Records fall in Kona races

KAILUA-KONA - Course records fell in all four races over the weekend in the Queen Liliuokalani Canoe Races, wiping out the dominance of the Outrigger Canoe Club, which bypassed the races Several clubs, including OCC, did not attend this year's races in a dispute over regulations. Three women's teams finished faster than the old record in the fiberglass division and two beat the prior mark in the koa ranks. Kai Opua, the host, won the women's koa race with a 1:42.15 clocking, more than six minutes faster than the Outrigger time in 1978. Marina Del Rey of California was second and Kamehameha of Hilo third in the koa while Kaumualii (1:44:58) of Kauai led the fiberglass finishers with Hanalei second and Balboa of California third.

The Balboa men scored a 2:09:28 finish in the men's 18-mile chase to knock more than two minutes off the old Outrigger mark of 2:11:35. The Californians used a glass boat for the win and were followed by Imua, also of California, and Hanalei in that division.

IVA Champs to Show Here

The Tucson Sky, champions of the professional International Volleyball Association, will meet the Hawaiian/ IVA All-Stars in a benefit exhibition match tomorrow night at 7:30 at the Blaisdell Arena.

Proceeds from the exhibition match will be used to establish a vollevball scholarship at the University of Hawaii in memory of the late Dodge Parker, a former Isle resident who was a member of three consecutive IVA championship teams (1975-'77).

Players for the Isle team will include Linda Vivas (San Jose Diablos), Linda Fernandez (Seattle Smashers). Gus Mee (head coach of the Albuquerque Lasers). Connie Gibbon, who competed in the Hawaii Semipro Volleyball League between Tucson will be led by player-coach Byron Shewman. Jon Stanley, coach of the Denver Comets who led Out rigger Canoe Club to the 1968 National AAU championship, will handle the Isle team.

Station Manager Dick Grimm, at any rate, who has been promoting Hawaii's highly successful semi-pro volleyball league and would have first option on a pro franchise here.

For the record, the public reponse was somewhat disppointing -a crowd of around 1,000. Not so disappointing, however, was the fact that the Hawaii All-Stars (comprised of some the IVA's better players) won the best threeout-of-five-game match, 12-4, 12-9,

Grimm cited two reasons for small turnout: competition with high school football and not enough promotion. "We just didn't get the word out enough," he

Horse Racing Roundup Spectacular Bid took the lead from Star de Naskra at the halfway mark of the race and then pulled away from five rivals to romp to an easy 5-length victory vesterday in the $300,000 Mariboro Cup at Belmont.

The victory by the 3-year-old gray colt avenged his defeat by Coastal in the Belmont Stakes — the loss that cost Bid the Triple Crown.

Bid, ridden by Willie Shoemaker, went the 1-1-8 mile event in 1:46-3-5 on a fast track. The victory, worth $180,000, boosted the Bud Delb-trained colt's lifetime earnings to $1,346,667 for owners Harry, Teresa and Tom Meyerhoff of Baltimore.

General Assembly finished a distant second. Coastal, the colt who snapped Bid's 12-race winning streak in the Belmont on June 9, closed to finish third and was followed by Cox's Ridge, Text and Star de Naskra.

Spectacular Bid returned $3.00, $2.60 and $2.10.
General Assembly, under Jacinto Vasquez, paid $3.40 and $2.20 while Coastal, ridden by Ruben Hernandez, showed at $2.40.
Elsewhere, Execution's Reason ($15.20) won the Arlington-Washington Futurity at Arlington Park, Nobulee ($9.20) was victorious in the Maiorethe Handlicap at Timonium, Two Bucks ($5.20) triumphed in the Forest City Handicap at Thistedown and Cabin's Pride ($8.20) scored in the Gushen Memorial Handicap at Rockingham.
