Dave Donnelly's Hawaii

HERE was quite a bit of excitement at the I grand opening of the Yum Yum Tree at Ward Centre Monday-a gaggle of women gathered on the patio and were staring through a picture window into the Polo/ Ralph Lauren shop. How come? None other than Tom Selleck was inside trying on some trousers and the women were ogling him between his trips to the dressing room which they couldn't see, more's the pity . . . Kapiolani Lyman has been visiting the Islands from her California home and staying with her father, vibes virtuoso Arthur Lyman. A few months ago Kapi shot and killed an intruder in the bedroom of an apartment she shares with her mother-she's an expert with small arms since her days in ROTC and is currently going through training to become the first woman on the L.A.P.D. "SWAT" team . .

THE other day somebody asked former Aloha Hawaii Travel honcho Tom Held what he was doing since getting out of the tour business.

"Nothing," replied Held, who lives on his boat in the Ala Wai Yacht Harbor. "We're in a recession pate in it." ... UH grad Noboru Hidaka has published another book, this one called "Sex in Japan," which is loaded with "pillow book" illustrations that have been popular with the Japanese for centuries . . . Carole Kai called from L.A. yesterday to say that while her husband does reside in L.A., she plans to commute between homes here and there, spending roughly half of her time in each place, but still participating in various charity events here such as her annual bed race . . . Kai says she ran into ex-Isle model (and Playboy centerfold) Denise Michele Tom at a commercial casting call and reports the model, now married to ABC producer David Kellogg, has gained some weight, but "looks great." That's not hard to imagine .

KGU's Joe Rose is back from Taiwan where he was one of two U.S. delegates at the Asian-Pacific Nations Conference on World Communications. The other U.S. delegate, the National Review's William Rusher, broke Rose up when he told him he looked just like Adlai Stevenson,

.. Rose says he'll always remember Aug. 7 because he had breakfast in Taipei, a drink in the Okura Hotel in Tokyo, lunch at the Outrigger Canoe Club in Waikiki and still kept a 2:30 p.m. barber's appointment. Of course, crossing the international date line helped ... Des Brooks sent an invitation to a pupu party in Australia (he called them "pupus," too) and attached a note saying, "I know, 'Where's the air ticket.' I thought you could walk on water." .

While people are trekking through their "Treasures of China" exhibit at the Royal Hawaiian Center's Friendship Store, Peking officials Pang Yan and Ma Hong-qi took their Chinese compatriots on tours of the Bishop Museum, Academy of Arts and the Polynesian Cultural Center . .

INTERISLAND Resorts v.p. Chuck McCrary thought he'd stumbled into a political rally on board a Hawaiian Air flight from Hilo to Honolulu the other day. First, lei-bedecked lieutenant governor candidate John Waihee walked down the aisle shaking hands, followed shortly by fellow lieutenant governor candidate Dennis O'Connor and his entourage taking advantage of the captive audience to do a little campaigning. Once airborne, the pilot took over the only mike on the plane to do a little verbal pressing of the flesh-it was none other than John Carroll, head of the Republican party in Hawaii getting in whose politics were miles to the left of Rose's some "equal time." . . . Since the L.A. Dodgers swept eight straight games from Atlanta, interest has picked up considerably in the baseball safari Gene Kaneshiro of Columbia Inn has put together Sept. 24 to Oct. 2, taking in games in both L.A. and San Francisco .

Hawaiian Canoe Racing Association's distance racing season got underway yesterday with the 15th _ annual Duke Kahanamoku race.

OCC was first in the men's koa division and the men's and women's fiberglass divisions. Hui Nalu was first in the women's koa division.

The men paddled 24 miles from Magic Island to Lanikai. The women followed a six-mile course from Lanikai to Mokapu Peninsula and back. OCC's men were timed at 4:05.1.9 in the koa division and 3:38.11.8 in the fiberglass. OCC's women finished at 57:00. Hui Nalu was timed at 55:29.2.

Finishing behind OCC in the men's koa division were Lanikai

Outrigger Canoe Club crews (4:06.30.9) and Waikiki Surf glass division, Lokahi (4:09.48.8) was second and Lanikai (4:10.30.7) third.

In the women's koa division, Hui Nalu was followed by OCC (56:41.0) and Lanikai (56:49.8). Kailua (58:03.5) and Lanikai (58:04.4) finished behind OCC in the fiberglass division. Results in Record

OCC Crew Captures Long-Distance Opener

three times could keep the Outrigger Canoe Club from winning the Duke Paoa Kahanamoku title as the Oahu Hawaiian Canoe Racing Association opened its long-canoe overturned three times during the 26-mile race, according to Coach Steve Scott, but the crew kept righting the canoe and finished the Magic Island-to-Kailua Beach race in three hours, 58 minutes and 11.8 seconds.

These are the roughest condicourse," Scott said, "but we felt and Popoia Islands. confident we could win.'

OCC's koa canoe finished nearly seven minutes later to place second overall and tops in the koa class. Host Lanikai Canoe Club's koa canoe was third overall in its 15th annual event with a time of 4:06:30.9.

The rough conditions took their toll on six of the 34 entrants with the half-dozen boats dropping out along the course for reasons ranging from capsizing to losing their escort boat.

Crews were allowed to substitute paddlers during the race but Neither rough seas nor flipping for two clubs-Hui Lanakila and Hawaiian Warriors-the race turned into an unscheduled "ironman" event. Hui Lanakila lost its escort boat with spare paddlers because of engine troubles and went 22 miles without a crew distance season yesterday. Went 22 miles without a crew change. The OCC's No. 1 fiberglass change. The Warriors went 20 miles without relief to finish in 25th place behind Hui Lanakila.

Koa canoes swept the first three places in the five-mile women's race with Hui Nalu lead ing the finishers in 55:29.2. OCC was second and Lanikai third over the figure-8 course from tions I've ever seen on this Kailua Beach around Mokolea
