association, of which Duke Kahana-moku is an official, is devoting much of its time and money toward assuring the regatta's success, realizing that the annual beach event will be a tourist magnet during the pre-summer season.

Other clubs assisting in the day's program are the Hui Nalu club, the Outrigger Canoe club and the Queen's Surfers club. These clubs will combine their efforts toward equipping the canoes and furnishing boards to all prospective contestants in the surfboard races.

Hawaii, Unlimited, local organization of business men who are interested in promoting the welfare of Hawaii's visitors, has also voted its approval of the Hawaiian regatta day.

Only kamaainas will be permitted to enter the various events thus assuring a true representation of Hawaii's best beach athletes.

Information regarding regatta day may be had from George McKenzie of the Hawaii Tourist Bureau who is secretary of the regatta committee. McKenzie has announced that entry blanks will be off the press in a few days and all club officials and others who wish to enter the various events on regatta day are advised to get in touch with him.
