STATEWIDE TOURNAMENT SET

Dean Brinkman

Mrs. Berger

Hawaii's top tennis players will compete in a statewide tournament at the Waikiki Racquet Club next month, sponsored by the Outrigger Canoe Club.

That's right . . . the Outrigger Canoe Club . . . and tennis!

The long-laboring Tennis Committee—has arrived at a format for a tennis program at the Outrigger that is a giant step in the right direction for restoring long-lost sports to the club.

Committee head Fred Buck is being assisted by Dean Brinkman, Leith Anderson, George Peebles, and Gertrude Berger, the best in the state no matter how you look at it.

The September 3 statewide tournament is the focal point of the format, geared to arouse interest not only among the club ranks but from the entire community.

Singles, doubles, and mixed doubles will be played in each age group. Awards will be made on a team and individual basis.

Following the tournament and throughout the year, special Round-Robin Tourneys will be featured among the club members. On tap are mixed-doubles, veterans doubles, father-son and mother-daughter team play.

Lessons will be given at the Waikiki Racquet Club by George Peebles, one of the island's top instructors for years. Members will be charged only 15 dollars for a series of ten one-hour lessons. Racquets and balls will be provided at no extra charge. Special emphasis is being placed on the development of junior members but all ages are welcome.

"We especially want junior on vacation to enroll for the regular morning classes," Buck said.

He pointed out that in addition to Peebles, Brinkman, Anderson and Mrs. Berger he will aid in the coaching and giving lessons.

Tennis anyone?

New Affiliated Clubs

The Outrigger Board of Directors has completed negotiations and approved of five new private clubs, located on the mainland and in Canada, for reciprocal agreement.

The clubs are: The Denver Athletic Club, Denver, Colorado; the Beacon Club, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma; the Spokane Club, Spokane, Washington; the Chinook Club, Lethbridge, Alberta, Canada; and the Assiniboine Club, Regina, Saskatchewan, Canada.

its injustices, its naivete, its waste, its smug self assurance. Men would come along to fix all that. New laws, controls, regulations, forms . . . would keep anybody from getting too much or too little . . . swarms of consultants, researchers, special assistants and executive committee's would make sure that great men always said and did the right thing."

"There would be great gains . . . but . . . something was also lost—a touch of optimism, confidence, exuberance and hope. The spirit of an era can't be blocked out and measured, but it is there nonetheless. And in these brief, buoyant years it was a spark that somehow gave extra promise to life. By the light of this spark, men and women saw themselves as heroes shaping the world, rather than victims struggling through it."
