

at Outrigger Club

an aloha party for medical men

The medical symposium for transplantation of human organs Sunday and yesterday brought Mrs. Robert A. Good of Minneapolis, and Jeanette Sato, of Hawaii's Rehabilitation Center together for the first time since their college days at the University of Minnesota.

Mrs. Good accompanied her husband to Hawaii on what she calls "a long weekend. We arrived Friday and leave tomorrow," she said. Dr. Good was a guest speaker with Dr. Irvine H. Page, Dr. David S. Rubsamen and Dr. Thomas E. Starzl at the meetings sponsored by the Honolulu Medical Group Research Foundation and the University of Hawaii School of Medicine.

Saturday evening the visitors were honored at an aloha cocktail and dinner party at the Outrigger Canoe Club and joined in the festivities of the club's annual October fest.

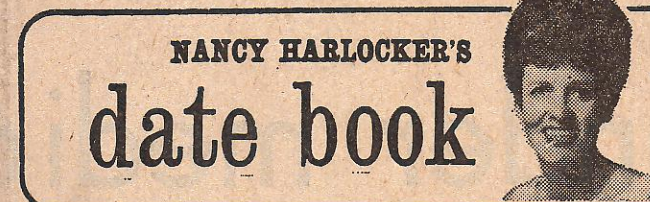

Dr. Max G. Botticelli, who is chairman of the Research Foundation board of trustees, and Mrs. Botticelli brought Dr. Rubsamen to the party.

Dr. Scott Brainard's guest was Dr. Starzl who is accompanied by his 12-year-old daughter, Becky. "It's a reward for being such a good student," Dr. Starzl explained. Dr. Page was accompanied by Dr. Morton E. Berk, and Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Oren introduced Dr. and Mrs. Good to guests.

Overall host was symposium chairman Dr. Norman Goldstein, who said he's been doing more planning than doctoring these days. He was accompanied by his attractive brunette wife who presented red carnation leis to the guests of honor.

The Outrigger Club was really jumping with members who turned out in everything from aloha attire to a German military uniform. And that was worn by Gerry Bockus who walked off with first prize in the men's costume contest, while Nancy (Mrs. Harwood

NANCY HARLOCKER'S date book

D.) Williamson copped first prize in the women's division.

welcome home

Meanwhile, up on the hill in St. Louis Heights, Susie (Mrs. Bob) Robinson found a good excuse to celebrate her birthday. She had Bob rounded up a few friends to welcome Dugal Crowe back from New York and to also drink a toast to Fred Smales who celebrated a birthday, too, last week.

surprise visit

Ah, the jet age. What started out as a calm day at home Saturday for Doug and Jan Stevenson turned into a happy family reunion. Doug's brother, Tom Stevenson, was in Tahiti last week visiting their mother. Pomateao Salmon, and looking over some business interests, when the two decided to fly to Honolulu and surprise the Stevenson family.

They did, indeed when they called from their hotel Saturday morning.

Tom and his mother will be here several days before going on to Los Angeles where Tom lives.

scramble

Michael and Joanna Leong are really a go-go couple that don't know whether they're coming or going half the time.

Michael joined Braniff Airlines here in August as an account representative, and it sounds as though his boss is doubly sympathetic towards Michael's complex career.

Michael has been on location on Kauai with the cast of "The Hawaiians." He plays Africa, one of the five sons in the story. Anyway, in Honolulu yesterday, he was about to take a group of Mainland travel agents on a three-day familiarization tour of the Islands for Braniff when he got a frantic call from Hollywood to report there today for more filming.

"I'm supposed to meet my wife in Chicago later this week," Michael said, "Joanna is there for a seminar this week. But who knows where we'll meet," he sighed.

Being one to do a little of this and that, Michael took his tour group to Kauai yesterday, gave them a cocktail party at the Kauai Surf last night and returns to Honolulu this morning just long enough to make connections for another flight to Hollywood. But he didn't say on which airline.

family first

Mr. and Mrs. Chuck O'Leary rallied new staff of the Cinerama Hotels together Saturday evening for a relaxed Hawaiian party at their Hawaii Kai home. O'Leary is general manager for the Cinerama chain of hotels — the Reef, Reef Towers, and Edgewater — recently acquired from Roy C. Kelley.

Serge Battistetti, food and beverage manager for Cinerama Hotels, was co-host of the party.

Among guests were the Tom Gowmans, the Tony del Planos, Bob Sturdivant, Wesley Fletcher, Stanley Lee and Wally Barker, who are all heads of various operations. Leo Nelson, who is slated to be manager of the new Kuhio Hotel opening in December, was also among guests.

pets are taboo in condo

DEAR MISS FIXIT: I write in behalf of myself and other tenants of Kuhio Park Terrace who are disgusted and angered by the failure or refusal of the management to enforce the regulation which says the keeping of pets is not permitted. We are concerned about the increasing number of dogs being brought in by tenants contrary to this regulation. All tenants know about it because it's part of the standard lease everyone must sign. — MALUHI AU.

A—A Kuhio Park Terrace management spokesman says, "If we know a tenant has a dog—or any pet—we insist he get rid of it. We cannot act unless we know this regulation is being violated. Because tenants are aware of this, they obviously are most careful to keep their pets well hidden when anyone from the managerial staff is around. If the complainant knows of any tenants keeping dogs, he should give us the tenants' apartment numbers so we can have the situation checked out. We do not need to know his identity. Or, if he wishes, he is welcome to come in and discuss this matter with someone in our office."

Miss Fixit Aloha Club membership cards have been sent to the people nominated by readers in the following letters:

● On Sept. 29 while watching the filming of "Hawaii Five-O," I lost an earring which is valuable to me. Before I found it, two women came along and assisted me. They are Linda Ryan and her mother of Kahaluu, Oahu — two warmhearted people. — MRS. MABEL SANTIAGO.

● Aloha to the Coconut Grove taxi driver for his kindness and courtesy to my crippled mother on a recent trip in his taxi from my Kailua home to Honolulu. This young Island chap did everything to make her comfortable — first trying to help her into the back seat, then settling her in the front seat. This took time and effort, but never a word of complaint. — Resident, 1266 Ulupalakua St. (The cabdriver's name is Theodore Porter.)

DEAR MISS FIXIT: There are boats parked right out in front of the Outrigger Canoe Club. Do they pay a Harbor Board fee? Have they permission to park there? These parked boats are polluting a great swimming area.—ADJOINING PROPERTY OWNER.

A—Oahu Harbors Division chief James McCormick says there are no Harbor Board fees charged nor are there any regulations forbidding the parking of boats in open water as long as they conform to all Coast Guard and Department of Health regulations. If you are certain that health regulations are being violated, you should call the Department of Health with specific information.

SCOOPS CASEY miss fixit FOR THE FASTEST ACTION IN TOWN

DEAR MISS FIXIT: I have some papaya trees which are as tall as my two-story house. They are still bearing fruit but the papayas are smaller. Lately the trees have put out new growth about halfway down the trunk. I've received conflicting advice about what to do now. Can you help?—MRS. ROGER BROWN

A — Warren Yee of the University of Hawaii horticulture department says it would be best for you to cut the tree down to where there are some side branches close to the ground. The tree will grow again and bear fruit.

DEAR MISS FIXIT: Please tell the people of Hawaii about Ralph H. Kiyosaki, superintendent of education. For three years I have had a very hard time with my 8-year-old boy in school. I desperation I wrote to Mr. Kiyosaki although know how busy he is with all the schools' problems. This fine man not only took the time to answer my letter but also set into motion to help my son needs. The people of Hawaii should appreciate how lucky we are to have him in this office. It certainly was great for me to know that an important State official found time to help a very small person in Hawaii; to know that someone cares. — MRS. DALE SOUZA.

A — Your letter has done the very thing you asked me to do.

NOTES TO READERS:

● Dale M. Holliday: A thoughtful reader Kin-How Louie of 1507 S. King St., found your Social Security card and mailed it to me. Give me your address or drop by my office to pick it up.

● Will the reader who has complained twice about the gypsies on Keeaumoku St. please give me his or her telephone number or address?

● Mike Bass, a recent visitor to Hawaii now home in Oakland, Calif., is "most anxious" to learn the name and address of a young man who drove him around Ala Moana Center for about 45 minutes Sept. 6 looking for his "misplaced" rented car. He says: "The heavy-set Island boy is a University of Hawaii student who works weekends making deliveries to the airport. His older model gray station wagon has some trays in it that looked like cafeteria trays." Any clues, readers?

Mrs. Robert A. Good on brief holiday.

Dr. and Mrs. Norman Goldstein, left, and Dr. and Mrs. Max G. Botticelli at aloha party.

Advertiser Photos by Ron Jett

call 533-6596

9 a.m. to 9 p.m.
weekdays

YOU CAN ALSO WRITE MISS FIXIT AT
BOX 3110, HONOLULU 96802