

SOCCER LEAGUE MAY HAVE ONLY FOUR ELEVENS

Schofield Declares It Is Unable to Enter Outfit But League Wants Them

Schofield has notified the Honolulu Soccer association that it is unable to put a team in the league this year, but the local body has not given up hope of persuading the athletic council at the inland post that there are a lot of folks out there who are just aching to boot the ball around.

At present the local association has four teams entered. There would have been but three with the Schofield team dropping out, but suddenly Palama came to life and is going to get a fast and furious outfit in the circuit.

The others are Outriggers, Rangers and Honolulu Uniteds. The latter outfit held a good workout last night at Makiki field and looks as if it will be one of the strongest elevens in the league.

The goal posts are already up at Makiki field and all three Waikiki elevens have been working out regularly. There is every indication that the game will be faster and more popular this year than ever.
