

FORT SHAFTER TEAM TAKES PLACE OF SCHOFIELD FIVE IN SENIOR CAGE CIRCUIT

The Fort Shafter basketball team was admitted to the Honolulu Basketball league yesterday to take the place of the Schofield Officers team, which had withdrawn. The Schofield Officers team withdrew because of the fact that several of its players had to take part in the inter-unit series to be staged at the inland post and could not therefore spare the time to playing in town. The new team in the league, however, will be aided by the presence of two Schofield players, Hinton and Yeaton, who were members of the fast Schofield team last year.

Tonight

One of the big games of the season is scheduled tonight when the Outriggers meet the University of Hawaii in the first game at 7:30 o'clock. The Outriggers won the championship last year, while the varsity is regarded as the best in the circuit this year. Just how good the rah-rah boys are will be demonstrated tonight. A tough battle is expected and a big turnout is sure to be the order of the night.

The Palamas play the All-Chinese in the second game this evening.

Question

The question of whether "Skeeter" Swan could play for the Outrigger Canoe club team or not was brought up at the meeting, a complaint having been registered that he is a professional in coaching the Marines team. The league voted to look into it. Swan claims he is coaching the Marines merely to help the game along.

The schedule was allowed to stand with the Shafter team playing the games billed for the Schofield Officers. The schedule follows:
