

Tennis News

By Phil Whitney

By this time the extent of interest in the Oahu Racquet Club proposal should be a matter of record. This offer was brought to the Tennis Committee in January and after consultation with the Board of Directors it was decided to pass on the information to the membership.

For those who wonder what happened to the possibility of several courts on the top deck of a parking addition, most of you are aware that this project was a victim of inflation. Future prospects????

And—for those who are really serious about tennis, one of the essentials is knowledge of the USLTA Code of Ethics. A copy is available FREE at the front desk—while the supply lasts. If you are interested in more copies please contact the Tennis Committee.

The current tennis committee is now pau. Fortunately, most of the stalwarts who have tried to add more pleasure to OCC tennis will be available this coming season. For me this is the last column for awhile since business and family activities have multiplied in the past year. Aloha, and see you on the courts.
