OUTRIGGER CANOE CLUB

HONOLULU, HAWAII

FEBRUARY 1971

ANNUAL MEETING

YOUR BOARD OF DIRECTORS FOR 1971

L-R Front Row: Bill Wilson, Karl Heyer III, Thad Ekstrand, Haydn Phillips, Paul Cassidy, Peter Balding. Back Row: Bill Kea, Cline Mann, Campbell Ross, Roy Kessner, Jack Brown, Wakefield Mist, Rab Guild, Tom Haine.

Thad Wayne Ekstrand, President.

NEW OFFICERS

At the meeting of Board of Directors held on February 25, 1971 the following officers were elected:

President..... Mr. Thad Ekstrand
 Vice-President..... Mr. Thomas Haine
 Vice-President..... Mr. Peter Balding
 Secretary..... Mr. R. W. Mist
 Asst. Secretary..... Mr. William Wilson
 Treasurer..... Mr. Jack Brown
 Asst. Treasurer..... Mr. Paul Cassidy

The meeting this year was perhaps the largest in turn out since the great days of debate ten years ago when decisions were being made to move the club house from Waikiki to its present site. There was additional incentive to attend this year provided by the Board of Directors and the club management who together, hosted a fine buffet dinner for all eligible voting members who signed in and attended the meeting. The turn out brought people who for this writer are seldom if ever seen at the club, the power of a free meal is an awesome thing judging from the attendance.

To begin the official portion of the meeting, Joe Stickney announced the election of the new and reelected members of the Board of Directors. They are, Jack Brown, Robert W. Guild, Roy C. Kesner, Jr., James H. Hakuole, William M. Wilson, Karl Heyer III, D. Campbell Ross and Haydn H. Phillips.

There were 1,128 members entitled to vote, 636 votes were cast, of which 24 were not counted—18 because of delinquency in Club accounts, and 6 that could not be identified—leaving a total of 612 valid ballots. (This compares with an all-time high of 753 set last year, and 635 in 1939).

This year's meeting was an active and sometimes intense one. There were many proposed changes to the Bylaws of the Club. These changes were the result of many hours of careful study by a committee of three, composed of Cline Mann, Rab Guild and Wakefield Mist. Most of the changes involved only cleaning up the wording of already existing rules and proposed no substantial change in the rule. These changes were quickly approved by the membership in a group rather than one by one. There were however, some other changes proposed that the membership had divided opinions on. Most notable was Section 27. The controversy centered around granting voting and attending privileges to the Intermediate class of membership. There were many opinions on the matter and it was the subject of some rather spirited discussion from the floor. One could sense the feeling shifting from one point of view to the other as each person in turn presented his or her point of view. When the final vote was taken on the amendment, it became clear that the voting membership assembled desired to

NEW ENTERTAINMENT

Come and listen to the piano stylings and soft singing of Roberta Djididich. She has been playing at the Hawaiian Village Hotel and Pagoda floating restaurant during her tour of the islands. Coming from a musical family, Roberta, has acquired many years of study in music.

Roberta is currently teaching music at the elementary school level as well as playing for the Club. She is playing from 6:30-10:00 p.m. on Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays.

On special request, she might be coaxed into playing her guitar also.

A new young sound is now being heard each Saturday night from 6:30 to 10:30 p.m. by "The Friends of Mine." This vibrant group consists of three students from the University of Hawaii and plays an assortment of popular tunes.

Our very popular "Sunday Manoa" trio continues performing every Friday night from 6:30 to 9:30. Come down for "Happy Hour" from 4 to 7 p.m. and stay on for the trio.

It's no secret, that crime in all forms abounds these days, one can hardly go about life without defending himself in some way against those who would injure him if given the chance. Until lately however, one could at least lower his guard when at sea, surfing, sailing, canoeing, swimming or whatever. Well the sea used to be a sanctuary but not any more. Mike Holmes and Bob Anderson were sailing their Hobie Cats, and Bill Capp surfing in the area in front of the Club called "Old Man's" on Thursday, February 11th, in the late afternoon, when a volley of bullets sprayed all around them. The men got off and under their boats and boards to avoid being hit. Some of the shots came close. In all, it was estimated that perhaps 10 shots were fired. Lots of luck, world.

PARKING

Your 1971 Parking Decals are ready at the front desk. There will be a charge of .50c for the pair of decals, one of each which should be placed on the right front bumper of your car and the right rear.

accept the amendment as presented, their being a clear majority of hands in favor.

It was clear that the committee who had drafted the changes to the Bylaws had done their work well, as the membership approved each and every one of their recommendations. It was also good to see the membership assembled take an active and interested position in the affairs of their club.

Following, are excerpts from the various committee reports which were delivered in the course of the meeting. These reports printed below do not represent the individual reports in their entirety, for those of you who wish to read the actual report, please stop at the front desk and ask for the report you wish to read.

TREASURER'S REPORT, PAUL R. CASSIDAY, CHAIRMAN

1970 was one of the Outrigger's better years in that substantial financial progress was made.

Our total assets increased by 4.4% while our liabilities decreased by .9%. Members equity went up by $70,000, a 6.7% increase, to a total of $1,105,000. We also paid down our largest liability, the mortgage on our buildings, by $31,000 and its balance has now been reduced under $300,000 for the first time.

We have 4 principal sources of income, and in order of size they are food, dues, beverage, and initiation fees. This year they contributed over 90% of our income.

The gross sales in the food department improved almost 60%. This was accomplished two ways—one, by a reduction in the cost of goods sold percentage from 40.2% to 38%, and two, a reduction in Departmental Expenses from 70% to 66.3%. The largest saving was in a reduction in Payroll and related expense of 8.2%.

Beverage sales declined to 4.7%, a drop from 1969. Again, however, good managerial control allowed the department to show an improved performance with a 10% increase in Departmental Net Profit. This was attributable to a slight reduction in cost of sales and a reduction in Department Expense from 52.4% to 50.3%. Here again payroll savings was the largest single contributing factor.

Dues increased only slightly from $427,000 to $437,500, by 2.4% while initiation fees jumped from $59,700 to almost $81,000, a $21,300 increase or 36% increase. 1970, of course, should show the full effects of our change in dues structure.

A word about expenses. They showed increases in two general areas—administrative and repair and maintenance. G & A expenses rose by $19,100 to $282,300, an increase of 7.3%. $12,300 of this or 64% was in Payroll and related Expenses, and the balance in a wide variety of costs.

Repairs and Maintenance showed an increase of some $9,500 to $55,000 almost equally divided between increased payroll expense and other. One other expense increase, totally out of our hands, should be commented on. Our real property taxes increased by $7,900 or 22% to $44,400.

Our income before depreciation increased 42%. Our net income after all expenses increased 93%.

The Outrigger's finances are healthy, but our margins are not large. While our investments total over $102,000 the need for replacement and rehabilitation is constant, and only by a stringent control of costs can the needs of the membership be satisfied within the present dues structure.

SECRETARY'S ANNUAL REPORT, R. W. MIST, SECRETARY

The Board of Directors of the Outrigger Canoe Club held eleven regular meetings, and the Executive Committee of the Board held ten meetings. At each of these meetings a quorum was present, and minutes of the proceedings were duly recorded. Copies of these minutes are available for inspection by regular members of the Club upon request.

In addition to the regular meetings of the Board and the Executive Committee, sub-committees, comprised of members of the Board, met on numerous occasions to deal with special assignments mandated by the Board. All actions and recommendations of such sub-committees were subsequently ratified or approved by the Board.

During the year 1970, 265 new members were admitted to the Club, and 125 memberships were reactivated or reinstated. During the same period, 89 former members resigned, 27 died and 35 memberships were cancelled or suspended. At year-end 1970 total club membership was 3,105, a net gain of 151 members during the year.

The Board acted to increase the quota for intermediate members from 300 to 325 to accommodate junior members required to transfer into this class. No other changes in membership quotas were made.

ADMISSIONS COMMITTEE, WILLIAM WILSON, CHAIRMAN

The Admissions Committee held 44 regular meetings this past year, and took in a record number of applicants in every category. The 276 members admitted were divided into the following categories:

Senior	1
Regular	62
Intermediate	33
Associate	17
Junior	119
Service	10
Nonresident	26
Other	8
(2 Honorary, 6 Special Service)

The committee also used group meetings for all Junior applicants between ten and fifteen years of age. Bringing them in in groups kept many from waiting several months for membership and gave the opportunity of having an officer of the club speak to them. Junior prospective members over fifteen were given individual interviews.

The non-resident category was opened bringing in many people who were using the club in a reciprocal capacity through the slower winter months.

Though the emphasis was on the younger families that will grow with the club, there was an effort to achieve a proper mix of membership classifications with due regard for well-qualified older members who will make a substantial contribution to the club.

Committee members: William Crittenden, vice chairman; Theron Bean, Mary Currier.

With the help of James K. Hakuole, Coordinating Director, this group put in many hours for the Outrigger Canoe Club.

THE BUILDINGS AND GROUNDS COMMITTEE, VICTOR LARSEN, CHAIRM'N

The Buildings and Grounds Committee is divided into the following subcommittees:

- New Construction
- Beach, Water Pollution, Public Relations
- Allocation of Space
- Landscaping and Decor
- Maintenance

The major project completed during the year was the addition to the kitchen and the installation of walk-in chill and freezer boxes. A great deal of time has been spent trying to get approval for the installation of a fence between the Colony Surf and the club, and the club and the Elks Lodge. The committee developed a proposal for a second floor bar and lounge. This was deferred by the board as being too costly. They worked with the House Committee on a layout and estimated costs for modifying and relocating the snack bar near the Hau Terrace. This project was also deferred by the board. New lighting was installed in the directors' room.

Plans have been prepared for drainage improvement adjacent to the snack bar. Plans were drawn and prices obtained for closing in the bar area during inclement weather; this project was also deferred. Storage lockers were built in the kitchen. It has been suggested that the area between the lobby and dining area be closed over; this is under consideration at the present time.

The committee is now working on a method of remodeling the surfboard lockers to prevent the surfboards from being removed without authorization. The Maintenance Subcommittee has been very active, working with Mr. Van Dorn, accomplishing much housekeeping and repair.

The Landscaping Committee has been extra busy—you may have noticed one of our members devoting many long days of his time in planting, trimming and taking care of the beautiful vegetation around the club. At present plans are being worked on to install planter boxes around areas where sand is sifting on the sidewalks. The Beach and Pollution Committee is constantly checking with the city and county with respect to water conditions at the beach.

The Allocation of Space Committee has spent quite a bit of time searching for a place to buy or lease where we could store our canoes and provide an area for maintenance of furniture, equipment, and members' boats.

Members of the Buildings and Grounds Committee this past year:

- Edmund J. Watson
- George Brangier
- Charles B. Henderson
- Celia Podorean
- Nancy M. Bannick
- Raymond F. Cain
- Mark E. Lawson
- Nels L. Soderholm
- Theron W. Bean
- J. Robert Carney
- Haydn H. Phillips
- Keith K. Wallace

HOUSE COMMITTEE, DAN DI-SESA, CHAIRMAN

The House Committee worked closely with club management on the attainment of standards of excellence in the food and beverage operation, and in those areas of personnel and club administration which were within its jurisdiction. They also correlated their activities with those of the Building and Grounds Committee.

During 1970, the food and beverage operation produced a profit. There was an increase over 1969, which represented three times the profit of 1969. The cost of sales was reduced 1.7%; and direct expenses were reduced 3.2%. Net income for 1970 is 7% of sales versus only 2% in 1969. Peter Van Dorn and his staff have done a tremendous job in attaining these results.

Other areas of work in 1970 included:

- a) Implementation of the kitchen additions;

- b) Institution of revised parking and traffic control regulations;
- c) Review of employee benefit programs;
- d) Study and restatement of job descriptions and profiles;
- e) Examination of quality standards of service and product within food and beverage.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE ATHLETIC COMMITTEE, PETER BALDING, CHAIRM'N

1970 was another active year in athletics at the Outrigger Canoe Club. There was excellent participation by the membership, and our members and teams brought back many honors to the club. A brief recap of the year:

Volleyball

In volleyball our six-man hard-court team competed in all the major tournaments in the state and took first-place honors in the State, Hickam, Outrigger, and Haili tournaments. In May the club sent the volleyball team to the A.A.U. Championships in Los Angeles, and later that same month three teams represented the club in the National Championships here in Honolulu. Throughout the year club members also placed high in all the major hard-court and sand-court doubles tournaments.

Canoe Racing

In 1970 Outrigger Canoe Club crews won the Walter Macfarlane Regatta, the Oahu Championships, the State Championships on Kauai, and all the other major regattas during the regular season. In addition, the club had representative crews in the Lanikai-to-Waikiki Race, the Waikiki-to-Pokai Race, winning first and second places, and the annual Molokai-to-Oahu Race. Three members also participated in the Catalina Race in California as part of an all-Hawaii team.

Surfing

Throughout 1970 the Outrigger Surfing Team members competed in most of the major meets in the state, and many placed high in their respective divisions. In addition, the club sent representatives to the World Championships in Australia and the International Championships in Peru. During the summer the club's annual surfing contest was staged and the club champions were crowned in six divisions.

Sailing

During 1970 our sailing program was also very active. The club sent representatives to the Kauai Yacht Club races, also co-hosted the Hobie Cat National Championships in October. During the summer the first annual club sailing championships were held and club champions were crowned in two divisions.

Mountain Ball

In Mountain Ball 1970 marked the most competitive season ever in the Surveyors' League. The team played well and was able to bring home 2nd place honors to the club.

Other athletic activities during 1970 included a golf tournament, an inter-club tennis tournament, also a very successful Junior Athletic Summer Program.

THE PUBLIC RELATIONS COMMITTEE, BOB COSTA, CHAIRMAN

Accomplishments (A summary of highlights)

A—Counseling

Again, the Committee feels that among its more valuable contributions to the Officers, Board and Management of the Club are the recommendations and counseling it can offer on matters which affect the membership or the public-at-large, attitudinally. In 1970, the Committee reviewed several matters brought to its attention and offered counsel on its own initiative on others. Overall, this activity declined in comparison with the previous year.

B—Press Relations

The Club enjoyed generous, positive coverage of its activities (mostly athletic) in all media during 1970.

There are more than 260 press clippings in the 1970 scrapbook; this amounts to about one public exposure per working-day during the entire year. While the total number of clippings is fewer than those of the previous year, they are bigger, more photographic, more commanding, by and large.

Major events covered were:

1. In May, the U.S. National Volleyball Championships played at the University; there was extensive

TV coverage with Channel 4, locally, running a film of a 2-year-old game in which the Outrigger team played.

2. The Summer Canoe Season included 5 regattas from Kamehameha Day to August 1; newspaper coverage of these featured photos of Outrigger crews in all events.
3. The October Molokai Race.
4. The 2nd Annual Hobie Cat Nationals, a special feature in Honolulu magazine.
5. The Harry Huffaker Oahu-Molokai swim enjoyed an intense press build-up, though weather ultimately cancelled the event.
6. Surfing meets included the Duke Classic, Makaha and the first Smirnoff International event co-directed locally by Fred Hemmings and Paul Strauch.
7. The mid-summer Multi-hull Transpac Yacht race focused a great deal of attention on the Club.
8. The "Round The World Run," with about 100 members participating, started during the year.

C—Club Information

The major accomplishment of the year was in the re-design, name change and revised format of the Club's monthly membership publication—formerly The Forecast, now The Outrigger. The new format in the continuing evaluation of the publication has received generally favorable acceptance and is regarded as performing a more effective service in communications with the membership.

The Committee was active in the promotion of other forms of membership communications such as billing stuffers, postcarding, and has made recommendations on the establishment of a central club calendar to improve dissemination of information regarding Club events.

D—History

The principal 1970 objective of the historical sub-committee was to prepare The Outrigger Club History book for publication. And The PR Committee is pleased to report that the goal has very nearly been achieved. Execution of the historical committee's work has been the exclusive assignment of Harold Yost. He has completed a 200-page text, made a nearly final selection of photographs, supervised black and white and color photography of the Club's present facilities and worked with a printer and art staff to produce a preliminary dummy.

In a matter of weeks, final copy and layout, photos and firm printing costs should be ready for Board approval.

A special committee was appointed by the PR Chairman to explore marketing of the history book; the committee has made several recommendations for distribution and sale of the book.

ATHLETICS

Neal Ifversen shows Club trophy to be presented to the Club Waikiki at Lima, Peru. Brant Ackerman is representing OCC at the International Surfing event held near Lima. Neal is a judge of the meet as well as Peru's Consul General in Hawaii.

Action at Keehi Lagoon.

For an action packed afternoon, something a bit different in physical combat, attend the Rugby games held each Saturday afternoon thru March 22 at Keehi Lagoon Field. Game times are 2:00 and 4:00 p.m. There will be All Star games following the 22nd with mainland teams from St. Mary's College in California and the Oak Bay Wanderers from Vancouver, B.C.

Steve Scott and Timmy Guard, both well known for their athletic involvement at the Outrigger, play for the Hawaiian Harlequins, a team made up of players from Honolulu, the business community and service people. There are four teams in the local Honolulu league in addition to the Harlequins, they are the East-West Center, South Pacific, Tongan Vikings and the Samoan Internationals. Many of the players from the latter three teams come from South Pacific areas formerly under British influence and where Rugby is a national pastime. The games are quick and fast and for the uninitiated seem to be without rule or regulation. After a few games however, one sees order in the apparent chaos and learns to appreciate the fine ball handling and kicking ability of the players. For something different and really good fun to watch come out to Keehi Lagoon. Also, see Tim or Steve if you think you would like to play. There are many potential Rugby players with the club they need only discover themselves.

OUTRIGGER CANOE CLUB GOLF TOURNAMENT

April 2nd, Friday, we are having an exclusive Golf Tournament for members of the Outrigger Canoe Club. It will be played at the Olomana Golf Links starting at noon. Ladies Division will tee off at 12:00 with the low handicap division to follow. The "Wild Bunch" (those over 30 handicap) will then be unleashed to roam and destroy, bringing up the rear.

There will be four divisions, 1st and 2nd low gross and low net, lower half and upper half Wild Bunch and of course the ladies. Long Drive—closest to the pin and worst player will be honored and insulted. $8.50 entry fee includes cart and green fees, beer and pupus, and a favor from Olomana and a sand trap full of fun. Lots of prizes.

Sign up at the front desk—entry fee will be charged to your account. Include your handicap — (honest handicap). Girls check with Pam Anderson, Ladies Golf Chairman, for arranging your foursome — the men will be sent out by handicap or you can make up your own foursome.

We had a great time in our last get together—sign up early—all members welcome.

Shannon Hager at the Carnival.

The 1971 Punahou Carnival is now over and so are a lot of grand memories of fun (and not so grand memories of work). Congratulations to the Juniors who made it a fantastic time for all. And to the Seniors who helped with the Variety Show. Our members seem to have quite a bit of talent! (Will we soon be seeing George McPheeters' or Shea Reiner's or Barry Hall's names in lights?)

The weekend was fun filled with sunny skies and a lot of reacquaintances with fellow members. A few seen there were Jerry Ober watching rehearsals. The Hugh Fosters keeping busy chasing their little one around. Also on the scene, Donny Mailer along with Nicky Foytich, Cline Mann and Nancy Foytich.

We found a couple of our Junior members wrestling this year, Brad Brown and Craig Smith. Congratulations to Craig for winning his weight division in the ILH. Craig now goes on to the State finals.

With the awards banquet this month it will be a fun time for all of us. Mostly to recall wonderful memories of a past year. Hope to see you all there.

THE VOLLEYBALL TEAM'S BOUILLABAISE DINNER: A FUND RAISING EVENT WITH MUCH SPLASH

To help defray expenses of getting themselves to Binghamton, N. Y. this May for the Nationals, the OCC Volleyball Team joined forces with American Airlines and together invited members and guests to a Bouillabaise Dinner at the club on a Monday night, when the dining room is closed.

This didn't bother the team. They brought their own food, straight from Sky Chef's kitchens at the airport, where it had arrived from the East Coast and been cooked that day.

The menu, which included fresh New England lobsters and clams cooked in a tomato-base broth, salad, wine and toasted garlic bread, was apparently a winner as 400 tickets were sold at $5.00 a head.

Donated decorations were great big bibs from Nick's Fishmarket and Reuben's and great big plastic bags from American Airlines, the latter presumably for leftovers.

Everyone pitched in to help this first-of-a-kind joint venture. Team members kept tables supplied with wine, their wives sold drink chits and Jack Smart of American Airlines and Larry Vandling of AA's subsidiary, Sky Chef's, heaved a sigh of relief.

During the cocktail hour, we spotted Tina Berger in a nifty "hot pants" suit; Priscilla Berenzweig with her own jealously-guarded pupus — Maui potato chips; Bud Ackerman hosting a flurry of females as several husbands were out of town.

Dorothy Wilson thought the bouillabaise so good, she took some home.

The "splash" came after the successful dinner, when the young bucks on the team threw All-American, Olympic player and team honcho Tom Haine ceremoniously into the surf.

You should have been there.

The stew is made. L R: Bob Moore, Andy Homan, Chuck Haneberg, Tony Crabb, Chris Crabb, Tom Conner, Bill Heilbron, Tom Arnott.
