CLIPS ONE-FIFTH OF SECOND FROM ETHEL LACKIE'S MARK BEATS MARIECHEN BY TOUCH

Stirring 100 Meters Water Battle Between Hawaii's Fastest Mermaids at Lincoln Swim; Hui Makani Defeats Outrigger for Points

THROWING every ounce of strength into her little body, Lily Bowmer May not only proved her claim to Hawaii's best sprint swimmer among the women, when she nosed out Mariechen Wehselau in the 100 meters dash, but she established a brand new world's record for the event. Her time was 1:11 3-5 and the best known previous time is one-fifth of a second slower, or 1:11 4-5, held by Ethel Lackie of Chicago.

Mrs. May and Mariechen staged this sensational tank duel Saturday night in what proved to be the feature event of the annual Lincoln swim, sponsored by the McKinley High School Athletic association, in the Wai-kiki Memorial pool.

It was a race to stir the blood, a race that had everybody on their feet and cheering madly as the girls churned the water in a finish that will not soon be forgotten. Mrs. May was completely exhausted and had to be pulled out of the water. She had won a beautiful race and gave an exhibition of

LILY BOWMER MAY downright grit and determination that stamps her as one of the real stars of the aquatic world.

Four timers, with stop watches perfectly adjusted and inspected, watched this record-breaking performance. The timers were Cecil Benny, Louis Stevens, C. F. Schmutzler and Mrs. E. Fullard-Leo, so there can be no question raised as to the validity of a claim that will be placed by the Hawaiian association of the A.A.U. with the National body to recognize this new American record, which is really a world's mark.

THREE GIRLS START

Only three swimmers lined up in this blue ribbon event, the third being Jennie Woodd of the Uluani club, and they all jumped off to a fair start at the bark of Art Powlison's gun.

For the first 50-meters the race was a dead heat between the trio, but gradually Lily and Mariechen pulled away into a keen issue and, as it neared the finish, the crowd of about 1000 began to yell for its respective favorite.

At the 90-meter mark, Mrs. May

Columbia Is Junior Race Crew Winner

(United Press by R. C. A.)
PHILADELPHIA, May 6.—While Yale defeated Columbia and Pennsylvania in the varsity shell race over the Schuylkill river course yesterday Columbia's junior varsity won their race after transferring to the freshman shell.

The Columbia juniors' shell was broken in a collision while going to the starting point.

Yale, in addition to winning the varsity race, won the freshman event. Pennsylvania won the race for 150 pounders by a quarter length over Columbia.
