

REGATTA DAY PROGRAM PLANS ARE ANNOUNCED

Officers of the Honolulu Rowing Association who met in the police courtroom last night to make final arrangements for the Regatta Day races, decided on following last year's program except for the elimination of the first event and the making of a few minor alterations.

A. Nicoll, Robert Chillingworth, Marie Davison, J. L. Dwight, Clem Wong and Lieut.-Comdr. L. Wild, who represented the navy.

The full program approved by the officers follows:

The new boat of the Honolulu Girls' Club, according to word received yesterday by Miss Mary Hart, has been shipped on the Wilhelmina, which left San Francisco yesterday. The vessel is scheduled to arrive next Tuesday.

Navy men in uniform will probably be admitted to the races free of charge, or will be given tickets for bleacher seats, this year, as a result of a request made by Lieut. Commander Wild last night. Heretofore, it has been the custom of the rowing association to charge navy officers and men for admittance. Since the participation of the navy in the regatta day races three years ago, there has been some complaint regarding the taking of fees from men in uniform. Commander Wild told officers of the club.

The Honolulu Rowing Club will make an effort to secure permission from navy officials to use pier 5-A, and to have coal barges placed from pier 5 to pier 7, from which vantage point sailors might view the races.

The rowing club this year will try to make some money and to put over a bigger and snappier program. George Cool said in addressing last night's meeting. He asked the assistance of other officers of the club in dispensing of several hundred tickets which are still unsold. He suggested that the various organizations in the city be requested to aid in selling the tickets.

There will be one hundred parking spaces for automobiles on pier 2. Cool declared. Motorists will be charged $7.50, but will be permitted to have as large a number of passengers in the cars as they wish. There will be 450 seats on pier 7.
