OUTRIGGER CLUB WILL TAKE PART IN WATER SHOW

Beach Club Will Do Its Bit To Put Over Carnival in Harbor on Monday Night

The pick of the Outrigger Canoe Club talent will take part in the water carnival that is to be given on Monday night in the harbor under the auspices of the Hawaiian Civic Club as part of the Kamehameha Day celebration. It has been left to George "Dad" Center to select the girls and young men of the club who will be permitted to take part in the show.

Poor "Dad" is up against it. He must choose the best looking swimmers and the best looking surfers as well as the best canoe paddlers, and in making the choice he is bound to disappoint a lot of them and as a result hear a few things said about his judgment or rather lack of it. For there is keen rivalry out at the club for places in the show.

The club will have two Hawaiian sailing canoes with picked crews. This will give the tourists a chance to see how the Hawaiians used to sail in the old days. Then the biggest canoe in the club will be turned into a "float." The "float" will be a huge wave and on this paper wave will be two surfboard riders and a little canoe.

Now it's Center's little job to pick the girl surfer with the best poise and the young man surfer with the best poise for those boards. Also the places in the little canoe are in demand.

Besides that there will be two paddling canoes decorated with lanterns. Picking crews for those canoes is also another little delicate job for Center.
