapai, Fred Heywood, Ian Emberson, Tom Davidson, Roger Cundall and Captain Jimmy Dean. Only Hapai, who led off from Lanai in a close race with the Waikiki Swim Club A Team, and Heywood, who swam his 30 minutes plus, were in the water at the time the Kanaloa broke down.

Four- to five-foot swells made the race rougher than the 1976 record-setting three hours, 17 minutes set by the Waikiki A's, who also won this year in three hours, 33 minutes.

Many OCC members were involved in organizing the swim. James Caldwell was the overall chairman of the entire event, and OCC members Lloyd Campbell and Jack Stanford captained escort boats for two mainland crews.

Kanaloa crew members, besides Captain Davis, were Admiral Val Davis, first mate and shark shotgun Red Berglund, coxswain Jeff Davis and cabin girl Pam Davis. Team supporters included Bob Cooper, Pat Caldwell, Ann Cundall, Cassie Senner.

Volleyball Finals

Jim Iams and Randy Shaw won the state championship mens doubles volleyball final by defeating Charlie Jenkins and Jon Andersen. Third place in the annual open event went to Mark Rigg and Chris Crabb.

State champions in womens doubles are Tracy Phillips and Kisi Haine who took the title by winning over Anne Hogan and Mary Perry.

The 4-man Calcutta event was won by Peter Ehrman, Tom Shoji, Bill Baird, and Kahea Chock. Runners-up were Chris Crabb, Fred Chuckovich, Wayne Kekina, and Mike Roddenberry.
