were assured of places on the American team.

Skylarking along, Maiola Kalili finished in 5:09 within 8 seconds of the Olympic record. His lazy brother, Manuella, was 4-5 second behind him, with George Fissler of New York, Carleton Leedy and Johnny Howland of Yale and Frank Scott of Los Angeles trailing, but still recording some of the best times.

Crabbe in the fourth and final heat shaded a fifth of a second from the Olympic mark set by Alberto Zorilla of Argentina in 1928, covering the distance in 5:01 2-5. It was almost a race against time, for Jimmy Gilhula of Detroit, Herbert Barthels of Los Angeles, Ted Wiget of Athens and James Cristy of the University of Michigan were not close enough to offer competition.

Cooler Weather

The weather cooled as the meet progressed to the 100 meter backstroke trials and the times, improved. Again, the six best times were to qualify for the finals.

William Hoffman of Los Angeles junior college won the first heat in his first show trials, clocking 1:16 1-5. Dan Zehr of Ft. Worth took the second trials and Robert Kerber of Northwestern the third. All three had to battle hard for their places.

Lowell Marsh of the St. Paul Y. M. C. A. was timed at 1:12 3-5 in the fourth and last heat, closely pressed by five others.

Dan Zehr of Fort Wayne, Ind., captured the 100 meter backstroke in 1 min 10 2-5 sec. Robert Kerber of Northwestern was second and Gordon Chalmers of Newark third.

Track and Field Trials

SAN FRANCISCO, July 16.—Under protest from many quarters as a result of the extension of qualifying lists in the field events, the final tryouts for the American Olympic track and field teams worked today toward conclusion in a furor of intersectional feeling.

The first results of the "battle of second chance" came in the hammer throw and did not produce major changes, despite the addition of three more contenders.

Three weight tossers clinching places on the American Olympic team were Frank Conner of the New York Athletic club at 170.90 feet; Pete Zremba of New York university, 168.99 feet, and Grant McDougall of the University of Pennsylvania, 168.20 feet.

Jack Keller of Ohio State equaled the world record of 14 2-5 sec to win the 110 meter high hurdles. George Saling of Iowa was second and Percy Beard, the national champion, third.

Leo Sexton of the New York Athletic club, with a world record toss of 52 feet 8 inches, won the shot put. Nelson Gray of the Olympic club was second and Harlow Rothert of the Los Angeles Athletic club third.

Ralph Metcalfe of Marquette university captured the 100 meter finals in the track tryouts, leading Eddie Tolan of Detroit by a scant yard in 10.6 seconds, equaling the Olympic record.

George Simpson of Columbus was third. Frank Wykoff of Southern California and Emmett Toppino, fourth and fifth, failed to qualify.

Eddie Genung of the Seattle Athletic club won the 800 meter finals in 1 min. 52 3-5 sec. Charles Hornbostel of Indiana university was second and Edwin Turner of the University of Michigan third.

Ken Churchill of the Olympic club tossed the javelin 222 1-3 feet to capture the event. Malcolm Metcalf of Dartmouth was second and Lee Bartlett of Albion, Mich., third.
