FORECAST MAY SUSPEND PUBLICATION

At a meeting of the Forecast Committee held at the YWCA October 18th, the following recommendations were made for presentation to the Board of Directors at their meeting October 19th. Upon reviewing the recommendations the Board requested that they be published in this issue of Forecast.

1. Publication of the Forecast be discontinued with the December 1961 issue.
2. That the Board resort to some other means of regularly communicating with the membership through use of a mimeographed sheet giving them ongoing reports not only from the Board but also from all the Committees.
3. That serious consideration be given to the resumption of an appropriate publication upon completion of the New Club or at such time as the Club's Committees are in a position to regularly make reports to the editor of the publication for the consumption of the membership.
4. That serious consideration be given to appointing one person on each Committee as responsible for turning over to the Editor of your publication the necessary news.

Present at the meeting were Mari-echen Jackson, chairman, Harold Yost, Rusty Thomas, Ed Greaney and Forecast editor Genie Pitchford.

NEW CLUB PLANS READY FOR SHOWING

Last month's Forecast told of the revised schematic plans showing a club-residence concept at the Diamond Head site. While it was indicated that the plan had the general approval of the steering committee, nevertheless problems involving circulation and space allocation have necessitated certain changes and improvements by the associated architects, Ossipoff and Wimberly, during the past month. The plans are now acceptable to the committee and will be presented to the membership at an early date.

BLASTING WILL GET YOU SWIMMING

The recent drilling and blasting in the water fronting the Diamond Head site have been tests conducted by a firm with whom the club hopes to enter into a contract for the clearing of a large swimming area and channel. The same contractor expects to do similar work for the owners of the adjoining Colony Surf, and participate in the venture.

LONG MAY THEY REIGN!

Sargent and Anna Kahanamoku were king and queen of Aloha Week this year and a more representative couple of Hawaii we cannot think of at the moment. The fact that they are members of OCC has no bearing on this opinion, of course! All that we've seen and read about the convincing fashion in which they played their roles leads us to believe we might even return to the splendor of the days of the Monarchy. Among the members of the royal court were Sam, Louis and Dave Kahanamoku who certainly added to the authenticity of the sovereign group.

The bar will be closed at 10:00 p.m. Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

J. A. MacCosham And Company Get Big Treat

As he did last year, John MacCosham once again treated the Molokai-Oahu canoe paddlers to his scrumptious, personally selected steaks which were served at a dinner held on the Sundeck October 18th. The crew ate and ate and ate and those big, thick, juicy, wonderful steaks disappeared quickly as a piece of ice in the sun.

Others who joined the paddlers in their Good Show, Fellows dinner, plus Mr. and Mrs. MacCosham, were another Mr. and Mrs. John MacCosham (son of the Steak King), Mr. Tommy Calhoun, Ward Russell, Cline Mann, Dad Center, Toots Minvielle, Philip Kaihui, Bill Jackson, Jane Lewis and Genie Pitchford. Jake Tudor kept an eagle eye on the steaks to make sure they were not sidetracked while enroute from the kitchen to the MacCosham table.

The bar will be closed at 10:00 p.m. Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

IN THE STILL OF THE NIGHT

Photographers had a field day (night?) on October 4th when Kodak Hawaii turned four-billion candlepower floodlights on surfers, swimmers, catamarans and canoes just off the Club's premises. More than a thousand photographers witnessed and participated in the new "shot in the dark" experiment. Fritz Herman, vice president and general manager of Kodak Hawaii said a project of this kind has never been tried before and if it proves popular enough with photographers the show will be repeated on a regular monthly or semi-monthly basis.

We sure hope so. The Dining Room had an overflow crowd that night.

OCC's assistant treasurer, Bill Cross, has been appointed manager of the Keeaumoku Branch of the Bank of Hawaii. Bill had been manager of the Kaimuki Branch. A move in the right direction (towards the Main Office), eh?

Charlie and Jackie Martin are on a whirl of a trip half way around the world and back. They left October 11th (via PAA of course) for Seattle where they were to make connections with a plane for London. Thence to Vienna for their car which would take them to such places as Austria, Rome, Paris and Germany. All that in only 3 weeks. Small world, no? This is the first time the Martins have been on a vacation together since they parent-ed three daughters.

Dunno if the Martins saw the Wilford Godbolds before they left. The WGs may have been able to give them a few hints as they returned recently from a similar jaunt. Also visited with their son Woody and his wife on the Mainland and had a peek at their new granddaughter.

Ward Russell was among the travelers in October also, having "done" Chicago, Philadelphia, Washington AND London. Expected to be gone "for a few days" and ended up being away for 4 weeks.

Rear Admiral T. L. Becknell, Jr. and Mrs. Becknell wrote a letter of appreciation to OCC for "making us honorary members which we deeply appreciated and will always remember." They have returned to the Mainland after a tour of duty in Hawaii.

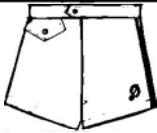

Fritz Herman is starting out November with a very important event. On the 1st he and June Bartholomew were married on the Mainland. During their honeymoon travels Fritz will introduce his bride to his company associates at Kodak in Rochester, N.Y.

October was full of orange blossoms for OCC members too. Pat Stanley and Howard Lang were married during the month. So were Doris Brown and Karel Vietsch, who exchanged vows at the Gordon Chung Hoons' home. Cupid also claimed Alan Delpech and Mary Hamilton who became Mr. and Mrs. in October.

Maris and Dick Gray said Hip Hip Hooray October 2nd upon their arrival of their third keiki and first kane, Richard Gilbert.

Pappy and Mommy Sorrell, popularly known as Ron and Carol have an addition to report to the Census Taker next time he comes around. It's their brand new daughter, born September 22nd.

COMMITTEES! WHERE ART THOU?

Sixteen committees were appointed earlier this year to help guide the affairs and activities of OCC and boy, what a Forecast we'd have if y'all reported on your activities. Your own committee may not have met since your appointment, but there must be some committees that meet from time to time. We'd like to "read all about it." Listed below are the 16 committees and their chairmen from whom the Forecast would certainly welcome occasional reports in order that the membership could be kept informed of action proposed or taken in the interest of the Club.

Admissions, Bud Ackerman.
Athletics & Club Coach, Tom Haines.
Bar and Mess, John Chamberlin.
Beach services, Bob Anderson.
Building & Grounds, Vince Danford.
By-laws, Jim Muirhead.
Canoe, Charlie Martin.
Disciplinary, Bob Anderson.
Executive, Ward Russell.
Forecast, Mariechen Jackson.
Building Fund, Leslie Hicks.

Insurance, Wilmer Morris.

Junior Affairs, Johnny McMahon.
Ladies' Entertainment, No committee.
Men's Entertainment, No committee.
Special Membership Drive, Reynolds Burkland.

There are also committees working on plans and financing for the new clubhouse at the Elks Club site.

All contributions will be gratefully received!

INTRODUCING MARGO BENTLEY from Suva Fiji. Margo has recently joined Malia, Eva and Florence at the front counter in welcoming you to OCC when you visit the club. When she left home for the first time a month or so ago she went directly to New York where she thought the bright lights and excitement of the big city would be a thrilling experience. However, in just one week's time Margo realized that from Fiji to New York in one jump was just too much of a change. So she back tracked to Honolulu.

Though she didn't know anyone here a "friend of a friend" had heard that OCC was looking for just such a person as Margo. So presto! And like that. Margo's at OCC.

Margo spoke French at home until she was seven years old. Then when she started school she learned English... and with a delightful accent, we might add. Her parents and two brothers live in Suva.

Malia has a thing to say about Things In General, much to the delight of co-worker Florence, Jack MacKenzie and Vi La Fontaine. Scene of the bolding forth was at the recently held employees' picnic. Read all about it below.

IT WAS A GASSER!

On Monday the 9th of October, 40 employees of the club enjoyed a wonderful all day outing and picnic at Jake Tudor's home in Hauula. According to all reports everyone had lots of fun, lots to eat, and lots of music and dancing. To add to the enjoyment Henry prepared a huge platter of his famous sashimi which was gone in no time. Plus that the revelers had hamburgers cooked bar-becue style, cheese, baloney, crackers, pickles . . . you know.

Pete really worked his way through the affair by giving out generously with his guitar music and 'tis said that Malia was "the leader of the band." And you must ask Margaret, Ruthie, Malia and Jane about the "bullshots" which were very popular with the people. Malia was sorry she forgot her bathing suit too, because she was really all fired up to go swimming.

Some of those dropping in to witness the hilarity were Toots Minvielle, Jack MacKenzie, Roland and Hazel France, the Johnny Hollingers and Doug Carr.

And they really earned it the hard way when they fought turbulent waters with swells up to 20 feet, rain squalls, wind, fog and seasickness during their more than nine hour paddle from Kawakui Beach to Duke Kahanamoku Beach. Of the nine paddlers participating in the race for the Club only two, Doug Carr and Dodd Balock, had paddled the channel before. There were times when the Leilani had only six paddlers in the boat due to the seasickness of some of our crew. Doug Carr steered the whole course without relief and we think that he and the other crew members deserve a whale of a lot of credit for displaying such pluck, endurance and determination during a real grueling race.

Many of the official boats had escorted crews in the Molokai-Oahu race since its start in 1952 and all agreed that this year's weather was the worst they had ever encountered. And in that relentless ocean our crew, whose age averaged 17, kept paddling, paddling, paddling. For many of the canoes the direction they were paddling in was sometimes in doubt, what with the rain and no island to use for a bearing since both Molokai and Oahu were "socked in" for quite a while.

OCC's escort boat was the Lei Malia from which coach Rabbit Kekai watched his team plow on towards Honolulu. He had the good fortune not to get seasick but there were recording officials aboard who never touched a pencil from Molokai to Honolulu. So the "on deck" passengers were pressed into service.

When the Outrigger's canoe hit the beach the crew members were a mighty tired lot . . . as were all the other paddlers that day.

This is the main reason the start of the race was delayed for an hour. Crews had to wait for lulls between sets of high and strong waves which smashed onto the beach with a thunderous roar.

Portion of the Crowd "up before the crack of dawn" to watch the start of the race. Some of the beach lights are still on. Can you spot them?

Our crew gets set to launch its canoe. Abhh! In the water at last. Note the lack of turbulent wave action during the lull. But it wasn't like this for long!
