

78 marlin--new mark

By HAL WOOD

KAILUA, Kona—Cooperative marlin turned the 12th annual Hawaiian International Billfish Tournament into a one-sided contest yesterday—in favor of the anglers.

When the slaughter was over 22 more marlin had been boated and a sailfish too. Plus two more ahi.

THAT MADE the situation like this:

● The Anaehoomalu Bay

Trolling Club of the Big Island, featuring a 483-pounder caught by Harry Jefferson, (his first ever) moved into first place in team competition with 1268 points.

● The total fish now caught in the tournament include 78 marlin. And that tops the old record of 63, set in 1967, by plenty.

And there were many other important tidbits.

Star of the day was 14-year-old Glenn Reece, who proudly states he was "born in Hawaii," but now lives in The Netherlands. He fought a 400-pounder for 1 hour and 15 minutes before he won the battle.

"HE MUST have jumped at least 15 times," said the amazed Reece, who can't weigh much more than 110 pounds. "My arms were really tired when I got him in. He was awful hard to fight because he was hooked through the bill. But I never thought of giving up."
