

CELEBRATION OF FOURTH TO BE UNOFFICIAL

'Aquatic Program at Beach Will Be Outstanding Event of the Day

Just 154 years ago a small group of men sat around a table in Philadelphia and affixed their signatures to a document relating to the independence of the several colonies and giving forceful expression to the right of revolution in the best tradition of John Locke. Today in Honolulu a goodly percentage of the population will pursue life, liberty and happiness by taking to the water in droves. Aside from the holiday which will prevail, no official celebration is scheduled for the day.

The event offering the best possibilities of chuckling amusement is an all-wahine tourist outrigger canoe race at Waikiki in the afternoon. This event will be part of a general aquatics meet which will include the inter-hotel outrigger canoe championship, an outrigger canoe sailing race and surf polo.

CHILDREN ON ALA WAI

On the Ala Wai more than a hundred children will be too absorbed in a boat model contest to worry about independence—or for that matter—firecrackers. Big and small, flat and round, sail and rubber bands, Spanish galleon models and even submarines will vie for prizes offered by the city's recreation commission. One group has been set aside for the exhibits of parents who side by side with the youngsters have also been building models. These events will begin at 3 p. m. and will be preceded by a four-cornered rowboat race. The Waikiki meet will open at the same time.

Other sports fill the day's program from morning till night, from golf and tennis ranging through yachting, outboard motorboating and boxing. A ball game at the Honolulu Stadium
