

Outrigger

(Continued from Page 10)

prize prospects. A good coach could develop some championship material there, all right.

"Then there's a bunch of Athens club mermen who could easily be developed into good men. The same holds good for the Olympic club men. All San Francisco needs is a coach to develop some of the best swimmers in the world."

LOCALS ARE GOOD

The writer did not want to take any more of "Dad's" time, and so shot the final question. How do our swimmers here stack up against the fellows you have seen on the mainland? "All we have to do is to take the game a little more seriously. We have to stay with it all the year round and not try to get into shape just before a meet. We have all the conveniences in the world and if we go after it in the right way, when the next Olympic games come around, we'll have a dozen over there."

And that was that from George "Dad" Center.