his own time. William Kahanamoku finished second, with A. E. Minville third.

In the 220-yard free style army event, Pvt. C. E. Olson of Schofield Barracks, took 6 1-5 seconds off the service record made by Walker in 1917, winning in 2:41 4-5. Olson, who has been trained by Luther Study, two weeks ago could hardly negotiate 50 yards. His performance last night was considered nothing short of marvelous.

Olson is expected to take a full minute off the service quarter mile record tomorrow night. Another man, he also won the 440-relay for Schofield last night.

Bowmer Fast

Lillie Bowmer of the Outrigger club made the fastest lap in the 400-yard relay for women, when she covered the hundred in 1:14 1-5, unofficial timing. The women's world record for the hundred is 1:3 2-5, Charlotte Boyle, Honolulu, Hawaii's champion girl swimmer, swimming scratch for the senior Outrigger team, made the distance in 1:8 2-5, beating Janice Lovett, of the junior team, swimming against Helen Moses, won her lap by a clear margin in 1:11 2-5. The senior team took the race.

Eleanor Bickerton was disqualified in the 50 yards for girls under 15 when she crowded into the lane of Elsie Brown, Palama. Elsie was given the time in :52 2-5. The record will not stand as record—although there is no question that it was made—because of the foul.

Fresh Race Big Hit

The specialty event of the evening was a fresh "equipment race" for servicemen, each of whom fully dressed, even to his campaign hat, swam with a 62-pound pack strapped to his back. Private Mack Mack, the latter took the lead at the start and, swimming a side stroke, won easily over Sergt. Joseph Mack Mack and Luke Field, with Anderson, a post entry, third. His time of 54 2-5 seconds, was considered remarkable.

Private Ben Martinez thought he would do better by tying his hat under his chin and towing it well behind him. Instead, it filled with water, and the weight held him back so strongly that he almost drowned him, and at the 30-yard mark, he began to flounder and was immediately seen by those on the bleachers to be in distress.

Even Admiral Excited

General Summerall, Admiral Simpson and Col. Harwood all yelled to the lifeguard. Swimmers jumped in to his rescue from every side, but the lifeguard, after freeing other swimmers from their packs—did not understand what was happening and leaved his life preserver and plunged from the finish boat after Martinez had been saved by Private Mayes, the winner. Mayes, appreciating the danger, disembarrassed himself of his campaign shirt, hat and pack, while still in the water, and was first to reach the drowned man.

Schofield Barracks won the 400-yard service relay with Coast Defense second and Shafter third, in 4:50 2-5, establishing a service record for the islands.

This afternoon at 4:30 o'clock trials for the 100 yards men's service race will be held at Pier 5, after which the Hui Nalu and outrigger club water polo teams will play a contest game.

The only theory that Kotz advances for the existence of the hoard of gold and silver that perhaps some lucky gamester among the members of the ship's crew amassed the store of wealth on a pay night, hid it for a long test he probably will forget where he had secreted it or else was killed.
