

LOTS OF GOOD EATS AT CANOE CLUB'S BIG FAIR

Ten Dozen Chicken Tamales Among Attractive Things on Menu; Surf Boarding

By RUSSELL L. RICHARDS

Ten dozen chicken tamales, fresh from the mainland, are on ice waiting to be enjoyed by the hungry visitors to the Outrigger Canoe Club fair, this coming Saturday, May 17. These tamales have just arrived and are being kept on ice until Saturday—but that's not the half of it.

There are going to be tables full of other good eats, which will be served in cafeteria style for lunch and supper at the fair, and all kinds of home-made cakes, jellies and jams, candies, Hawaiian dishes, chop suey, and many other kinds of home-made kaukau will be on sale in the booths.

The Hawaiian band will be on deck to play during the afternoon. The club's outrigger canoes will be placed at the disposal of visitors for surfriding at the nominal sum of 50 cents per passenger. If you want a surfboard you can rent one and try your skill.

Volleyball games will be in session all during the day at 10 cents per game. Everyone will be allowed swimming privileges for 25 cents.

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Outrigger Canoe Club and the members of the club themselves are bending every effort to make this fair the snappiest, most interesting and enjoyable of any event in their history.

The club is not facing dissolution through poverty and lack of funds, but it is hard up against it, because its extremely low dues and initiation fees for its members do not bring in sufficient funds to meet bare operating expenses and pay for the constant, necessary repairs to its grounds, club houses, and lockers.

There is probably no club in the world of a similar nature that has
