AS YOU WERE

in ten battles to date, stick work is an appropriate topic at this time. The Gimlets who are locked with the Wolves at the top lead the procession hitting the pill for an average well over 300. The Wolves, the other gues's in the front room, rank seventh while the Parsons nursing in the cellar of the league official standing rank sixth. The Gimlets average is 334 while the Wolves show a mark of 231.

For the last two years the Gimlets have been a heavy hitting outfit and most of the time lead the others with the willow. Practically all of their regulars are capable of stepping at 250 or better clip and the majority whack in the 300 circle. The Wolves since their star teams of 1924-25 have not been dangerous with the bat. However, their opponents also never get more than their share of bingles in any one game. Added to this the Wolves make their hits count in all times.

One reason that the Wolves have a hard row to climb in the batting honors is the fact that any time they engage an opponent, said opponent's coach puts in the best he has to pitch. None of the tribes ever start one of the mediocre hurlers on Wolf visiting day. Probably if the same tactics were used against other teams their walloping power would dwindle somewhat.

The Chicks are second in team hitting, having made 118 hits out of 362 times at bat for an average of .323. Third place goes to the Cactusmen with 285, fourth to the Dragons with 261 and fifth to the Fliers with 253. This composes the teams hitting above 250.

TOURNEY PAYS

The Florida amateur golf tournament showed a profit on the balance sheet, being one of the few, if not the only one of its kind, to come out better than even.
