

Outrigger Club Members Celebrate With Big Doings

Canoe Races, Surfboard Tilts and General Good Time
Is Enjoyed by Members of Famous
Waikiki Organization

MORE than 1000 Outrigger Canoe club members and their friends celebrated the twentieth anniversary of that club yesterday afternoon and evening at the club house. The place was decorated tastefully to suit the occasion, gay buntings and flags gracing the spacious hall, palm branches and other greens also made the surroundings pleasant.

All afternoon the beach was filled with beach combers, while the sea was dotted with swimmers, surfboards and canoes.

Three hundred members were fortunate to ride the waves on all the outrigger canoes available. After this, the crowd watched the exhibition races.

Mariechen Wehslau, Mrs. Lily Bowmer May and Helen Moses swam the freestyle for about 200 yards. In the surfboard exhibition for the same distance, Tommy Kiakona and H. Bahr featured. Helen Moses and Lily May also sported before the happy clubbers in a like exhibition.

The climax of the water sports was reached when the girl canoeists under 18 years old defeated the directors of the club in a walkaway. It was whispered cautiously by some that the men were framed. Evidence in regard to this statement was proven when two buckets were found tied to the directors' canoe, obviously retarding their progress in spite of their valiant efforts to subdue the canoeists of the "weaker" sex.

Altogether a very pleasant time was had by all.
