ANOTHER CABLE SENT TO SPEEDY GOTHAM MERMAID

Hawaiian A. A. U. Wants to Be Sure of Competition When Fall Meet Is Staged

The Hawaiian A. A. U. has sent another cablegram to Gertrude Ederle, New York Women's Swimming association, asking her to compete in the swimming meet to be staged in the local harbor this fall. Ederle is regarded as the best of the women swimmers on the mainland today and holds most of the free style records from 220 yards upward.

Helen Moses, Outrigger Canoe club swimmer is back from her vacation on the Big Island.

Janice Lovett, one of the coming Outrigger mermaids, has taken up surf riding as a daily exercise.

Mariechen Wehselau, well known holder of the 100 yard world tank record, ought to win every race in the future. Somebody sent her a "luck" stone from Virginia.

Clifton Mayne, McKinley High school and Outrigger Canoe club diver, departs for the coast this week to enter the University of California.

One of the hard luck swimmers of the Outrigger Canoe club is going to Washington, D. C., leaving on this week's steamer. It is Ruth Scudder, member of the champion Outrigger relay team.

After winning the meet at Pearl Harbor recently the Marines are promising to turn out in full force for all service events in the next Honolulu harbor meet.
