FRI. FINISHING FLOURISHES: The "Magnum" crew will begin arriving back in Honolulu on Mon. to prepare for the start of the second part of the strike-interrupted second season, producer Rick Weaver said from L.A. yesterday. Shooting is due to begin Aug. 25 and the first of 16 new shows is scheduled to air Oct. 8 on the Mainland. . . . Tom Selleck, however, is in Seattle filming a made-for-TV movie and won't return until next week, probably the day before shooting begins. Weaver, who became producer-on-location when original producer Rick Dumm was called back to L.A. because of his editing skills during the first season, said he may not return to Honolulu next week. If Weaver doesn't, Doug Green, who worked with "Five-0," will probably become producer-on-location. . . . Executive producer Don Bellisario was putting finishing touches on a two-hour episode yesterday. . . . Local actors will be pleased to know that they will find more work with "Magnum" from now on. Weaver said: "As a rule, we'll be writing in more parts for Orientals and Hawaiians." . . . The Gregg Kendall agency's "Hawaii Directory of Actors, Models and Production" is hot off the press and the most notable difference from last year is the people who have added "Magnum" to their list of credits. The number of actors and actresses who can say they've worked on the show should be even larger next year. . . . The best line in the book comes from stuntwoman Tiffany Lynn, who, among other things, is listed as an "excellent screamer" □ □ □

HERE AND THERE: If you have occasion to go to the 7-11 offices on Nuuanu, have clean feet or wear socks without holes. Just like at home, employees and visitors leave their shoes at the front door — which may or may not have anything to do with the proximity of the Japanese consulate across the street. . . . Suzanne Ward, daughter of Rear Adm. T.M. Ward, has been chosen the Outstanding U.S. Student Designer, which carries a $1,000 award. Suzanne, who was just graduated from the Parsons School of Design in New York, has accepted a job in Calvin Klein's design studio. . . . After posing for 500 or so pictures for a Center Art Galleries flier, Sylvia Scott says she "may well be off on my 14th career!" . . . In a story this week detailing problems facing United Airlines, the Wall Street Journal notes: "Even worse, in December American started competing for United's lucrative Hawaii business, which already was shrinking because of the shaky U.S. economy and the islands' well-publicized crime wave" — which the WSJ has done more than its share to publicize □ □ □

ART FOR DOTS SAKE: The Chinese Jades exhibition has drawn 13,354 visitors and may become the most popular show ever at the Honolulu Academy of Arts. The attendance record is held by the Rimpa and Japanese genre paintings shows, about 23,000, and the Cha-no-yu Japanese tea ceremony exhibition two years ago drew 19,000 people. The last day of the jades show is Aug. 23. . . . Howard Link, curator of Asian art at the HAA, showed James Michener through the current Japanese illustrated books exhibit and reports that the author was "elated" by the show — a couple of the books are from Michener's collection. . . . Four photographs by Honolulu Paul Hayashi were selected from more than 4,400 entries for an exhibition sponsored by the Professional Photographers. . . . Gil Gilbert of Paul Brown Productions has been chosen to shoot Bloomingdale's exotic six-page "swimwear in Hawaii" spread for Vogue and the N.Y. Times. The folks from Bloomingdale's arrive today □ □ □

DOTS ALL, FOLKS: Tennis pro Peter Burwash is excited because N.Y. Times Books, which published his "Tennis for Life" book in English, has just signed Kodansha books to publish his book in Japan. The translation will be done by one of the top book translators there, Shinya Gotto. . . . After making the rounds between the Outrigger Club and the Kahala Hilton with Joy Goodall, Pilar Wayne, who was married to John Wayne, has returned to California with daughters Aissa and Marisa while their Diamond Head home is renovated. . . . Once in a while a typo is so funny, you're glad it happened. As when Going Places magazine wished Ward Warehouse happy birthday in a headline with "Haole la Hanau" — that should have been "Hauoli la hanau". . . . Who was the Eileen Anderson look-alike dining at the Willows the same evening the mayor was in for dinner? Sandy Motley, the mayor of Davis, Calif. Unfortunately, the two women mayors with similar concerns were not able to sit down and talk. . . . Probably the proudest person at Sunday's UH summer commencement will be Millie Rogers, 36, who was born with cerebral palsy and until eight years ago lived apart from what she calls "the real world." But on Sun. she will become the first disabled person to be graduated from the UH School of Social Work □ □ □

A Water Polo Romp

Japan's Nittaidai team scored a lopsided 29-5 victory in the men's open division of the Hawaiian Invitational Water Polo Tournament yesterday at the University of Hawaii Pool. . . . In other contests, Punahou A and B also triumphed in the open division, while the Puns' 18-under team downed Edmonton, Canada, 12-4. The tournament continues through this weekend, starting at 9 a.m.

Hilo Women Split

HILO—The Hilo women's team was the only Hawaii team to win an opening-round match yesterday in the Pacific Rim Volleyball Championships at the Hilo Civic Auditorium. Hilo defeated Honolulu, 11-15, 15-2, 11-15, 15-12, 15-4, in its second match. Hilo lost its first match to Japan, 15-2, 15-3, 15-0. The loss was the second yesterday for the Honolulu women, who dropped their first match to Canada, 15-2, 15-4, 15-4. . . . In the men's competition, the Hilo men's team lost to the United States team, 15-3, 15-2, 15-0.

Duke race tomorrow

About 30 crews from the Oahu Hawaiian Canoe Racing Association and the Hui Wa'a & Surfing Association are expected to compete in tomorrow's 14th Duke Kahanamoku long distance race finishing at Kailua Beach Park. . . . The 21-mile men's race will begin at 7 a.m. at Magic Island, with nine-man crews (six men plus three relief paddlers) going around Makapu'u to Kailua. . . . Following the men's race will be a six-mile "iron-woman" race (no relievers) from Kailua Beach, around Mokulea Rock and Flat Island and back. There will be prizes for both koa and fiberglass divisions. Lanikai Canoe Club is sponsoring the races.

Hui Nalu Wins Distance Race

Braving huge channel seas and blustery winds, a powerful Hui Nalu Canoe Club men's crew stroked away with overall honors in yesterday's rugged Magic Island-Lanikai Duke Kahanamoku Distance Race. . . . Paddling a 40-foot fiberglass outrigger canoe 21 miles around Oahu's eastern end, the Hui Nalu team finished first in three hours, 47 minutes and 43 seconds, three minutes and six seconds ahead of runnerup Outrigger Canoe Club.

"This was a good test of conditions that our paddlers can expect in this fall's Molokai-Oahu race," said race director Mel Kalahiki. A second Outrigger Canoe Club crew placed first in the koa canoe division with a four-hour passage, five minutes ahead of Lanikai's wooden boat. . . . Yesterday's closest competition came after the men's race, when the women took over the canoes and paddled six miles from Kailua Beach around Mokulea Rock and back. In a 52-minute lead-swapping battle, the Outrigger Canoe Club women, paddling a fiberglass canoe, edged Lanikai's koa boat by a scant one second at the finish with a time of 52:11.

AUSTRALIA'S CHEYNE HORAN, solidly set in first place in the World Surfing Ratings, captured the Waimea 5000 meet in beautiful Rio de Janeiro in early August. The waves produced were the smallest yet for the 1981 I.P.S. Pro tour. But being a professional surfer means you are ready and capable of tackling any type of surf including six-inch ankle snappers. . . . Mark Richards, two-time world champ, is rated second in the world with Hawaii's Dane Kealoha third. Also rated from Hawaii: Hans Hedemann, 14; Bobby Owens, 17; Michael Ho, 19; Buzzy Kerbox, 32; Louie Ferreira, 50 and Reno Abellira and Larry Bertelmann tied for 63.

The U.S. Pro Invitational will be held at Malibu. Both the men's and women's event begin September 21-25. The ladies purse will be $5,000 and the men's $16,000. The women have their first pro event to start Sept. 17 at Long Island, New York where a cash purse of $5,000 will be up for grabs. After Malibu the men move on to Japan for the Marui Pro Oct. 12-18 with a $18,000 cash prize offered. Maui will probably see some of the professionals here as they pass through on their way to Japan. . . . Latest word has it that Lyn Boyer has joined the Town and Country Surf Team and they will be also represented by yours truly in New York and Malibu next month. . . . Below are the results of the Waimea 5000 — 1 — Cheyne Horan (Australia); 2 — Valdro Vargas (Brazil); 3 — Mark Richards (Australia); 4 — Fredrico D'Orey (Brazil); 5 — Carlos Vega (Brazil); 6 — David Barr (California); 7 — Joey Buran. . . . I.P.S. Ratings — 1 — Cheyne Horan (Australia); 2 — Mark Richards (Australia); 3 — Dane Kealoha (Hawaii); 4 — Simon Anderson (Australia); 5 — Shaun Tomson (South Africa); 6 — Tommy Carroll (Australia); 7 — Rabbit Bartholomew (Australia); 8 — Derek Hynd (Australia); 9 — Terry Richardson (Australia); 10 — Martin Potter (South Africa).

QUEEN LILIUOKALANI— The next race in the warm-ups for the Molokai Channel race will be the Queen Liliuokalani distance race on the Big Island in Kona. Clubs from all islands are invited to be represented at the race. The Molokai Channel race, which is considered by many as the premier event of the canoe racing season, will have the women's event Sept. 19 and the men's race in mid October.

WINNING CREW—Hui Nalu captured the HCRA Duke Kahanamoku Long Distance Race from Magic Island to Lanikai with a time of three hours, 52 minutes and 46 seconds for the 24 1/2-mile race. Members of the winning canoe crew in the fiberglass division shown here after crossing the finish line (from front) are Kimo Blankenfeld, George Kissner, Kahele Kukea, Myron Thompson, Kevin Olds and Brant Ackerman.
