Beach Club Will Take Matter Under Consideration; Plans Are Laid for Annual Thanksgiving Morning Distance Swims; Dinner Meeting Held

At a twilight supper meeting held at the Outrigger Canoe club last evening, tentative plans were discussed for the Thanksgiving morning distance swims. Attending this meeting were "Dad" Center, presiding; L. P. Thurston, Cecil Benny, Bill McLean, A. E. Minvielle, Gay Harris, "Toots" Minvielle, Cedric Cooke and George Cherry.

MAUI-KONA TEAMS PLAY TIE GAME

(Special to The Advertiser)

HOLUALOA, Hawaii, Nov. 17.—In mud and in rain the Fighting Lunas from Maui and the Wildcats of Kona fought for four quarters to a scoreless tie at the Konawaena Field with more than a thousand fans watching, yelling and singing for their favorite teams. Although the game was a scoreless tie the spectators saw their money's worth because both teams put forth great defensive and offensive plays when needed.

The H.I.F. standing is as follows: For every game won the team gets two points and for every tie game, the teams get one point.

Games

	played	W.	L.	Tied	Pts.
Hilo	4	3	1	0	6
Kona	5	2	1	2	6
Lahainaluna	6	2	2	2	6
Maui	4	3	1	0	6
Kauai	3	1	1	1	3
Schofield High	2	0	1	1	1

If Kona should outscore the Kohalas on Thanksgiving Day at Kohala and Hilo should outscore Maui, both Kona and Hilo will be tied for the H.I.F. championship of 1928. If Ma-

The selection of officials and instructions for handling the several races with the idea of providing maximum results with a minimum of confusion was the outstanding feature of the discussion. This annual ocean swim consisting of various events suitable to the novice or the seasoned swimmer is keenly followed by the followers of aquatic sports; and the three courses, namely starts from the Elk's club house, the Public Baths and the Cunha Beach home; afford distances suitable to the varied contestants.

The annual New Year's surf-board paddling races held in the canal, or Ala Wai, was also discussed and committees appointed to arrange for trophies, rules and incidental affairs pertaining to this unique aquatic event. The announcement that a Pacific Coast Board Paddling champion had asked for permission to enter the open event for men met with hearty approval from all present. Such an entry would prove an incentive to local paddlers to properly train and prepare for such competition. A committee was appointed to investigate the transportation angle of this coast entrant. The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, through its local representative Max Linder, will be asked to cooperate with the Los Angeles Steamship Company in the matter of transportation.
