

Six Clubs Enter 350 In Various Events At the Rainbow Relay Carnival

Trials At Kamehameha Field Thursday Afternoon; Annual Meet Will Be Pulled Next Saturday, April 10; Army Has Biggest List With 89 Athletes Entered

Trials for the Rainbow Relay Carnival will be held at Kamehameha field at 4:30 p. m. Thursday, it was announced by Otto Klum, chairman of the track committee of the A. A. U., when it was learned that 350 athletes have been entered in the various events.

The finals will be held at Kam field at 2 p. m. Saturday.

The athletes will represent six clubs, the following organizations being entered: Army, Palama, University of Hawaii, National Guard, Outrigger and Central Y. M. C. A.

Jackson Scholz, champion sprinter, who is now in Honolulu, will probably compete in the 100 yards novice, giving the other contestants a handicap.

There is also some talk of putting a special event on the program so that Scholz can perform.

Biggest List

Army filed the biggest entry list, a total of 89 athletes being entered to represent the Army in the meet. Entry lists of other clubs carried the names of the following number of athletes: Palama, 82; Varsity, 64; Outrigger, 60; National Guard, 47, and Central "Y" 8.

Reserved seats have been placed on sale and tickets can be obtained at the Honolulu Sporting Goods Co. and Dawkins-Benny. The sale of seats has been exceptionally large and a record crowd is expected.
