LILLIE BOWMER WILL SWIM IN COAST MEETS

Leaves For the Mainland On The Matsonia Tomorrow For Two Months' Vacation

Holds World Record For 50 Yards For Tank; To Meet Fast Talent in Bay Tanks

Lillie Bowmer, Outrigger Canoe club mermaid and holder of the world record for 50 yards in a tank, will sail on the steamer Matsonia tomorrow for San Francisco for a two-months' vacation. She plans to return here in the fall to complete her studies at Punahou academy.

While on the coast she intends to take part in all available swimming meets around the bay section. Her work here in the sprint events will give local swimming fans a chance to judge her abilities in competition with fast coast talent.

The Hawaiian A. A. U. is meeting today to discuss a big swimming meet to be held here in the fall when it is planned to have Duke Kahanamoku and Gertrude Ederle invited.

David Kalakaua of Belmont school is back from the coast. Mainland reports say he has been doing the 50 yards under 25 seconds.

Mariechen Wehselau has taken up surf riding in earnest. She is out in the surf every day now.

Chester Sims, Outrigger Canoe club middle distance swimmer, has gone in for sailing.

In the current issue of Popular Science Monthly there appears an article by Ed Kennedy, the well-known swimming coach of Columbia University, entitled "The Ideal Swimming Stroke Found by Science." The article is a clear exposition of the six-beat crawl and well worth reading.
