Sergeant Kahanamoku, T. G. Klakona, P. Spohler.

The surveying firm of Wright, Harvey and Wright have donated their services in laying out the course accurately, as they have so generously done in former years. All races shall finish at one point, toward the town end of the canal.

Programs have been printed for the convenience of the fans, and shall be passed out gratis by the committee. There is no charge for admission, and fans are cordially invited to take in this novel sport; they may park their cars along the canal banks and view the races from their machines if they wish.

Movies were taken of the races last year, and may again be taken of the coming events.
