OUTRIGGER CANOE CLUB

Aloha!

February means annual meeting time and the election of our new directors. Once again the reminder, only members in good standing who are not on the delinquent dues list are eligible to vote for their candidates, or attend the important meeting.

For those attending, there will be a feast of stew, rice, and draft beer served on the Hau Terrace following the meeting. This free menu will be served those who receive tickets upon registration to the meeting. Wives and other members will be served for nominal $1.50.

Dance classes are scheduled to begin shortly. Classes for beginners will begin at 7 p.m. Feb. 2 and last one hour. Advance classes are scheduled from 8-9 p.m. Classes are open for members and guests at $5 for beginners and $6 for advanced. Let's all turn out and make it a grand success.

Duplicate Bridge is back on the boards again. The players have elected another committee and promise more interesting and challenging games in the near future.

Also don't forget the grand Valentine Dance on February 13. Will be looking forward to seeing you with your favorite gal.

Watch the Bulletin Boards in the lobby for further details.

Sincerely

Jake Tudor

Valentine's Dance Feb. 13

You'll make a big hit with that favorite someone if you treat them to the Outrigger Canoe Club's gala Valentine's Day dinner-dance.

It's an informal affair with Peter Howell and his fabulous combo furnishing the dance music from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. on the sundeck.

There will be a special stew and rice dinner for just $1.50, preceding the festivities.

So come one, come all. She'll call you sweetheart on Valentine's Day if you treat her to an evening she'll never forget.

February 13 at the Outrigger Canoe Club. Don't forget.

DANCE CLASSES RESUMED

Dance Classes have returned to the Outrigger Sundeck! The popular weekly event has been rescheduled upon the request of many of the Club membership.

The dance team of Marietta and Kammy, of Kammy's Dance Studio, will conduct the series of Ballroom and social dancing classes beginning February 2.

Two classes will be held every Tuesday on the Sundeck. Beginner's classes will commence at 7:00 p.m. and last one hour. The advanced students will immediately follow from 8:00 to 9:00 p.m.

Featured will be the dances of both America and Latin America, including the Fox Trot, Waltz, Swing, Bop, Rhumba, Tango, Mambo, Samba, Cha-Cha-Cha and Merengue.

Registrations are being made at the main desk in the club lobby. Hurry and join right away.

The prices are reasonable: Just $5 for club members and their guests per month at the beginners classes. Only $6.00 for club members and their guests each month in the advanced division.

See you at the dance classes.

ELECTION MONTH

The Outrigger membership will cast ballots this month to once again select eight new members to the OCC's 15 man board of directors.

The nominating committee, after due deliberation, has submitted 16 candidates. They are: Charles Schrader, Robert C. Allen, Herbert Taylor, Mrs. Mariechen Wehslau Jackson, Mr. Bill Cross, John Cline Mann, J. Ward Russell, L. Harold Whitaker, Mark Auerbach, Lucious Bingham, C. Robert Clarke, Victor Kahn, Robert M. Belt, John C. Myatt, James F. Small and A. E. Minvielle.

Russell and Taylor, whose two-year terms expire this year, were re-nominated for election.

Dad Center and Wilford D. Godbold will be added to the ballot form by petition. (Consisting of 35 members votes posted up until three weeks before the general meetings.)

Board members who will remain in office to serve the second year of their terms are: President Martin Anderson, U. J. Rainalter, Vincent Danford, Fred Rohlfing, James Pflueger, Richard Cleveland, Spencer Weaver.

Duke Kahanamoku is a lifetime member of the Board of Directors.

Balloting closes at 6 p.m., February 25th. That night, a team of electioneers will count votes from behind closed doors and the results announced at the annual meeting the following day.

Here is a brief thumbnail sketch on each of the 16 nominees:

Charles Schrader

"Chuck," a member since 1944, has been active in club canoe racing, serving on the Canoe Committee. More recently he has been chairman of the entertainment committee. He is an insurance agent with the Allstate Insurance Company.

Mr. Schrader

Mr. Allen

Robert C. Allen

An Outrigger member since 1951, Bob Allen has been active in club affairs. He is the president and general manager of Gray Line Hawaii, Limited.

EIGHT SEATS TO BE FILLED

Mr. Auerbach

Mark Auerbach

An active participant in surfing, baseball, volleyball and canoe teams, Mark co-coached the 1959 Molokai-Oahu crew. In addition, he has served on the nominating committee, volleyball committee, and was chairman of the volleyball group in 1958. He is with the promotional department of Hawaiian Electric Company, Ltd.

Lucious Bingham

Mr. Bingham has been an avid Outrigger booster since he joined the club in 1939, serving in many capacities. He is the president of Gaspro, Limited.

A. E. "Toots" Minvielle

One of our oldest members is Toots Minvielle. He has been active in every athletic department since 1917 and originated the Molokai-Oahu race and the Catalina, California channel race, and brought the first fiberglass canoes to Waikiki. He is a professional engineer-surveyor in private practice.

Mr. Bingham

Mr. Minvielle

Mr. Small

Mr. Cross

James F. Small

Mr. Small is vice president and treasurer of the Capital Market, Limited, and co-owner of the Breakers Hotel in Waikiki. He has been an Outrigger member since 1951.

Bill Cross

One of the Club's top athletes, Bill has earned National recognition as a volleyball player. He paddled for the club during several seasons and is chairman of the volleyball committee. Bill is manager of the Bank of Hawaii Kaimuki Branch. An OCC member since 1940.

Herbert Taylor

Vice-President of the Bishop National Bank, Mr. Taylor has served as an OCC board member for six terms and on the Finance and Canoe Committees as well. A club member since 1925.

Mr. Taylor

John Cline Mann

A workhorse for the Outrigger since he joined the club in 1946, Cline has served on the Admissions, Canoe, Building and Grounds, Volleyball, Nominating, and Elks Club site and chairman of the Beach Services Committee. Cline is a professional land surveyor.

Mr. Belt

Mr. Whitaker

Mr. Mann

Mr. Clarke

Mr. Myatt

Mr. Kahn

C. Robert Clarke

Mr. Clarke is vice-president and manager of the Clarke-Halawa Rock Company Hawaiian Division of Pacific Cement and Aggregates, Inc., and president of C. Robert Clarke and Associates. An Outrigger member of 17 years.

John C. Myatt

Mr. Myatt has served on numerous athletic committees since he joined the Outrigger in 1915. He is the highway engineer for the State of Hawaii.

Victor Kahn

A member since 1940, Mr. Kahn has served as chairman of the House and Grounds Committee and Walter MacFarlane Canoe Races. Member: Entertainment Committee, Nominating, Building Fund Committees and judge of election. He is the investment analyst of the Employees' Retirement System of the State of Hawaii.

Mrs. Jackson

Mrs. Mariechen Wehselau Jackson

Coached by Dad Center, Mrs. Jackson won early swimming laurels with the Outrigger and represented the club and the U.S. at the Olympics in Paris in 1924, setting a new world record for the 100 meter crawl. She is a life member of the Outrigger. In addition, Mrs. Jackson has served as assistant executive of the Honolulu Community Chest.

J. Ward Russell

One of Hawaii's newly elected State Senators, Ward has carved a deep niche for himself in Island politics. A member since 1950, he has been secretary and vice-president of the OCC and has served on the Mess and Bar Committees, and as sponsoring director for the Entertainment Committee. He is the executive assistant to the president of the Hawaiian Telephone Company.

* * *

New innovations that may not have been noticed by members: lobby expansion, TV set in the snack bar area, hair oil dispensers in the men's lockers and rest rooms. Heard Jake Tudor named the "Menehune Manager" of the OCC or "The Poor Man's Mike Todd!"

Bobby Vierra has been named the Purchasing Agent for Honolulu Construction and Draying Co.

* * *

Friends and relatives welcomed home from the mainland Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Brooks, Jr. The lovely bride is the former Gloria Ann Denton of Fullerton, Nebraska.

* * *

Central Union Church was the setting for the exchanging of vows between Mary Lou Johnston and Gordon Beaton. The young couple left last month for Menlo Park, California where Gordon is attending school.

They're football fans through and through, no matter what age. This is just part of the crowd that lined the Outrigger Bar to witness the Bowl Games over television.

Recent houseguest of Bill Goodheart was Prince Naseeb Dajani, Egyptian scholarship student of political science studying at Stanford. Prince Naseeb was busy in the islands, speaking at meetings of both the Rotary and the Kiwanis. Bill, who is also studying at Stanford, took the Prince on his first surfing lesson at the OCC.

Eighty-eight members of the Coast Guard Officers Wives Club were luncheon guests at the OCC sundeck on January 21. Mrs. Harold J. Roes entertained the gals with a broad repertoire of songs, accompanied by Mr. Lloyd Stone. Mr. Stone also delivered some of his well known poems as part of the program.

OCC member Mrs. S. J. Evans, wife of Rear Admiral Evans, is the Honorary President of the Coast Guard ladies.

Forty-eight All Americans in the Islands for the famed Hula Bowl tested bulging muscles in outrigger canoes during their stay in the islands last month. Of particular fancy to one and all on the beach was Heisman Award winner Billy Cannon.

Even ichthyologists get caught now and then. But this one's not trying to get away. Congratulations to Pete Wilson and Ann Ramsay, who announced their engagement at a recent family gathering. The big day has been set for April.

Don't forget to take in the Punahou Carnival on the 12th and 13th of this month. It's always the best of the year.

Honolulu Star-Bulletin)*

The Old Man and the Sea. It might have made a good title for a biography of William Chick Daniels, if Ernest Hemingway had not thought of it first. Not that Chick Daniels is old. Perhaps in another decade he will consider himself that. Today, at 60, he is merely older than is usual for a beach boy. Old enough, and wise enough, and celebrated enough to be the dean of beach boys.

Daniels has spent most of his life in the social lions' den that is the Royal Hawaiian Hotel, lionized by celebrities who toasted their torsoes on his beach and carried his name back to Hollywood.

Unless you know Chick Daniels, you simply do not count. But it is so easy to know Daniels. Just ask him for a towel.

Since the day the Royal Hawaiian first opened its Waikiki doors, in 1927, he has been in its service, off and on. As leader of a dance band, as a singer and as a beach attendant.

It isn't easy to get him to tell his story. He has little sense of the dramatic. He has an atrocious memory for names, even famous names. And, because he is Head Beach Attendant, he frequently interrupts his faltering tale to hand out striped umbrellas, air mattresses, back rests and towels.

Besides, many tourists pause at his bench to pass the time of day.

The other day, I paused at his bench myself.

"Hello," he said, coming forward to greet me. "When did you get back?"

He knew my face, but had forgotten my name, and naturally assumed that I was one of the thousands who come and go, year after year. "When did you get back?" is a question Chick

Daniels must have asked countless times.

Our conversation was constantly interrupted by pink, paunchy gentlemen in scanty beach attire.

One carried a miniature transistor radio which ceaselessly chattered about a football battle between the New York Giants and the Baltimore Colts. He appeared every 15 minutes to give Daniels the latest results of the game.

"Giants, 9 to 7," he said, coming up for the third or fourth time.

Chick said, "Right."

The man ambled away.

"He's a big surplus dealer on the Mainland," said Chick.

Chick wears a white teeshirt bearing the emblem of the Outrigger Canoe Club, of which he is a member. His two assistants, Abraham Kala and Jimmy Hakuole, wear the official yellow Royal Hawaiian shirts.

Kala's nickname is Fat. It is embroidered above the pocket of his shirt. The name does not fit him because he is an extremely well-proportioned, muscular young man.

"Used to weigh more than 200 pounds," said Chick.

Fat nodded proudly.

"How did you get rid of the spare flesh?" I asked.

"Surfing," said Fat.

The surplus dealer came back.

"Baltimore just scored," he said. "Colts, 14 to 9."

"Right," said Chick.

Chick Daniels left his native Kauai in 1918. He was telling me this when another pink, paunchy man came up and joined us on Chick's bench.

The man asked him about Kauai.

"I went there two weeks ago to see my cousin," said Chick. "I can't live there. The dam' island's shrunk."

The man mentioned Maui.

"Maui?" said Chick. "I'll tell you about Maui. I went there once with Esther Williams and Jane Russell. We were in this hotel. There were horses' heads all along the wall behind the bar. Horses' heads, everywhere you looked. Outside they had this big pasture. And not a horse in sight."

The man left.

"Twenty years ago, he was here," said Chick. "Twenty years, that's a long time. I knew him then."

He started to tell me about the Shah of Iran and Ray Milland and Gregory Peck and Arthur Godfrey but kept breaking off to hand out towels and back rests.

"Do you lose many towels?" I asked.

"Thousands," he said. "People steal 'em. They're good souvenirs. Got 'R.H.' on 'em, for Royal Hawaiian."

A third pink, paunchy man appeared.

"Chick," he said. "I didn't get to say goodbye the last time I was here."

"Don't worry about it," said Daniels, slapping him on the shoulder.

When the man had gone, Chick said:

"He owns a restaurant in San Francisco. Comes here six or seven times a year."

I asked him why he was called Chick.

"Nobody calls me Willie, always Chick," he said.

"The name's legal. It was made legal one time I applied for a passport to go to the Orient. I didn't have a birth certificate, so I had to go to the Governor's office to get one. They said everybody knew me as Chick, so they put it on the birth certificate."

"How did you like the Orient?" I asked.

Chick shrugged.

"I didn't get to go."

That is still his dream.

A fourth pink, paunchy man arrived at the bench, in search of a beach umbrella. Chick greeted him amiably.

"When did you get back?" he asked.

The man looked puzzled.

"This is my first trip," he said.

The engagement of Mary Moragne and Sam Cook has been announced on Kauai. Both are graduates of Cornell University. Sam is the Assistant Manager of the Kauai Inn.

Richard Watkins, recently married on the coast, has formed a trio much along the lines of The Kingston Trio and is playing in the Bay Area. "Wat" is Production Manager for the Johnson Mat and Electrotype Company.

A belated pat on the back to Bob Muirhead. He has been appointed Personnel Assistant at Hawaiian Telephone Company. He was formerly with the Freight Traffic Department of Castle and Cooke.

OCC SIX IN UH TOURNEY

The Outrigger Canoe Club's top-seeded senior six volleyball team enters the University of Hawaii Invitational Tournament with sights set on its second title in as many years.

The U.H. Invitational precedes the crucial State-wide tourney played in February and March to determine who represents Hawaii at the Nationals in Dallas, Texas, this year.

The games, played at the Central YMCA gym, will feature beside the Outrigger six, teams from Fort Shafter, U.H., Marine Corps, YMCA, and arch rival Hickam Air Force Base.

The Outriggerites are holding practices under Coach Jim Beardmore three nights a week and expect to pick up tempo as the State tourney approaches.
